THE learned and industrious authors, who have hitherto investigated the antiquities of Cambridge, are all silent touching the foundation of the University Library. One of the earliest proofs of its existence occurs in the Statuta Antiqua, where, on issuing fresh orders with respect to the terms of admission, it is intimated that the 'Libraria Communis¹' had, in times anterior to the middle of the fifteenth century, been accessible to all the students. Further traces of this institution are detected in royal grants of 1438 and 1439. At the former date, King Henry VI. acceded to the prayer of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University, who appealed to him in aid of the 'Common Library;' granting for that and other objects the 'manor of Ruyslep, in the county of Middlesex, with a certain place called Northwode, with lands, &c. to that manor pertaining, after the death of John Somerseth, to whom it is given for life².'

If, however, we except these incidental notices, there seems to be no documentary evidence elucidating the character of the ¹ Documents relating to the University, &c., i. 403. Lond. 1852.

² Ibid. i. 41, 42. In 1440 six volumes were bequeathed 'librarie Universitatis Cantibrigie,' by master Robert Alne of York, the owner of a large collection of books: see Testamenta Eborac. ii. 78, ed. Surtees Society.

Library and the nature of its contents until the second half of the fifteenth century. A catalogue, or inventory, made by the two proctors of the year 1473, has fortunately been preserved among the archives in the custody of the Registry¹; and from it we gather the important fact, that the number of volumes then belonging to the 'Libraria Communis' exceeded three hundred. The same record exhibits an imperfect distribution² of these volumes into the following classes, at the same time adding the names of the donors in each case, so far as they were ascertainable:

1. Biblical.
2. 'Libri Theologie Disputate.'
3. 'Libri Moralis Philosophie.'
4. 'Libri Philosophie Naturalis.'
5. 'Libri Medicinalis Philosophie.'
6. 'Libri Logice.'
7. 'Libri Poetrie.'
8. 'Libri Sophisticales.'
9. 'Libri Grammaticales.'
10. 'Libri Cronicales.'
11. 'Libri Juris Canonici.'

Only two years after the compilation of this catalogue a building was erected for the reception of the Library on the east side of 'the quadrangle of the schools:' the necessary funds accruing chiefly from the munificence of Thomas Scott, a native of Rotheram in Yorkshire, who is known among the benefactors of the University¹ as bishop Rotheram. That prelate, on his translation to the archbishopric of York in 1480, continued to evince an interest in the Cambridge Library, and at his death in 1500 his executors consigned to it a large number² of additional volumes, some of which were manuscript.

² The title is, Registrum Librorum per varios Benefactores Communi Librerie Universitatis Cantabrigie collati [sic]. The number of volumes, of which the titles and names of the donors are both preserved, is 119.

But notwithstanding Rotheram's benefaction, and a second of considerable value which was afterwards made by bishop Tonstall³, the condition of the 'Libraria Communis' was very far from flourishing. 'Many of the volumes,' writes the first historian⁴ of the University in 1574, 'are still preserved, while many others have been fraudulently abstracted (suffurantium vitio).' Fuller⁵ also makes allusion to the same malpractices. 'This library,' he says, 'formerly was furnished with plenty of choice books. partly

² In the Commemoration of Benefactors, the number of volumes is said to be two hundred. A list of such as were believed to be extant in the seventeenth century will be found in a Catalogus Librorum quos habet Bibliotheca Publica Academiæ Cantabrigiæ (EB, ix. 12). A mayor of the town of Cambridge, John Harris, is commemorated next to Rotheram as a contemporary benefactor of the library: cf. Caius, Hist. Canteb. Academ. p. 82. Lond. 1574.

³ See Caius, Ibid., and the list in EB, ix. 12.

at the costs of the aforesaid archbishop Rotheram, partly at the charges of Cuthbert Tonstall, bishop of Durham, bred in our University. . . . But these books, by the covetousness of some great ones, and carelessness of the library-losers (for library-keepers I cannot call them), are for the most part imbezzled, to the great loss of the University, and learning in general.

Accordingly in the last year of Henry VIII. the University Library appeared so fallen and so 'useless,' that a grace actually passed the Senate for converting the fabric into a divinity-school. The serious diminution in the number of the volumes at this period may be estimated on comparing the catalogue of 1473 with another that professes to have been compiled exactly one century later¹. At the last mentioned date the number of books surviving was reduced as low as 177: while it is added, 'Most parte of all theis books be of velam and parchment, but veray sore cut and mangled for the lymned letters and pictures.'

A second eye-witness² who published the result of his observations in the following year (1574) has thrown additional light upon the character of this remnant. He distributes the extant volumes under the following heads:

1. 'Grammatica, Poetica.'
2. 'Dialectica, Philosophica.'
3. 'Rhetorica, Historica.'
4. 'Arithmetica, Geometria, Astronomia.'
5. 'Cosmographia, Musica.'
6. 'Biblica, Doctores.'
7. 'Theologica.'
8. 'Legalia.'

From the same quarter we obtain the interesting fact that of the scanty aggregate, 113 volumes were 'written on parchment.'

The Library, however, had now reached the lowest point of its depression. In the very year when Caius deplored the losses it formerly sustained, a movement had commenced which issued in its rapid restoration. Andrew Perne, master of St Peter's College, writes¹ from Lambeth 'Feb. 8, 1573,' to 'Mr Stokes (Stokys) one of the bedles of the Universite,' requesting him to send the dimensions of the stalls in the Library, and a catalogue of the books in each stall; and at the same time expresses a hope that 'my lord of Canterbury' (Parker) will grant 'a store of notable bokes' which may at least enable them to fill one stall.

In the same, or following, year, Archbishop Parker gave² 40 volumes (afterwards increased to 100); Sir Nicholas Bacon gave 73 volumes; Bishop Pilkington 20 volumes; Bishop Horne 50 volumes. Other benefactors, including Bishop Barnes, Theodore Beza and Professor Lorkin, added to the number both of printed and manuscript works: so that when Fuller wrote he boasted how the Library of Cambridge 'will now move the beam, though it cannot weigh it down, to even the scale with Oxford³.'

Limiting our future survey to the manuscript department of the Library, we gather from the Ecloga Oxonio-Cantabrigiensis of Thomas James (Lond. 1600) that the number of such volumes was then 259.⁴ In the course of the seventeenth century further benefactions continued to arrive from opposite quarters, adding to

² See the Liber Gratiarum (Δ), fol. 331 b sq., and the list in EB, ix, 12, where minor contributions are also noted.

³ Ubi sup. This writer attributes much of the prosperity of the Library to 'painful Parker,' 'pious Grindal,' and 'politic Bancroft' (p. 119): but neither Grindal nor Bancroft is commemorated in the list of Benefactors.

⁴ James has printed Archbishop Parker's bequests separately: but the list there given is not quite accurate, as is pointed out in EB, ix, 12.

the varied treasures of the University, and more particularly to the stock of Oriental literature. Among the leading donors may be mentioned George duke of Buckingham, John Selden, Nicholas Hobart, Dr Bretton, Thomas Baker, and Bishop Hacket. The last-mentioned prelate bequeathed to the University the whole of his extensive library¹; directing that the duplicates should be sold for the greater benefit of the institution. The sale, which took place in 1673, by realizing the sum of £180, enabled the authorities to purchase 220 volumes, of which 26 were manuscript

A large accession was also made to both departments of this Library during the Great Rebellion, when the printed books and manuscripts in Bancroft's Library at Lambeth were transferred to Cambridge. They were, however, soon reclaimed in 1662, and after some negotiation were surrendered by the Syndics² (Oct. 19, 1663).

But all previous benefactions were exceeded by the munificence of King George I. who having, on the death of Moore, bishop of Norwich and afterwards of Ely, purchased the valuable library of that prelate, amounting to 30,000 printed books and MSS., for the sum of 6000 guineas, presented all the volumes to the University of Cambridge. The extent of Moore's manuscript collection in particular is determinable from the Catalogi Librorum Manuscriptorum Angliæ et Hiberniæ in unum collecti, published at Oxford in 1697. That part, indeed, which relates to the University of Cambridge (the third part of the first volume) is simply a reprint of James's Ecloga, with a slight Auctarium e Bibliotheca viri clarissimi Thomæ Erpenii (pp 173, 174): but there is a copy of the work in the University Library (AB, xi. 52) which contains not only a catalogue of Moore's collection as it existed in 1697, but also a list of the additions which he made to it between the publication of that work and his own death in 1714.

² Original correspondence in the custody of the Registry: cf. Cooper's Annals, iii. 399, 405, 406, 503, and Cambridge Transactions, ed. Heywood and Wright, ii. 457. Lond 1854.

During the interval which has since elapsed, the manuscript department of the Library has been considerably enriched from time to time by private benefactions¹; such, for instance, as bequests of Archdeacon Lewes, of Dr William Burrel, of Dr Claudius Buchanan, and of the celebrated traveller, J. L. Burekhardt²; so that the University possesses at the present time about three thousand MSS.

Yet, strange to say, until the very close of the last century no tolerable catalogue existed to indicate the real nature of their contents either to members of the University or to the literary world at large. The task of constructing such a catalogue was first confided in 1794 to Mr James Nasmyth, Fellow of Corpus Christi College, who had already gained considerable familiarity with that field of antiquarian research. If his endeavours were not altogether successful in the present instance, the failure is more attributable to the magnitude of the task imposed upon him than to his deficiency either in knowledge, accuracy, or judgment. Indeed it may be questioned if any single hand could have adequately examined and described a collection of such area and variety in the short period of three years which he devoted to the work. When, therefore, the University became more anxious to put forth a printed³ statement respecting MSS. in its possession, and two courses were open, either to publish Nasmith's volumes or to authorize the formation of a more elaborate catalogue, the second of these courses was suggested by the Pitt Press Syndicate, under whose auspices the present work is being executed.

² His name is given to one large section of the Oriental MSS., described under the title Catalogus Bibliothecæ Burekhardtianæ, by Mr (now Professor) Preston, in 1853.

³ A slight account of the MSS., in addition to those already noted, was subsequently given to the public in Dyer's Privileges of the University of

The instructions of the Syndicate¹ were issued in the spring of 1851, and since that time a party of Cataloguers have been at intervals engaged in carrying out their project. The following list will exhibit the division of subjects² which has been adopted, together with the names of those Members of the Senate who have contributed to the first volume of the Catalogue:

1. Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Norman, and Early English Literature, Mr C. Hardwick, St Catharine's Hall, Editor.
2. Classical, Mr Churchill Babington, St John's College.
3. Heraldic, &c., Mr Chas. C. Babington, St John's College.

Cambridge, i. 559 sq. Lond. 1824. Hänel's Catalogi Librorum Manuscriptorum qui in Bibliothecis Gallie, Helvetie, Belgii, Britannie M., Hispanie, Lusitanie asservantur, Lips. 1830, notwithstanding the promise of the title, devotes only four columns to all the Cambridge libraries.

That the language employed in describing the MSS. shall be English.

That the description of each MS. shall include the following particulars:

- (1) Material.
- (2) Size.
- (3) Number of pages, and of columns and lines in a page.
- (4) Style of handwriting (and difference of hands, if any).
- (5) Probable age.
- (6) Traces, if any, of original owner, and subsequent history.
- (7) Present condition.
- (8) Whether it has been published or collated.

That the new Catalogue shall be arranged according to the present order of the MSS.

4. Historical, Mr W. R. Collett, Gonville and Caius College.
5. Legal, Professor Abdy, Trinity Hall.
6. Musical, Mr W. W. Hutt, Gonville and Caius College.
7. Scientific, Medical, &c. Dr Webster, Jesus College, and Mr J. Glover, Trinity College.
8. Theological¹, Mr H. R. Luard and Mr C. B. Scott, Trinity College.

In committing the first-fruits of their labour to the press, the contributors have to apologize for numerous blemishes and defects which they are conscious will not pass unnoticed by persons skilled in all the various branches of the subject. On the other hand, such persons, and they only, are aware of the formidable difficulties arising out of undertakings like the present, as well as of the inadequate representation which descriptions ordinarily furnish of the thought and labour they have cost.

The contributors particularly feel that the proposal to determine as far as possible whether each important MS. has been already published or collated, has not only entailed upon them a large expenditure of time unknown to ordinary cataloguers, but has also been the means of exposing their production to unusual criticism. Any suggestions calculated to assist them in the further prosecution of their labours, or to remedy omissions and mistakes in the present volume, will be thankfully received by the Editor.

At the conclusion of the work a set of copious Indices will be appended, for the purpose of facilitating reference to the Catalogue; together with a Table denoting as far as possible the last owner from whom each MS. had passed into the hands of the University.

¹ Assistance in this department has also been rendered by Mr J. E. Cooper, of St John's College, who left the University at an early stage of the proceedings; and by Mr W. W. Howard, of Sidney Sussex College, and Mr F. J. A. Hort, of Trinity College.

It only remains to add, by way of explanation, that where the title of any treatise stands between inverted commas, such title is derived from the MS. itself. In other cases the deficiency has been supplied by the cataloguer.

Catalogue of Manuscripts.

Dd. I. 1.

A LONG, narrow folio, principally on parchment and in a tolerable state of preservation, though mutilated here and there to the extent of whole leaves: formerly consisted of 552 pages, each on the average containing 50 lines: handwriting of the same general character throughout, and assignable to the latter half of the XIVth century; which is also the approximate date of the language. At p. 544, there is a reference to the year 1345 as then past.

With two exceptions (§§ 6, 7), the pieces are in verse, and all treat of sacred subjects in the vernacular language.

1. Three leaves are wanting at the commencement, but the colophon supplies the title:

‘PASSIO DOMINI NOSTRI JESU CHRISTI.’

Begins (p. 7):

And a man he smot riht tho
Hys riht ere he nam him fro.

Ends (p. 27):

Þat is to þe blisse of heuene
Amen for his namys seuene.

This piece wants a leaf after p. 12, and nearly half of pp. 21, 22. There seems also some gap after p. 10, for although the paging is continuous, the language does not tally. The author of the poem is unknown, but as reasons will appear for attributing other pieces in this volume to Richard of HAMPOLE, we may conjecture that the present is also from his pen.

For perfect copies of this PASSION, see Ff. v. 48. § 5: Gg. i. 1. § 11: Gg. v. 31. § 3: H. iv. 9. § 1: and cf. Dibdin's Typog. Antiq. ii. 246 sq. Lond. 1812.

2. 'LAMENTACIO SANCTI BERNARDI DE COMPASSIONE BEATE MARIE VIRGINIS EX DULCISSIMI FILII SUI PASSIONE ET EIUSDEM CRUDELI MORTE.'

Begins (p. 27):

Lewid men arn not !erid in lore
As clerkis ben in holi writte
And þouh men preche hem euer more
It wile not wone in hir witte.

Ends (p. 42):

Whan þei schul passen þe world al fro
To seen þe peyne þat is in helle.

This poem, as it professes (pp. 27, 42), was based upon a Latin Sermon of St Bernard (col. 156 seqq. Opp. Antv. 1616). The following notice of the translator appears to have been subjoined some time after his death, possibly by the scribe of the present MS.:

This ryme mad an hermyte
And dide it writen in parchemyn ;
Barfoot he wente in gray habyte
He werid no cloth þat was of lyn.
Þus on englisch he dide it wryte :
He seyth he drow it of þe latyn :
His mede lord ihū him quyte,
And seynt bernard clerk of deuyne.

The age, style, and character of the piece accord with a conjecture, that the 'hermyte' here mentioned as its author or translator was the famous solitary Richard Rolle, who lived at HAMPOLE, near Doncaster, and died in 1348 (Warton, ii. 43, note a, ed. 1840.) It is not, however, mentioned in the ordinary catalogue of his writings, e. g. that of Tanner, Biblioth. s. v. pp. 374, 375.

3. A Poem, without title or colophon, containing the history of our Lord from the Resurrection to the Ascension.

Begins (p. 43):

On Esterne day in þe dawing
Ihū ros fro deth to lyue.

Ends (p. 48) :

þat he mote vs so wise and rede þat to heuene blisse we mote come.

This piece may be conjecturally assigned to the same author.

4. A course of Metrical Sermons, consisting of paraphrases on the Gospels throughout the year, with scriptural and legendary 'narrations.' A rubric at the end (p. 412) supplies the following title :

'DOMINICALIA EVANGELIA ET MIRACULA VALDE BONA ET NOTABILIA IN LINGUA ANGLICANA.'

The Sermons proceed in the usual course from Advent onwards, excepting those for Corpus Christi and Palm Sunday. The former stands at the commencement (p. 48), and the latter almost at the end of the series (p. 402). Appended is a metrical 'Narracio de Petro Toller,' (pp. 407—412), also in English.

Begins, for Advent Sunday (p. 56) :

Or þe fulfilling of tyme was come
Sathanas had al þe folk nome,
And mankynde in prisoun he held
Wip out help wipouten beld.

Ends, for the 25th Sunday after Trinity (p. 402) :

Now swete ihū þi grace vs sende þat we may her our lyf amende,
So þat we alle at our ded day
Come to þat blesse þat lastiþ ay, þi louesum face in heuene to se
Amen, amen, so mote it be.

Gaps, more or less extensive, occur at the following places, though the paging is mostly continuous: pp. 50, 93, 106, 118, 145, 202, 300, 313, 314, 324, 356. Besides other indications of their date, an allusion at p. 55 confines the composition of the sermons to the middle of the xivth century :

þe laste pope þat was now,
His name Johñ hiht,
Al þis pardoun he grauntiþ 3ow
And doubliþ it wip his myht.
Moylerus þorw goddis grace
Bischop of ley3 lymme,
He haþ amendid al þis cas þorw myht þat god 3af hym.

John XXII. was pope from 1316 to 1334, and Miler le Poer was bishop of Leighlin (Ireland) from 1321 to 1341 (Cotton's Fasti, ii. 334.)

This date, together with a variety of words peculiar to the North of England and of illustrations drawn from incidents of hermit-life, may not unnaturally point to HAMPOLE as the author of the Sermons; much, however, of their substance being borrowed from the Master of the Sentences (cf. pp. 193, 350) and apparently from the Catena Aurea of Aquinas.

At the end of the work, after the rubric, there follows, in black, the signature 'Quod¹ Stawndome,' implying that he was the transcriber of the MS. His name is again repeated, in red, after the following couplet, of which he was perhaps the author:

Diues diuicias non congregat absque labore,
Non tenet absque metu, nec deserit absque dolore.

This course of Sermons has very much in common with Gg. v. 31, and with the Ashmolean MS. No. 42. (see Mr Black's Catalogue, p. 63).

5. A short Metrical Exposition of Psalm lxi. ('Miserere').

Each verse is quoted in Latin, and afterwards expounded in eight lines of English.

Begins (p. 413):

Merci lord god of my mys-dede.

Ends (p. 417):

He schilde vs alle fro helle fer.

6. A copious Exposition of Psalm xcii. ('Qui habitat in adiutorio Altissimi').

After reciting the first verse in Latin, (p. 417) the paraphrast proceeds: 'Alle men þat wile lyuen in this world cristenliche, alle þei sufferen persecucioun.'

Ends (p. 450): 'Unto þat lyf he bringe vs, our lord god crist ihūs, þat on þe rode tre boughte vs' (adding the Latin doxology).

7. A Treatise without any heading, but described in the colophon as

'MEMORIALE CREDENCIUM.'

Begins (p. 453): 'Man and woman þat is in wil for to fle synne and lede clene lyf take hede to þis tretys þat is wreten in englich tonge for lewid men þat nought vnderstond latyn ne frensch. and is drawn out of holi writte and of holi doctours beforn þis tyme.'

It contains an account of the plagues of Egypt, and the giving of the Law, Expositions of the Ten Commandments, the Seven Deadly Sins, Penance, Transubstantiation, the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, the Four Cardinal Virtues, the Seven Sacraments, the Seven Gifts of the Holy Ghost, the Seven Works of Mercy, the joys of Heaven, and the pains of Hell. Part of pp. 457, 458, and 485, 486 are wanting. There is also a gap at p. 524.

8. A Metrical Passion of St Erasmus.

Begins (p. 537):

Alle cristen folk 3e listen & lere
 Of an holy busehop and a martere
 Whos name is clepid seynt Erasmus
 As þe boke sayth and trewe men tellen vs.

Ends (p. 540):

To which ioye and blis good god bring vs
 Þorw help of þis holy man seynt Erasmus.

The following couplet occurs both at the opening and the close:

Ne noceat spasmus michi, me iuuet almus Erasmus:
 O sacer Erasme, meritis precibusque regas me.

9. A Poem on Lent, without title.

Begins (p. 540):

Lenten is an holy tyme
 In which folk wile hem schryue.

Ends (p. 544):

To come to Cristis table
 At estern tyme. Amen.

10. 'A GOOD LESSON OF IX. VERTEWIS.'

Begins (p. 544):

Alle þat loue to here þis lessoun
 Crist graunt hem his benisoun.

Ends (p. 548):

To which ioye and to which blis
 God bring vs alle whan his wil is.

Between this piece and the next are the following lines:

Vis scripturarum sanctarum siue bonarum
 Dat sensum clarum, confundens crimen amarum;
 Et per vim quarum fit magna salus animarum:
 Hinc nobis carum fieret modulamen earum.

11. A Poem on Just Judgment, with the following motto as a title:

O iudex vi feruida hanc seruabis artem,
 Acu tinali merida¹ i. e. audi alteram partem.

Begins (p. 548):

And þerfor 3e lordingis þat louedays wile holde
 Loke 3e her boþe partyes and who hap right or wrong.

Ends (p. 551):

Loke þat 3e swer truli & trewe tale telle þat 3e dampne not 3our soulis & wend vn to helle.

A few lines in different metre are then added on the same subject.

Dd. i. 3.

A large folio, on paper, in good preservation.

LIBER VALORUM OMNIUM BENEFICIORUM ECCLESIASTICORUM
 IN ANGLIA ET WALLIA,—is the title assigned by Nasmith in his MS. Catalogue, none having been affixed by F. Neve to the volume.

After 6 leaves which contain 'Tabula Angliæ' and 'Tabula Walliæ' are 71 leaves, on the last of which (f. 71), is the autograph note 'Scripta per Franciscum Neve olim Collegii divi Johannis Alumnum [‘hodie vero hominum miserrimum,’ on f. 69] 4^o die Martii, 1640.'

At the end, on the inside of the cover, is the following

'Memorandum: This booke for the writing wherof the University paid fower pounds unto Fraacis Neve (as appeares by the Audit booke in Anno 1641) being found in the study of M^r John Tabor (as is said) was by his relict given away unto a friend: but being discovered after 20 yeares lying hid, it is now recovered to the University to be kept for publick use, for which it was at first intended. Ita testor Will. Dillingham, August 8th,

Dd. i. 4.

A large folio, on parchment, in good preservation, though wanting 4 leaves at the beginning. It formerly contained 234 leaves, written in the xiith century, every page being divided into 2 columns of 39 lines each.

FLAVII JOSEPHI ANTIQUITATES JUDAICÆ.

On f. 5, 'de aliis longum est dicere quidem | de seth autem conabor narrare tantummodo,' are the two first lines. Though the version is that by Ruffinus and agrees closely with the text printed at Paris, 1535, the division into chapters is diverse, the words above being towards the end of chapter iv. in the edition, while chapter iv. in the MS. begins with 'Deus itaque noe quidem iusticiam dilexit.' 'Liber Primus' is divided into XIII. capitula. 'Liber secundus' into VII. which are enumerated on f. 18 b. before 'Incipit Liber secundus qui continet tempus annorum ducentorum et viginti.' And similarly for the others, Lib. III. being divided into XI. Cap., IV. into VI, V. XIII, VI. XV, VII. XVI, VIII. XX, IX. XXI, X. XIV, XI. VIII, XII. XIX, XIII. XXX, XIV. XXVIII. With the XIVth book ends the MS. on f. 234 a., on the other side is 'Explicit Liber quartus decimus.'

The initial letters to the several books are bold and grotesque combinations of cherubim men and animals, those to the several chapters are simple in form, and red, blue, green, or purple. At the beginning of the volume are 2 leaves, and at the end 4 (marked 51, 52, 57, 58), fragments of some law treatise, in a hand of the xvth century.

A Legend (TRANSLATIO CORPORIS S. JACOBI MAJORIS IN GALÆCIAM) has been added, the portion on f. 234 b. being in a handwriting of the XIIIth century, that on f. 235. in imitation of the former.

Begins :

Nemo putet quod iste sit iacobus qui cognominatus est Alpei et iustus. qui a phariseis de pinnaculo templi est precipitatus.

Ends :

Discipuli autem apostoli ut cognoverunt quod illusi essent a muliere luparia orationes fuderunt ad dominum. Boves quoque per orationes sanctorum et merita iacobi apostoli adquierunt et veluti iugarios cum mansuetudine illos adduxerunt quocunque voluerunt.

This version of the Legend appears to be the same as that given 'In MS. Floriacensis Bibliothecæ' quoted by the Bollandists, Acta Sanctorum, de S. Jacobo Majore § iv. (Die xxv. Julii. t. vi. p. 12).

Dd. I. 5.

A large folio, on parchment, containing 137 leaves, and 26 lines in a page; mutilated in the 122nd leaf and at the end. It belongs to the xvth century, and has the initial letters and many of the margins illuminated.

PSALTERIUM DAVIDICUM CUM HYMNIS ECCLESIASTICIS, JUXTA USUM SARISBURIENSEM.

It has rubrics and musical notes.

Begins (fol. 7):

Hic sequens hymnus (viz. 'Verbum supernum prodiens') dicitur in dominicis per totum adventum.

Ends:

Dixi tu es spes mea, portio mea in ter———

A CALENDAR is prefixed, which has the obits of kings Henry VII, Henry VIII, and Edward VI, and of a few private persons, noted in different hands in the margin. In the margin of the calendar for October there is the note: 'Prima dominica Octobris, dedicacio ecclesie.'

Dd. I. 6.

A large folio, on parchment, of 339 leaves, written in double columns, with from 50 to 56 lines in a column; apparently of the xivth century.

BIBLIA SACRA CUM PROLOGIS HIERONYMI.

The prologues 'Frater Ambrosius' and 'Desiderii mei' are written on the first leaf in a hand much smaller than that of the rest of the book. The last leaf is filled with various prologues to the Gospels.

The books of the Old Testament occur in the following order:

Genesis Esther, Machabæorum I, II, Job, Esaias. Daniel, Psalmi. Ecclus, Osee Malachias, Baruch, Lamentatio.

Of the New Testament, this MS. has the Gospels, Acts of the Apostles, Apocalypse, Epistle to the Hebrews from chap. iv. ver. 4, to the end, and the Catholic Epistles.

A few short annotations are added here and there in the margin. There are also the following notes of ownership:

1. On the last fly-leaf: 'Icest Livre est a mestre Nicholas de Cobeham.'

2. On the first fly-leaf: 'O paraclite mentem tergas sorde scatentem. Rector de Adisham et Abyndon juxta Northampton, &c. Anno Domini, 1474.'

This owner's name, which was John Parmenter (see the County-Histories of Northamptonshire and Kent, and Somner's Antiquities of Canterbury) is intended to be conveyed in the first syllables of the words 'Paraclite mentem tergas.'

3. On the last leaf of the MS: 'John Smithe his boke.'

On a fly-leaf at the end of this MS. is a fragment of some French Poem (? Ymage du Monde, by Gautier de Metz). The handwriting belongs to the xivth century, but only a few lines of the Poem survive.

Dd. I. 7, 8.

Two volumes, large folio, on vellum; the former consisting of 177 leaves, the latter of 233. The date of this MS. can hardly be later than the XIIIth century. It is neatly written in double columns, with about 41 lines in a column. The title given in the first volume is :

‘AURELII AUGUSTINI DOCTORIS IN LIBRO PSALMORUM TRACTATUS PRIOR incipit.’

Vol. I. contains Ps. I. to Ps. L.

Vol. II. contains Ps. LI. to Ps. C, but is imperfect at the end.

Begins :

Aurelii Augustini egregii doctoris de psalmo quinquagesimo primo sermo incipit. Psalmus brevis est de quo, &c.

Ends :

non est quid mali sentias de illo quia securi sumus et certi ———.

At the end of Vol. I. are inserted two short Treatises without titles, in the same handwriting with the rest of the MS.

1. A Commentary on Cant. iv. 6—8, occupying 8 columns.

Begins :

Ibo michi ad montem myrre et cetera. Sponsus hic quidam loquitur qui habet sponsam et spondet se visitaturum eam. Nota ergo quod non semper domi est sponsus iste; cavet enim ne forte vilescat amor suus.

Ends :

quia quanto magis mundum fugiendo Deo appropinquare incipimus, tanto magis in unum congregamur. Explicit.

2. A Treatise on Retirement and Contemplation, occupying 6 columns.

Begins :

Scrutemur scripturas et inveniemus vix unquam deum in multitudine locutum: sed quotiescunque hominibus innotescere voluit non gentibus et populis sed vel singulis, vel admodum paucis &c.

Ends :

quod autem subjungitur conglutinavit eam sibi, hoc est cadaver invenit et amplius ad archam redire noluit.

9 Dd. I. 9.

A narrow folio, on paper, written about the year 1714.

A COLLECTION OF MEDICAL RECIPES.

On p. 1 is the recipe (1) entitled ‘A temperate Plague Water.’ On p. 115 is, ‘Here ends Doctor Baits his receipts.’ Then follow some recipes ‘for a scurf Head,’ and on p. 116 is ‘Finis. 1714.’

10, 11

Dd. I. 10, 11.

These two volumes, of good parchment in folio, comprise two distinct works, both of which are imperfect, but apparently in the same condition as when presented to the University by Archbishop Parker.

1. In this division every page contains two columns of 36 lines each: from p. 1 to p. 393, the handwriting is large and clear and apparently of the xvth century: from p. 393 to p. 1384 it is of a similar character.

EPISTOLÆ PONTIFICUM ET CANONES,—is the title prefixed by Parker's scribe.

This Collection commences with the rubric (p. 1) 'Incipiunt nomina. xi. regionum continencium infra se provincias cxiii....' This catalogue extends nearly to the end of p. 4: in other MSS. it is generally preceded by lists of bishops, see Isidoriana, cap. xci. § 51. (Isidori Opera, Romæ, 1797.)

The contents of pp. 4—1299, a. appear to be the same as those of the very ancient MS. Vat. 630, fully described in Appendix ad Leonis Magni Opera (Venetiis, 1757), from p. cccxxvii. ¶ xviii. 'Præfatio Isidori' to p. cccxxxii. 'subire appetit servitutum.' Further it may be noted that in MS. Vat. the 'catalogus Romanorum Pontificum' ends with Nicholas I; and in a table of Contents in our MS. the last item (p. 364) is 'Decreta papæ (præsulis) Nicholai.'

The contents of pp. 1299, b.—1384 relate to the Church of England and chiefly to the See of Canterbury: besides being for the most part scattered, like the contents of the pages preceding, through the volumes of Mansi Concilia (Florentiæ, 1759), some are to be found in Wilkins' Concilia, and Eadmeri Historia Novorum (ed. J. Selden, 1623); others are noticed in Theineri Disquisitiones Criticæ (Romæ, 1836), cited in Regesta Pontificum Romanorum (ed. P. Jaffé, 1851).

The collection ends abruptly (p. 1384) with 'salutem et apostolicam [benedictionem]' in the Epistle of Honorius, 'De Confirmatione et Legatione Guillelmi Archiepiscopi Cantuarie.' It may be noted that, in the 'Breviarium' (pp. 15—20), the last item gives the title of the preceding epistle (pp. 1382—4), '[D]ecretum honorii papæ ut monachi perpetua stabilitate consistant in ecclesia sancti saluatoris Cantuarie. Et alia quam plura cantuariensis ecclesiæ iura, ac privilegia concernencia quæ in hoc opere habentur tabula expresse docet.' The Decretum is dated iii. Kal. Feb. mxxxv. and begins, 'Equitatis et justicie ratio.' There is also (pp. 359—364) a more complete table of the contents of pp. 368—1323.

Every alternate page is marked by red chalk: but either through design or carelessness, the text on p. 518 closing Vol. I.—(the leaf marked 519 being blank)—is continued on the first page of Vol. II. marked 601, and the pages numbered 619 and 701 are on two consecutive leaves, and so are those numbered 719 and 801, 819 and 901, 919 and 1001. This erroneous enumeration was adopted in the table of contents written by Abp. Parker's scribe on the inside of the first cover. It seems as if a leaf had been cut out after p. 8, the last words thereon being, 'congregatis omnibus eiusdem provincia episcopis, iudicium terminetur: et reliqua Sancti concii:' but 'Sanctæ etiam,' which is the proper continuation (see Mansi Concilia, i. 3) has been erased: also the syllables lii have been supplied, after an erasure, on p. 9, before 'principium iuxta apostolicæ sedis auctoritatem,' words which occur in Aurelii ad Damasum Epistola (see Blondelli Pseudo-Isidorus, 544). Between p. 1304 and p. 1305 a leaf appears to be missing: for with p. 1304 concludes the Epistle of Honorius in Wilkins' Concilia, i. 35—6, and the first words on p. 1305 are 'fuerit appellatum, id est ut actor semper rei forum sequatur:' the series of ordinances in which they occur ends on p. 1314.

The initial letters are wanting throughout: for those as well as for many rubrics blank spaces have been left. At p. 393 the handwriting is abruptly changed, and the subsequent rubrics are supplied. It seems worthy of note that, except in the table of contents by Parker's scribe, wherever the word papa had been written, or any of its cases, an erasure (in obedience to the Circular Letter of Hen. VIII, June 26, 1535: see Burnet, III. Collect. 32) has been made, and in No. (10) pontifex or episcopus or presul substituted, with the addition of Romanus in some places. The MS. in all other respects is in a good state of preservation.

2. The handwriting which is small and contracted belongs to the end of the xvth century: every page contains two columns of about 60 lines each.

'EXPOSITIO FRATRIS NYCOLAI TREUETH ANGLICI ORDINIS PRÆDICATORUM SUPER BOETIO DE CONSOLATIONE.'

Begins (p. 1385):

Explanationem librorum Boecii de consolatione philosophica aggressimus vocante quorundam fratrum satisfactione qui me ex professione ordinis predicatorum....

On p. 1500, after the colophon (Explicit commentum, &c.), commences the Tabula which comes to an end with the volume abruptly, at p. 1504.

There are some blank spaces which seem to indicate that the transcriber had a mutilated MS. before him. The present MS. is referred to as No. 236 by Wharton, in p. 13 of Appendix to Cave's Historia Literaria, under the title 'Nicolaus Trivethus,' A.D. 1310. In the British Museum, Cod. Burn. No. 131 is another copy of this Commentary, which has never been printed; see a Catalogue of MSS. on sale by John Cochran, London, 1829. No. 324.

Dd. i. 12.

A folio, on parchment, containing 225 leaves. It belongs to the xivth, or the beginning of the xvth century, and was given to the Library by Rotheram, Bishop of Lincoln. The illuminated capitals which adorned the commencement of the various books have been cut out throughout the volume. The principal text is written in double columns of various length, but generally numbering from 50 to 70 lines, in the middle of the page, the margin being filled with a commentary in a smaller hand and darker ink, though apparently by the same scribe. A waste leaf at the beginning contains a fragment of Justinian's Codex, circa Lib. v. cap. 37, 38.

1. JUSTINIANI INSTITUTIONUM LIBRI IV. CUM APPARATU ACCURSII.

The rubric (fo. 1, a) is:

In nomine Domini nostri Jesu Christi, Imperator Cesar, Flavius Justinianus, Almanicus, Gothicus, Francus, Germanicus, Anticus, Alanicus, Wandalicus, Affricanus, pius, felix, inclitus victor ac triumphator, semper Augustus, cupide juventuti, Institutionum liber [primus incipit].

It ends (fo. 55, b):

Sed de publicis judiciis hec exposuimus, ut vobis possibile sit summo digito et quasi per indicem ea tetigisse, alioquin diligencior eorum scientia vobis ex latioribus digestorum seu pandectorum libris, Deo propicio, adventura est. Explicit Liber Institutionum.

2. CODICIS JUSTINIANI LIBRI X^{us}. XI^{us}. XII^{us}. CUM APPARATU ACCURSII.

The rubric (fo. 55, b) is:

Codicis Domini Justiniani Imperatoris repetite prelectionis Liber x. incipit, De jure fisci.

Ends (fo. 103, a). The concluding lines have been cut out for the sake of an illuminated letter.

3. JUSTINIANI NOVELLARUM LIBRI IX. CUM APPARATU ACCURSII.

The Rubric has been cut out: the commentary begins (fo. 103, a):

In nomine Domini. Justinianus opus suum laudabile Deo attribuit.

The last sentence (fo. 200, b) has been cut out. The words which form the termination of the 9th Book in the edition of Contius, Paris, 1559, seem to have been followed in our MS. by two or three paragraphs, the greater part of which is lost.

4. CONSTITUTIONUM (VEL CONSUETUDINUM) FEUDORUM LIBRI III. CUM APPARATU ACCURSII.

The rubric (fo. 201, a) is:

Incipiunt Constitutiones Feudorum et primo de his qui feudum dare possunt.

The Edition of Contius, Paris, 1559, and of Gothofredus, Geneva, 1656, entitle this work Consuetudines Feudorum, and they divide it into two books. The 3rd book in our MS. commences with the 23rd Title of the 2nd book of the Paris edition.

Ends (fo. 225, b):

Indignationem Dei omnipotentis et beatorum Petri et Pauli ap-stolorum se noverit incursurum. Hic finiunt Feuda.

Dd. I. 13.

A folio, on parchment, containing 272 leaves. It belongs to the XIVth century, and is written in double columns of between 80 and 90 lines. On the last page is written in a hand and ink different from that of the MS.: 'Explicit [speculum juris] cum repertorio magistri [Gulielmi Durandi] scriptum XXVII^o die Septembris anno Domini M^o.CCC^o.XLV^o.' The words in brackets have been carefully scratched out and are with difficulty traced. On the back of the last leaf is a note by some former owner, dated 'In festo sanctorum Viti et Modesti anno Domini M^o.CCC^o.XXX^o;' but his name, which appears to have ended in neys, has been erased, as well as some other words, and the purport of the note is not manifest.

1. GULIELMI DURANDI SPECULI JURIS LIBRI IV.

After a table of contents, the first chapter, De Actore, begins (fo. 1, a):

Quoniam parum esset nosse jura fore prodita nisi personæ quarum causa sunt prodita note essent.

The initial letter of the third book has been cut out.

Ends (fo. 230, b):

Favorem profecto non quærens humanum sed solum braviam sempiternum ad quod nos perducatur qui sine fine vivit et regnat. Amen.

The Explicit added by a later hand has been erased.

2. GULIELMI DURANDI REPERTORIUM (SEU BREVIARIUM) AUREUM.

It is imperfect and commences abruptly (fo. 231, a) with the words:

Ad comparendum cum actis et munimentis an dabitur vel de-negabitur.—These words occur in the title De dilatationibus, in the 2nd Book of the Paris edition, 1519, at fo. 52.

Ends (fo. 272, a):

Ipsæ enim huic rei decens ponens unicuique laudabileque medium finem feliciter consumavit ut de con. di. i. nullus episcopus.

Gulielmus Durandus, or Durantus, surnamed Speculator, from the title of his great work, Speculum Juris, became bishop of Mimatum, or Mende in Languedoc in 1287. The two works contained in this MS., as well as the other writings of the author, have been frequently printed.

Dd. i. 14.

A large folio, on vellum; 401 leaves; double columns, with 58 lines in a column. The initial letters are curiously elongated so as to form borders to the pages, and many of them are illuminated. There are 13 miniature pictures, with dresses of the xivth century.

BIBLIA SACRA CUM PROLOGIS HIERONYMI.

The books occur in the usual order, except that the Acts of the Apostles is placed after the Pauline Epistles.

Part of an alphabetical glossary of proper names, &c. occupies the last two leaves of the MS.

On the last fly-leaf is a half-erased note, in which the names of 'Hugo de Venna,' and 'Petrus Comestor,' are legible.

Dd. i. 15.

A large folio, on parchment, of 196 leaves; written in double columns, with about 42 lines in a column. A MS. of the xivth century. One half of the last leaf has been cut away, and several other leaves are wanting, both at the beginning and throughout the book. It has illuminations and musical notes.

MISSALE AD USUM ECCLESIE SARUM.

Begins:

— nives [?] domino. benedicite fulgura et imbres domino.

Ends:

qui tecum vivit et regnat, &c.

This MS. has belonged to the church of St Margaret's, Lothbury, as appears by the following note on p. 173: 'Orate pro animabus domini Hugonis Wyche militis et Willi Holt merceri, &c. Sanctæ Margaretæ de Lothbury.'

On the fly-leaf at the end is an extract from the will (A.D. 1373) of Robert Gayton, citizen of London, bequeathing perpetual annuities to the rector and clerk of St Margaret's, Lothbury, and certain tenements (contingently) to the convent of Clerkenwell.

Dd. i. 16.

A folio, on parchment, of 285 leaves; in double columns, with 45 lines in a column. Of the xiiith or xiiiith century.

1. PETRI COMESTORIS HISTORIA SCHOLASTICA SACRE SCRIPTURÆ.

Begins (fol. 7, a):

Reverentissimo patri et domino suo Willclmo dei gratia senonensi archiepiscopo.

Ends (fol. 249, b):

In loco magis honorabiliori scilicet in cathacumbis.

2. PETRI COMESTORIS ALLEGORIARUM LIBRI IX.

Begins (fol. 249, b):

In præcedentibus premissa descriptione originis et distinctionis artium et quorundam aliorum, ortum cursum et occasum omnium regnorum ab initio usque ad nos disposuimus. In sequentibus autem disposuimus profundas allegoariarum et tropologiarum obscuritates.

Ends (fol. 285, a):

per omnia sæcula sæculorum. Amen.

The first eleven pages of this MS. are occupied by an elaborate genealogical table, extending from Adam to Christ. Between the two treatises is inserted the author's epitaph in four lines:

'Petrus eram quem petra tegit, dictusque comestor
Nunc comedor, &c.'

Of these two treatises the first has been several times printed (see Brunet's Manuel du Libraire); and copies of the second exist in MS. in the Bodleian and other libraries.

Dd. i. 17.

A large folio volume, containing 424 leaves of parchment, of which the pages are numbered from 1 to 848. Leaves are wanting at the beginning and the end, and also in other places which are more particularly noticed below. The handwriting of articles 1—17, and 22, 23 is uniform, and appears to belong to the close of the XIVth century: every page contains two columns of 72 lines each; that of articles 18—21 is of the same period, but may be described as of a running character: every page is in two columns of about 60 lines each.

1. As the manuscript is imperfect at the beginning it wants the title:

GALFRIDI MONEMUTENSIS HISTORIA BRITONUM.

Begins (p. 1) with the last few lines of Book VII. (see Rerum Britannicarum Scriptores, ed. Heidelberg. 1587):

—sole litigabit. Ascendet virgo [dorsum] sagittarii et flores virgineos obfuscabit. Currus lune turbabit zodiacum.....

Ends (p. 21, a) like the editions :

hoc modo in sermonem latinum transferre curavi. valet. ¶ Explicit hystoria de gestis britonum.

2. 'II. minister servorum dei II. illustri regi anglorum salutes et orationes,'—is the rubric before the Epistle, usually entitled :

HENRICI HUNTINDUNENSIS EPISTOLA AD HENRICUM REGEM DE SERIE REGUM POTENTISSIMORUM.

Begins (p. 21, a):

Cum mecum propter ea quæ responsione tua accepi tractarem: cum nuper de progenitoribus tuis tecum conferrem.

Ends (p. 24, b):

Soror vero eorum alexandro regi Scotie maritata est. Nec plus ad presens dicavi de tua generatione sive progenie sanctissima. ¶ Valet.

This Epistle does not appear to have been printed: see the note before Liber VIII. in Savile's Edition of Henrici Huntindunensis Historia (inter Scriptores post Bedam, ed. 1596), and the remarks in Cave's Historia Literaria, II 225 (Basileæ, 1745).

3. 'DE GESTIS KAROLI REGIS GALLORUM'—is the rubric to the following Tracts, the principal of which is named in its colophon: (a) 'LIBER TURPINI DE GESTIS KAROLI.'

Begins (p. 24):

Gloriosissimus Christi apostolus iacobus aliis apostolis et dominicis discipulis diversa cosmi climata aduentibus ut fertur primus in galecia predicavit, that is, with chapter II. of the Edition (Veterum Scriptorum Germanicorum &c. Tomus unus: ed. Reuberus, 1584, reprinted, 1619, pp. 67—88). The divisions of the MS. are indicated only by rubrics.

At pp. 34, 35 of the MS., between chapters XXXI. and XXXII. of the Edition, are inserted short sections describing how 'septem liberales artes inter cætera miro modo in ea [basilica] depictæ sunt: the rubrics to which are, 'de grammatica, de musica, de dialectica, de rethorica, de geometria, de arte metrica, de astrologia; and a statement is made of the reason why 'nigromancia depicta non fuit: the same are found in the Harleian MS. 6358, 2. f. 79. written soon after A.D. 1200; after these follows chapter XXXII. the last of the Edition. But in the MS. another chapter (which is also in the Harleian MS. 108) is subjoined, beginning, 'Sed valde dignum est ut inter cetera ad domini nostri ihu xpi decus revocetur ad memoriam miraculum quod pro beato Rolando...' ending, 'A domino factum est istud et est mirabile in oculis nostris.'

Qui legis hoc carmen turpino posce juvamen
Ut pietate dei subveniatur ei.

¶ Explicit liber turpini de gestis Karoli.

(b) Then follows DE MIRACULIS BEATI IACOBI.

The legend (as in Harleian MS. 108, f. 25) begins (p. 36, a):

Quid patrie galecie post mortem Karoli accidit memorie est tradendum.

And ends with the section :

¶ De solempnitatibus beati jacobī, and the words,

...et viii. Kal. Augusti ab iiria ad compostellam ducitur et sepulture traditur.

(c) After this follows, DE STATURA KAROLI.

This section is found at p. 5 (before the Incipit, &c.) of the later Harleian MS. 108, and forms a portion of chapter xx. of the Edition.

Begins (p. 36, b):

Erat autem Karolus capillosus, capillis brunus, facie rubens...

Ends (p. 37, a):

...multas ecclesias ditavit scribere nequeo: magis enim deficeret manusque et calamus quam historia. ¶ Explicit hystoria de gestis Karoli.

4. 'CRONICA FRATRIS MARTINI POLONI.'

This is the title supplied in part by the rubric.

Begins (p. 37):

Quoniam scire tempora summorum pontificum romanorum ac imperatorum necnon et aliorum patrum ipsorum contemporaneorum quam plurimum inter alios theologos ac jurisperitos expedit, Ego frater Martinus...ex diversis cronicis...presens opusculum...ab ipso primo pontifice Jesu Christo...usque ad Johannem xxi. papam deduxi...

These are the first words of the 'Præfatio' in the Edition published 'Opera Suffridi Petri, Antverpiæ, 1574,' to which the text of the MS. is very similar.

In the rubric the word papæ has been erased. On p. 71 is the paragraph (printed at pp. 316—319 of the above edition, sub anno 355) giving an account of the Papissa (Joan, A.D. 860); concerning which see Cave, Historia Literaria, II. p. 323.

From p. 45 to p. 87 the history of 'Pontifices' is written on the right-hand pages, that of 'Imperatores' on the left-hand; but on p. 86 the history of the latter is interrupted, after the words (p. 401 of the Edition), 'Simile quiddam invenies in Constantino sexto,' by the notice, 'Quoniam post mortem huius frederici propter discordiam et dissensionem electorum post multos annos ab imperatore vacabat imperium idcirco in pagina ubi imperatores scribi debent scribuntur pontifices quosque imperatores denuo ceperunt imperare:' the rest of the page is blank, the gap perhaps corresponding to pp. 401—3 of the edition; for at p. 89, a, of the MS. and with the words ‘Romanum imperium sive post mortem...’ the account of ‘Imperatores’ is resumed, and terminates on p. 90, b, agreeing with that on pp. 403—419 of the Edition. The account of ‘Pontifices’ (to p. 88, b of MS.) agrees with that in the edition to p. 419.

On p. 88, b—89, a, are lives of Nicholaus III. Martinus [I]V. Honorius [I]V., different from those in the Edition and subsequent portion of the MS.; in that of the last-named pope is quoted the couplet:

Ponitur in petri monstrum mirabile sede
Mancus utraque manu claudus utraque pede.

From p. 93 b, to the end of the MS. the account of ‘Pontifices’ agrees with that in pp. 420—432 of the Edition.

Ends (p. 93, a), (giving A.D. 1234 as the date of the election of Honorius IV.):

...cos animose confouendo præstitit stipendia et animavit suscepta negocia sollicite prosequenda.

¶ Explicite cronica fratris Martini de ordine fratrum predicatorum et domini papæ penitentiarii.

¶ Hic pennam fixi: penitet me si male scripsi.

The rubrics are the only marks of division: on some pages the letters seem to have been retouched with darker ink. In the margins, besides the dates, &c., are two or three notes in a later hand, with marks indicative of collation.

5. CHRONICON BREVE RERUM ANGLICARUM.

Without any rubric it abruptly begins at the top of p. 93, b:

Primus habuit Kanciam: Alius Westsexe: Tercius merceneriche:
Quartus northumbriam: Quintus Estengliam....

Then follows a more distinct enumeration of the kingdoms of the pentarchy into which ‘Anglia divisa est post adventum Anglorum.’ Bricbrigh the king of the West Saxons is the first of the series of kings, which concludes with a notice of Richard II. As the length of the reign of this king is not stated, while that of each of his predecessors is; and further, as, after narrating the rebellion (of Wat Tyler, 1381), the author merely mentions the king’s marriage (1381) to Anne of Austria, the niece of that king of Bohemia whose father was slain by the Black Prince, according to the statement of the concluding words (p. 96, a), ‘quia ille rex de boemia tenuit cum rege francie contra regem Anglie tanquam stipendarius regis francie,—’ there seems reason to conjecture that this Chronicle was compiled soon after A.D. 1381.

6. A space appears to have been left by the scribe for the title:

GESTA TROJANORUM SECUNDUM GUIDONEM DE COLUMNA MESSANENSEM.

Begins (p. 96, a) with the first words of the 'Prologus:'

Licet cotidie vetera recentibus observant nonnulla tamen jamdudum vetera precesserunt que sic sui...

The first words of Liber i. are

In regno Thessalie de predictae silicet prouinciis romane cuius incole mirmidones dicti sunt quos nos hodie vulgari denominatione solomarm appellamus regnabat tunc temporis rex quidam justus et nobilis Peleus nomine cum...

After the 'Epitaphia Achillis' at the conclusion of Lib. xxxii., is ¶ Expliciunt gesta Troianorum. et nota bene auctorem. Et ego Guido de Columpna predictum dicten grecum [i. e. Dictyn Cretensem] in omnibus opus suum ad lectorem solatium...

This note, after an account of the author's difficulties, and a mention 'magnum auctorem Virgili Ovidii et Homeri,' concludes (p. 182):

...factum est autem presens opus anno dominice Incarnacionis m^o.cc^o. octuagesimo septimo eiusdem primo Indictionis ffebr. Amen.

The contents of this MS. appear to be the same as of the two early Editions (in 4to) in the British Museum (801. k. 2, and 677. f. 2), but it wants what they contain, the tabula at the end, with the preceding, 'Item troia magna edificata est tempore Aioth qui tunc iudicavit populum Israel...'

7. 'PROPHECIA JOHANNIS DE LIGUNBIO solemnissimi doctoris decretorum Universitatis Bononiæ.'

Begins (p. 182, b):

Regnum spiritus sancti distinguuntur in iacob filii Isaac qui duas uxores ex uno patre natas viz. lyam et aliam rachielem, qui iacob ex Iya prima sua uxore quatuor filios genuit.....

Ends (p. 183, b):

...de quibus omnibus si clarius cupitis videre videatis opus futurorum secundum sacram scripturam qm̄ composui et incipit sit nomen domini benedictum et ibi clarius videbitis.

¶ Explicit hec propheta notabilis.

Neither of the present tract, nor of the work referred to, is any mention made by Cave in the notice of Jo. de Lignano, in Historia Literaria, II. Appendix, p. 71.

8. After the list of Lxxxxx. 'Capitula in opus subditum,' is the title:

'HISTORIA HIEROSOLIMITANA SECUNDUM MAGISTRUM JACOBUM DE VITRI.'

This MS. wants the Prologus, printed at p. 1047-8, of Gesta Dei per Francos... Orientalis Historia, ed. folio, Hanovise, 1611.

Begins (p. 184, b) with chapter 1. of the Edition (p. 1049):

Terra sancta promissionis deo amabilis et sanctis angelis venerabilis...

Ends (p. 236) with the first book of the Edition (p. 1124), but without a colophon:

...et a sancta romana ecclesia de die in diem expectantes.

9. JACOBI DE THERAMO COMPENDIUM 'CONSOLATIO PECCATORUM' nuncupatum: et apud nonnullos Belial ad papam Urbanum sextum conscriptum.

There is no rubric before the author's address (p. 237) 'Universis Christi fidelibus...'

The text is the same as that 'Per Joh. Schushler civem Aug. impressus Anno domini Mccccxxij Julij vero Nonas vi.' but the MS. ends abruptly, 'quod cum legeritis dicatis deo multiplicasti mag—' forming the last line of p. 298: the next leaf has been cut out, the few words necessary to complete the treatise having been added at the top of p. 299 in a handwriting of the sixteenth century, the same in which, at the top of p. 237, is written 'liber vocatur belial et viz. pro praxe juris.'

10. 'Incipit TESTAMENTUM PATRIARCHARUM' is the rubric at the top of p. 299.

See Vincentii Speculum Historiale, Lib. 1. c. 125.

Begins:

Transcriptum testamenti ruben...

Ends (p. 309):

.. et habitauit in terra egypti usque ad diem exitus eorum de terra egypti. ¶ Explicit testamentum prophetarum.

Then follows a prayer beginning, 'Audi pater omnipotens audi miserum communem omnipotentie tue destructionem trepidantem.....' and concluding, '..... mihi rea ridens applaudit tua: tibi pia plorans compatitur virgo maria.'

11. The title may be supplied from the colophon:

'Explicit CRONICA MARCIANI SCOTI DE GESTIS REGNI ANGLORUM usque ad obitum Stephani et initium regni henrici secundi qui fuit filius Imperatricis et Galfridi Plantagenetæ Comitis Anteganie.'

The MS. would perhaps be more accurately described as a Chronicle compiled from HENRICI HUNTENDUNENSIS HISTORIA ANGLORUM, SIMEONIS DUNELMENSIS HISTORIA DE GESTIS REGUM ANGLORUM, and FLORENTII WIGORNENSIS CHRONICON.

The first rubric is (p. 309):

Incipit prologus historie anglorum contexte ab henrico archidiacono huntidoñ ad alexandrum lyncolñ episcopum. anno dni. m.c.xlv.

From the beginning (p. 309) to p. 323 the MS. agrees with Savile's edition of the text of the above-named history contained in ff. 169—183 of Scriptores post Bedam, ed. 1596: the last sentence, which is near the end of Lib. II., being 'Omnes igitur reges britannie jam fideles effecti et universae regionum partes Christi lumine et gratia fruebantur.' After this is a brief reference to Bede's history for a fuller account, followed by the sentence nearly at the end of Lib. III. (f. 192, a) of the edition. 'Hoc ergo ordine... commendavit.' After this the MS. corresponds to the edition, Lib. IV. f. 192, b—f. 195, b. l. 33.

On pp. 325, a—330, a, is inserted 'Historia Saxonum vel Anglorum post obitum Bede.' The first words after this rubric being, 'In exordio huius operis genealogiam regum northumbrorum...'

What follows is an abbreviation (by the omission, rather than the condensation, of sentences) of Simeonis Dunelmensis Historia De Gestis regum Anglorum (p. 657—673, of Mon. Hist. Brit. ab anno 731—802): 'Qui omnes sibi in vicem regnum successerunt' being the last words.

From p. 330, a, the MS. corresponds to Savile's edition, (f. 195, b. l. 34—f. 200, a. l. 23) till (p. 333, b). After a notice of King Alfred's succession is a list of forty kings of Wessex, from Cerdic to Henricus (I.) 'Ieo justicie;' the names accord with the genealogical table in the Appendix to Florentii Wigornensis Chronicon (Mon. Hist. Brit. I. 633).

On p. 334 commences an abbreviation (mostly by the omission of sentences) of Florentii Wigornensis Chronicon (A. D. 849—1121). See Mon. Hist. Brit. I. p. 549.

On p. 367, b, occurs the sentence, 'Ea tempestate rex h. facto longa terre intercessione fossato. et thorkeseye usque lincolniam per dermaconum trente fluminis fecit iter navium, Ranulphus quoque dunolmensis episcopus castellum apud northam incepit super ripam twede.' After this, without any break, follows the sentence from Henrici Huntendunensis Historia (Lib. VII. f. 213, b). 'At in vigilia natalis domini ventus insolitus non solum domos sed et turres deiecit lapideas.' The verses that in Savile's edition follow, 'De pulchritudine reginae Adelinae,' are omitted from the MS. But, such-like omissions excepted, the MS. corresponds with the Edition to the end of Liber VIII. and concludes with the set of hexameters (p. 376, a):

Rex obiit nunc rege carens caret anglia pace

Spiritus es caro sum: te nunc intrante reuixi.

Concerning Marianus Scotus see Mon. Hist. Brit., (Preface, p. 33—4). In the British Museum is a MS. of the 15th century (Arundel, No. 46. 1) which from its title and colophon, and the identity of its contents, appears to be a transcript of this, or of some common original.

12. The title is contained in the colophon, (p. 421), 'Explicit LIBER DOMINI MARCI PAULI DE VENETIS DE CONDI-
TIONIBUS ET CONSUE-TUDINIBUS ORIENTALIUM REGIONUM.' And the statement in the preface (p. 376), which precedes the table of contents of Liber I. 'per Franciscum Pipinum de Bononia ordinis fratrum predicatorum de vulgari ad latinum reductus' points out which of the two Latin Versions is contained in this MS.

Of the two versions And. Muller gives a full account in his preface (pp. 9—11) to the edition published, 'Coloniæ Brandenburgicæ. Ex officina Georgii Schulzii, Typogr. Elect. Anno M.D.CLXXI.' (Brit. Mus.
583. d. 5). Though the text of this edition is for the most part that of the version (Basileensis) printed in Novus Orbis, Folio, Basileæ, 1537 (pp. 330—417), yet in the preface (p. 11) extracts are given, 'E Libro primo Latinæ MStæ Brandenburgicæ,' with which the text of our MS. closely agrees. It concludes however (p. 421) with the words 'Qui inde ad diversas provincias et regiones deferuntur,' wanting therefore the sentence, 'Historia hæc.... in hoc MS. Prologus,' which is in a MS. at Padua, 'Testis Jac. Phil. Tomasinus in libro de MSS. Bibliothec. Patav.
qui Utini anno 1639 editus est. (p. 17).' (Brit. Mus. 620. f. 23).

13. 'Iste Liber intitulator FLOS YSTORIARUM TERRE ORI-ENTIS, QUEM COMPILAVIT FRATER HAYTONUS, dominus Chursi, consanguineus regis Armeniæ ex mandato summi pontificis.'

The rubric (p. 421) is followed by an account of the contents, beginning 'Dividitur autem liber iste in quatuor partes.' In the text and divisions thereof it agrees with pp. 419—431 of 'Novus Orbis. 1537,' wanting however the preface printed on p. 413, but containing at the end the prayer of the writer.

In the colophon (pp. 450—1) is, '¶ Explicit liber y'storiarum partium orientis quem ego Nicholaus falcom scripsi primo in gallico ydiomate secundumque vir religiosus frater haytonus ore suo absque nota siue aliquo exemplari de verbo ad verbum dictavit et de gallico transtuli in latinum.
Anno domini millesimo ccc^{mo}.vii. mense augusti in civitate pittaneum tempore scissimi pris dñi Clementis (pape, erased) quinti.'

See Brunet under Marco, and Hayton. Under the latter (Vol. II. 597, b) he speaks, 'de l'Histoire d'Orient écrite en français par Nicolas de Salcon, Salcoin ou Salconi (mais point Falcon),...' Certainly in this MS. the name is Falcon.

14. 'Explicit FIDES SARACENORUM' is the colophon.

Begins (p. 451):

Credunt Saraceni unum deum creatorem esse omnium: credunt et omnia mala esse a deo sicut et bona culpam et meritum.

Ends :

¶ Credunt 10^{mo} interrogationem fieri per angelum ultimo [dic] de paradiso et inferno.

The whole occupies about one column.

On the lower margin of p. 451 are drawn two lines determining 'longitudinem sepulchri domini, et latitudinem.' See the Catalogue of Caius Coll. MSS. (1849), No. 162. (6).

15. The title is contained in the colophon (p. 458), 'Explicit TRACTATUS DE ORTU PROCESSU ET ACTIBUS MACHOMETI.'

No rubric precedes the first words of the text (p. 451):

Avostendendum quod Machometus non fuerit dei propheta vel nuncius sicut asserunt Saraceni qui...

Ends (p. 458):

...nec fuit spiritus sanctus qui non potest videri sed potius corporalis et visibilis et tam fedus et vilis sicut patet in omnibus supradictis.

16. 'GESTA MACHOMETI,' is the running title. It may be more particularly described as 'Willelinus Tripolitanus Aconensis conventus de egressu Machometi et Saracenorum atque progressu eorumdum, de statu Saracenorum, de Machometo pseudopropheta eorumdum ipsa gente et eorum fide:' according to the rubrics (pp. 462, 467), and the preface (p. 458) addressed 'Theobaldo ecclesiarchio digno sancte terre peregrino sancto.'

After this preface and the rubric 'Quis fuit machometus et unde surrexit,' are the words (p. 458): 'Anno igitur saluatoris domini nostri Jesu Christi dci^{mo} quo eius fides in partibus floreret dum impleretur vaticinium Isaie XIX....'

It ends abruptly (p. 468):

Cibus ciborum vescentur gr'ubus.

Between the pages 468, 469, it appears that three leaves have been cut out: on these, according to the Table of Contents on the inside of the cover of this volume, besides the conclusion of 16 and commencement of 17, were contained — SOMNIUM BEATI THOME martiris post decessum ab Anglia. PROCESSUS FRATRIS NICHOLAI WYSEBECHE de unxione Regis Anglie, &c.

17. 'LIBER SANCTI GILDE ABBATIS DE GESTIS ANGLORUM' appears to have been the title, which now with the greater part of the first chapter is wanting.

Of the two MSS. employed by Josceline in his edition of the text of Gildas (published 1563), this is one, and, as he informs his readers, was once the property of the abbey of Glastonbury, but when he wrote 'was the sole property of a Kentish gentleman in the profession of the law.' See Mon. Hist. Brit. Preface, § 131. In this latter edition its various readings are given and denoted by B. See also Mr Stevenson's edition (1833), Preface, xvi.

The first line on p. 469 is, 'aque torrentem viue ex undantibus irrigua,' which is towards the end of c. l. at p. 6 of the text printed in Mon. Hist. Brit. The colophon to the 'Epistola Gildæ' (p. 490, a) is, 'Explicit liber sancti Gildæ Abbatis et historiographi Anglorum: et cetera.'

18. A large folio, as before, 60 pages, in double columns, each containing about 60 lines, bisected by the metrical dot or point. The handwriting is good, and may be assigned to the close of the 14th century.

'DIALOGUS [or Vision] of PIERS PLOWMAN.'

The reputed author of this alliterative Satire was Robert Langlande, and its date 1362. It has been printed at least three times, but no editor appears to have collated the present MS. The text differs very considerably from that of the MS. employed by Whitaker (now in the British Museum, Additional MSS. No. 10, 574), and is closely related to an earlier one in Trin. Coll. Camb. B. xv. 17, from which Mr. Wright has derived his edition (Lond. 1842).

The opening lines of the Poem (p. 490) will serve as a specimen of its orthographical and other peculiarities.

In a somer seson. when softe was the sonne
I schope me in schroudes. as I a schepe were
In habit as an heremyt. vnholy of werkes
Went wide in this world. wondres to here
An (sic) on a May mornynge. on Maluerne hulles
Me befel a ferli. of faire me thoughte.

19. 'HOW MEN THAT BEN IN HELE SHOLDE VISITE SIKE FOLK': in four chapters, handwriting as in § 18.

Begins (p. 550, col. 2):

My dere sone or doughter in God it semees þ' thow hiest the fast in the way fra this lif to godward...

Ends (p. 552, col. 2):

... and help it, for in thy merciful hands I put it. Amen.

20. SIR JOHN MANDEVILLE'S JOURNEY TO THE HOLY LAND.

Begins (p. 554):

For as muche as thei land ouer the see that is to say the haly land that men calles ye lond...

the last words of the prologue are, 'w' gret companye of lordes.'

Nearly at the end (p. 594) occurs the clause, 'And I John Maundevyle what wente out of my countre and passed the see the yere of ourc Lord a thousand thre hundred and thrytty and twa.' Compare this date with that in the edition of 1725, reprinted in 1839 by J. O. Halliwell, wherein mention also is made of some of the many MSS. that exist of this once popular Book of Travels.

21. A large folio, as before, 19 pages, in triple columns, of 60 lines each. It is carelessly transcribed in a hand of the second half of the 14th century.

'SEUENE SAGEES,' or (as it is more frequently entitled) THE SEVEN WISE MASTERS, a metrical Romance.

Begins (p. 594):

In Rome was an emperour
A man of swyth mikil honur,
As þe book tellys vs
Is name was de Occlicius.
Al the londe hadde to gye
And hadd a wyfe that high helie
Bi twene thaym twa come a nayer
A good child and a faire.

The 'book' alluded to seems to have been the Historia Septem Sapientum Romæ, which was in its turn derived from a Hindoo source. (See Ellis's Early Metrical Romances, Introd. to The Seven Wise Masters).

Ends (p. 612):

And went in to heuen riche
Thare joye and blysse hys euere i-lyche.
To that ilke blysse bryng vs gode
That neuer in erth 3ed schodde.

Amen Amen for charite.

The present MS. was printed in 1845 for the Percy Society (see Mr Wright's Preface). A different version of the same stories is contained in Weber's Metrical Romances, Vol. III., being drawn from the Auchinleck MS., and Cotton. Galba, E. IX. § 2. Akin to this latter version, though differing in some of the details, is a fragment also among the Camb. Univ. MSS. Ff. II., 38. § 39.

22. Double columns, about 72 lines in each, apparently of XIIIth or XIVth century. The handwriting seems to be the same in this and the next §. (No. 23.)

'CLEMENTIS LANTONIENSIS ECCLESIE PRESBITERI CONCORDIA QUATUOR EVANGELISTARUM.'

A Latin Harmony of the Gospels, in XII. parts, with a prologue, and table of the headings of the chapters prefixed.

At the end is subjoined a sort of index or digest of the whole, which however is imperfect, not extending beyond part ix.

Begins (p. 614, a), 'Prologus:'

Clemens Lantoniensis Ecclesie presbiter n[ato] pacem otiumque.
Hujus operis fili karissime causam requiris et fructum queris ...

Ends (f. 662, b):

...Tunc ita locutus est ad turbas. Ordinis ratio patet.

This MS. is mentioned, and some account of the author given, in Wright's Bibliogr. Britann. 'Anglo-Norman Period,' p. 265. The text differs in almost every line from Weber's edition.

23. POLYCHRONICON RANULPHI HIGDENI CESTRENSIS.

The work is given imperfectly in this MS. which abruptly begins (p. 663) in c. 4 of Lib. i.:

que vulgares cronice que dionisium predictum...

It is divided as MS. No. 1742, except that Lib. v. does not contain c. 33.

It ends with the volume in c. 2 of Lib. vii.:

... ad angliam recesserunt. verum male.

18, 19

Dd. I. 18, 19.

Two large folios, on paper, written about 1640, the first containing 474 pages, the second 378.

On p. 1 of Vol. i. is the title,

'THE HISTORIES AND CHRONICLES OF THE WORLD. By John Zonaras . . . Contayneing all the most memorable actions happened in the world in the revolution of sixe thousand sixe hundred yeares, and more. Digested into three Bookes . . . Done out of Greeke into French with annotations in the margeant, vpon the diuersitie of the Greeke copyes; with aduertisements, and Index of the most memorable things . . . Paris . . . for John Paxent in Saint James Streete, M.D.LXXXIII. And done into English, by the noble and learned Lady, the Lady Agnes Wenman, sometime wife of the Right honourable Richard Lord Viscount Wenman deceased¹.'

The first volume has been made to end in the middle of a sentence of which the continuation is to be found at p. 191 of the second: the preceding 190 pages ought to follow p. 378: the second volume is also defective, the narrative breaking off abruptly with an account of how

'Tryphon brings Jonathan to his death, by trecherie,' the last words (p. 190) being ...which done, he, accompanied with his men went forth to meete Tryphon bringing Jonathan prisoner into Judea. And he demanding a hundred talents of silver and the two....

These volumes have been transcribed from Lady Wenman's autograph, of which a portion is contained in MS. 2331 (Mm. 3. 32).

Dd. I. 20.

A large folio, on vellum, of 111 leaves, with double columns of 30 lines each: one leaf missing after f. 6, one after f. 50, and two after f. 110: handwriting probably of the XIVth century. The initial letters are illuminated throughout, and there are a few vignettes and borders: catchwords at every eighth leaf.

LATIN PSALTER, CANTICLES AND HYMNS, with KALENDAR prefixed. The Kalendar extends to fol. 6, where after the names of St Clement and St Sylvester the word 'papæ' has been effaced. The Psalter appears to have contained all the Psalms in their usual order, except Ps. xcix, which is omitted.

Begins (fol. 7, a):

Verba mea auribus.

Ends (fol. 74, b):

Omnis spiritus Dominum.

The Cantica follow, including the Te Deum, Quicumque vult, &c.: then the Litany, beginning f. 81, b, 2: then other canticles, partly from Isaiah: then Vigilæ Mortuorum (f. 90, a, 2—f. 94, b, 1). Then follow Hymns for the various festivals of the year; the volume concluding (f. 111, b, 1) with Gloria tibi Domine.

In the title-page is written the name of Gilbert Norts.

Dd. I. 21.

A folio, on parchment, of 213 leaves, in double columns; apparently of the XIVth century. §§ 1—3 contain 80 lines in a column; §§ 4—10, 100 lines; §§ 11—30, about 82. §§ 4—23 have illuminated initials; the writing is nearly the same throughout, except that § 29 is in a small running hand, and both § 29 and § 30 appear to be somewhat later than the rest.

All the treatises contained in this MS. have been frequently printed, except §§ 9 and 14.

1. ff. 1—127 b. 'LIBER SANCTI AUGUSTINI DE CIVITATE DEI.'

Begins, after an index of chapters to the first book, Gloriosissimam civitatem Dei...

2. f. 127 b. A list of S. Augustines works, numbered successively from 1 to 100 (by an error of the MS. 110).

Prefixed to the list is the following heading:

A portion of Book I. (chapters 14 and 15, 'transferat quod aufert...qui si vult fugere') is partially obliterated. Also a portion of Book II. (chapter 17, 'Voluntas Dei nulla necessitate puerilibus questionibus sicut') is obliterated.

5. ff. 135 b—136 a. 'PASTORALIS SANCTI AMBROSII EPISCOPI.' This is the treatise commonly called 'De Dignitate Sacerdotali.'

Then follows an index of the 26 chapters, and then the work itself.

Ends

9. f. 140. A Treatise without title, which coincides more or less with the 5th and 6th chapters of Anselmus, De fide Trinitatis.

Begins

Cur deus magis assumpserit hominem....

On the first leaf of the MS. 'Robert Woodward.'

Dd. I. 22.

A folio of 19 leaves ; the first five, the 11th, 12th, and 19th, being of parchment, the rest of paper. Some pages ragged and torn, and the writing of the first and last pages very illegible.

THE YEAR-BOOK OF THE 38th OF EDWARD III.

This copy is not so complete as the printed edition, and concludes with the case which there stands last but one.

At the end is written, 'Explicit annus XXXVIII. Edwardi tercii quod Johannes Haywarde.'

On the last page, and in a different hand, is a scarcely legible memorandum of the receipt of a sum of £8 'in a plase callid Schypmè hall,' by some former owner of the book, and apparently made in the reign of Edward IV.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

Dd. i. 24.

A folio, on paper, containing 92 leaves: written about the end of the xviiith century.

'THE APOCALYPS OR REUELATION OF ST JOHN, in Greek and English, clausularily drawne, so as it may be easily read out of Greeke into English, or out of English into Greeke, by such as take delight in the text. Also a short commentary or explanation of the most difficult places and visions therein contained. Together with Greeke Marginal Notes, shewing the greatest part of the phrases and expressions which the Holy Ghost useth therein, are taken out of the Greeke translation called the Septuagint, which serves as good direction to know what is to be meant thereby. As also the Iconologic or Figures of all the said visions, drawne and designed according to the visions therein expressed, and are very usefull for the easy remembring of them, and better imprinting the idea of them in the mind and memory of the studious. Claused by William Spenser, gent.'

Begins ('by way of preface touching revelations in Scripture')

Revelations of mysteries are not for infidels but for believers, &c.

Ends

'And no more were now to be expected.'

The Greek and English text, which occupies the page opposite to each page of commentary, has been formed by cutting out the several clauses from printed editions, and pasting them side by side in parallel columns. The drawings, which consist of rough unfinished sketches, are 54 in number.

For another work by the same author and in the same handwriting see Dd. viii. 4. There was a William Spencer, Fellow of Trin. Coll. Camb., editor of Origen, contra Celsum, 4to, 1658, who may perhaps have been the compiler of this MS.

Dd. i. 25.

A folio, on paper, 41 leaves, well preserved.

THE ARMS OF ENGLISH NOBLES emblazoned, commencing from the Norman Conquest, and ending with the reign of James I.

On the fly-leaf at the end is an account of the Stewarts, Earls of Lennox, and the Lady Arabella Stewart.

Appears to have been the private register of some herald of the time of King James I.

Dd. I. 26.

A large folio, on paper, in fair preservation, written about 1610.

The volume has not a title affixed, but may be called AN INVENTORY OF THE WARDROBE OF THE QUEEN-CONSORT OF JAMES I.

'One paire of bodies of green satten, cut with whit taffeta, with a paire of wearing sleeves of whit satten trymmed with spangled lace.'

In a column on the left margin of each entry is the letter S, and on the right 'ex.,' except when such notes occur as, (on p. 2) 'at court,' and 'April 17. 1608. to Dorithie,' 'May 11, Mrs Bolstrode.' The pages 6—10, 24, 28, 30 are blank. On p. 11 the entries (but without the S and ex.) recommence with occasional marginal notes as (on p. 12), 'Delivered into the queens chamber y^e 16th of Aprill 1611: at grenw^{ch}.' After p. 24 the marginal notes become more frequent, and indicate the time and place at which the various garments were received, and the persons by or to whom they were given.

The entries terminate with the following (p. 54):

One petty-cott of w^t satten cutt willowe and cutt downerighte in spaces, and a border belowe the sparrowe bylls the lower parte cutt in scollops bounde with a gold and silver parchment(?) and edged with a shorte golde and silver spangeld frenge and lynde with a narrow taffatye. 16 May: 1611. grenw^{ch}.

The remainder of the volume is of blank leaves, except that at the end is 'A survey taken the 23 of March 1607,' of 'Whalebone bodies,' 'Mantles,' 'Vardingales,' 'Points of silck and silver,' and 'Ribbons,' occupying portions of 6 pages.

On the covers are the arms of England quarterly with those of Scotland and Ireland, with the regal crown and motto, and a wreath composed of the rose, portecullis, fleur-de-lis, Prince of Wales' feathers, crowned eagle, and thistle.

The volume came into the possession of the University 'Munificentia Regia. 1715.'

Dd. I. 27.

A very thick folio, on vellum, well-preserved, 536 leaves, double columns, each containing about 62 lines: several illuminations, but none of them remarkable. It was written before the middle of the xvth century (1430—1440). The handwriting is uniform as far as Zechariah viii.

HOLY BIBLE, WITH APOCRYPHA, IN ENGLISH.

This version was mainly due to John Purvey, the second leader of the Wycliffite or Lollard party, although it had been based upon the old translation made in Wycliffe's lifetime (see Preface to the Wycliffite Versions, pp. xxiv. sq. Oxf. 1850). The following analysis of the MS. is derived from the same source (p. liii.): 'The Books to Esther inclusive have no prologue: Job has two, both of the earlier version: so likewise the Psalter: Proverbs and Ecclesiastes have each a prologue in the same version. Those to Wisdom and Ecclesiasticus are of a later version, found only in this MS. Isaiah and Baruch have the usual prologues of the later version; and to Ezekiel and Daniel are prefixed the prologues which are found elsewhere only in the Queen's College Oxford MS. [No. cccclxxxviii: see Mr Coxe's Catalogus, i. 89, Oxon. 1852]. The prologues in the New Testament agree with the more recent text.'

The books themselves follow the order of the Vulgate, excepting the 'Dedis of Apostles,' which, as in other MSS., is placed between the Epistle to the Hebrews and that of St James. Some peculiar readings are found after Zechariah viii, where the second hand commences (fol. 400).

Between the Old and New Testaments (fol. 423—428) is 'A Reule þat tellip in whiche chapitres of þe bible ze may fynde þe lessons, pistles and gospels þat ben red in þe church e aftir þe usse of Salisberi,' &c. A similar Table is preserved in the Oxford MS. adverted to above.

A folio, on parchment, like MS. 2. This is described by Nasmith as of the xiith century, but might, perhaps, be assigned to the xiiiith; the initial letters to the books are not so large and bold, nor those to the chapters so simple as in MS. 4. The rubrics and capitula are written in a much smaller handwriting than that of the text, which is large and regular. It has suffered from damp, and in consequence the first two leaves are much mutilated, and the last leaf of the text now in the volume is much decayed. It contains 302 pages of 2 columns, and 39 lines in each column.

The title may be derived from the rubric (f. 2 b.)

FLAVII JOSEPHI HISTORIARUM ANTIQUITATIS JUDAICE
LIBER PRIMUS INCIPIT.

This is preceded by 'Eusebii ieronimi prebyteri laus qua iosephum computat inter ecclesiasticos scriptores;' after which, 'Historiarum Antiquitatis Judaice prologus incipit.' These agree with the printed editions of the version by Ruffinus.

The division of the books into chapters corresponds to that in MS. 4, except that Lib. X. contains xv. cap., cap. xii. of (4) making xii. and xiii. in this.

The MS. as was said above, is imperfect; the last words being, 'Mordentur enim qui quosdam apud principes plusquam se.' (Lib. X. c. xi. of MS. Lib. X. c. xiv. of Editions).

There are various corrections of the text, interlinear and marginal.

Dd. I. 29.

A folio, on vellum, 179 leaves; written in double columns of 36 lines each. An excellent MS. and in good preservation. Date not later than the xiith century.

EXPOSITIO BEDE SUPER LUCAM.

Begins (fol. 4, a):

Incipit epistola Acce episcopi ad Bedam presbyterum.

Ends (fol. 179, b):

In lauda dei et benedictione conclusit. amen. Explicit liber omeliarum venerabilis Bede presbyteri super Lucam.

The division into books (but not into chapters) is the same as in the folio edition of 1612.

On fol. 2 and fol. 3 is a list of 55 of the capitula, not following the order of the book itself, though written in the same hand.

On fol. 1 is written, 'Liber Sancte Marie de Parcho Lyde,' viz. the Abbey of Louth Park in Lincolnshire: see Tanner and Dugdale.

Dd. I. 30.

A large folio, on parchment, 245 leaves, double columns, written about the commencement of the xiiith century. The tops of many of the leaves are cut off or torn, and several whole leaves are missing in many places.

HRABANI MAURI DE UNIVERSO, Libri xxij.

There is about a folio missing at the beginning, and the first legible sentence is, 'Sed cum Deus dicitur irasci aut zelare aut dolere nostro usu dicitur,' which is found on p. 57, col. 1, of Vol. I. of Rabani Mauri Opera, Coloniae Agrippinae 1627.

The last words are, 'Vela dicta quod objectu suo interiora domorum velent.' (Lib. xxi. cap. xix. of edition).

Dd. I. 31.

A large folio, on vellum, now containing 326 leaves, in double columns, each column containing about 70 lines. Written in a black-letter character, probably in the xvth century: the large capitals (most of which have been cut out) illuminated in blue, red, and gold; smaller capitals less elaborately ornamented; the margins variously flourished.

THE CATHOLICON OF JANUS JANUENSIS.

The MS., which is in other respects also considerably mutilated, has lost 3 or 4 leaves at the commencement, and begins

[Est enim liquescentia quæ dicitur quædam ha]bilitas clementi (a iii. fol. vers. Ed. Lugd. 1520), and ends in the middle of the article Stephanus, at the word viduas (II. fol. vers. edit. cit.)

A strip of parchment is pasted inside the cover at the beginning:

Catholicon ex dono Thome Rotheram
Lincoln Ep̄i. et Cancellarii Anglie.

32

Dd. I. 32.

A large folio, on parchment, containing 183 leaves; double columns of about 45 lines each; handwriting of the xiiith or xiiiith century.

GREGORII MORALIUM PRIMA PARS in XVI. Libris.

The 3rd leaf, which contained 'mentem melius par flagella' (chap. 4 of the Epistle to Leander).....'ut par utrum[que]' (chap. 2 of the preface), is wanting. The first leaf also has been mutilated by cutting out an illuminated initial.

Dd. II. 1-4.

Seven folio volumes (formerly bound in four) written on paper, in a hand of the 17th century.

A DIGEST BOOK, OR INDEX TO THE LAW REPORTS, arranged alphabetically from 'Abatement' to 'Waste.'

The vols. are paged throughout, but irregularly, many leaves being interspersed unpagcd, some blank, some bearing entries.

Vol. I. is paged from 1 to 466, but with numerous unpagcd leaves inserted throughout the volume, some blank, others containing entries.

Vol. II. paged from 467 to 924.

Vol. III. paged from 1 to 470.

Vol. IV. paged from 471 to 927.

Vol. V. paged from 1 to 458.

Vol. VI. paged from 459 to 949, for 299.

Vol. VII. paged from 1 to 383.

At the end a Table or alphabetical index has been begun, but only one page is completed.

Dd. II. 5.

The original portion of this fine folio consists of 252 leaves of parchment, written in a large bold hand of the xivth century, each page containing 24 lines $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide, with a margin of the same width. The continuation on ff. 253, 254 has been supplied in a later hand; then follow 2 leaves making up the 256 mentioned by Abp Parker, in the Catalogue of whose donation is the title

‘CHRONICON ABINDON. PER R GIBBURNUM.’

‘Author huius operis monachus Abindonie ut in fol. 47 a. 42 a. 100 a. 21 b. 38 b. 40 a.’ is one of the notes by Abp Parker on the inside of the first cover. See Mon. Hist. Brit. Introd. p. 30.

The Chronicle, which is nearly identical with Liber III. of Chronicon Gualt. Hemingford, extends over a period of 91 years (1216—1307, Hen. III. and Edw. I.); see Hamilton’s edition of the latter published by the Eng. Hist. Society, Vol. I. p. 257—Vol. II. p. 268.

Begins (f. 1):

Anno a plenitudine temporis quo misit deus filium suum in mundum m°.cc°.xvi°: sublato de medio rege Johanne Willelmus comes marescallus vir magnæ auctoritatis...

Ends (f. 254, a):

Appositusque est ad patres suos Rex fortissimus prudentissimus et sapientissimus Anno etatis sue sexagesimo octavo et regni sui tricesimo quinto. finis.

Appended is a note (? by the scribe employed by Abp Parker), ‘Prosequitur historiam Edwardi secundi ab anno 1307 ad annum 1313 inclusive hic author Gualterus hemyngeforde Canonicus Gibburnensis: quem hic Scriptor Abendonensis in hac historia henr. tertii et Edwardi primi sequitur maxime. pluribus tamen ab eo adiectis, et ad annos aliquanto accuratius dispositis. Scribit etiam predictus. G. historiam Edwardi IIIⁱ ad annum eiusdem regis 21. hoc est a^o. d. 1346. quo anno obiit Gualterus.' See Pitsius, A. D. 1347.

There are traces of many marginal notes which have for the most part been erased: those that remain are chiefly references to 'Chronica de Gisburn'; from which this MS. appears to have been chiefly taken.

At the beginning of the volume are five fly-leaves; the first four contain quotations from other sources, with references to the MS. On the last is the list of the MSS. given to the University by Abp Parker.

It may be noted that the ff. 253—6 are plainly palimpsest, as also are four of the fly-leaves at the beginning. On ff. 179, 183, are impressions of writing or printing, but so faint as to be illegible. There are illuminated capitals on ff. 1, 6, 15 and 83. The initials M. P. are on the covers.

Dd. II. 6.

A folio, on parchment, containing 200 leaves, with 44 lines to the page. Written apparently in the XIVth century.

POSTILLÆ NICHOLAI DE LYRA SUPER VETUS TESTAMENTUM, comprising the books of Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Canticles, Wisdom, Ecclesiasticus, 1 and 2 of Maccabees.

Begins

Ecce descripsi eam tripliciter...

Ends abruptly (the last leaf having been cut out)

...hec historia habetur 4. Regum. 19.

Several of the leaves have been misplaced by an error of the binder: thus fol. 43 and fol. 46 have changed places, so also have 100 and 101, 102 and 103, 108 and 109, 110 and 111.

Fol. 93 is a leaf inserted from some other work. It is a fragment of a commentary on Rev. ix. 11—17.

On p. 3 commence the Tables, very similar to those in Blair's 'Chronology,' and dating from 'Patriarcharum ætates.'

There are no entries after 1610 except under England and Scotland, where we find 'Carolus incipit Martii 27 (1625) Quem deus conservet,' and the final note 'A Sectariis trucidatur Infandum.' These are followed by 18 pages of genealogical trees combined with chronology.

A folio, on paper, bound up with the two preceding numbers; fairly written, in the reign of James I.

'A BRIEF COLLECTION OF THE YERLY ASSIGNMENTS OF THE KING'S MA^{TIES} REVENUES, CUSTOMS, IMPOSTS AND OTHER PROFITS, hereafter particularly mentioned, made and collected by the order and direction of the Lord High Treasurer of England, according to a book conteyning an Establishment in that behalf made and signed by his Highnes.'

'The Court of the Exchequier. Customs, Subsidies of Tonnage and Pondage, and Impost,' is the heading (p. 2, 3) to the first set of entries. They are frequently made across the book on two pages, and hence, with the next leaf, the sums corresponding to the entry (p. 54) 'Some totall of the Kinges Ma^s Revenues in the severall courts of the Excheq^r Duchie of Lancaster and Court of Wardes and Liveries,' are wanting.

The MS. has been bound up with a few leaves containing portions of Jerome’s Commentary on Zephaniah and Haggai, in double columns, apparently of XIVth century.

There are some notes on a paper fly-leaf as to the date of the MS., from a catalogue of emperors which it contains, which however only proves it not to have been written earlier than 921 A.D.

Printed Ibid. pp. 334—349.

At the end, on p. 336, is written in red ink, 'exaiatur,' and so on p. 209; on pp. 23, and 270, 332, 'exaiatur quoad:' whence it would appear that this MS. was collated for the printed edition of the Rolls of Parliament. (See Vol. i. p. 481).

A folio, on paper, containing about 130 pages, bound up with the three following numbers.

1. 'A Remonstrance delivered his Ma^{tie} in writinge after the Inhibition . . . not to proceede in the examininge his right to Impose without the assent of Parliament.'

A small folio, on parchment, single columns, each containing about 36 (double) lines. The handwriting is inferior and not later than the close of the xivth century. Wants two leaves at the beginning, and is also imperfect at the end.

PIERS PLOWMAN'S VISION.

The first lines (starting from v. 267 of Wright's edition) are :

Hoc vt agas melius iustus et esto pius
Nudum ius a te vestiri vult pietate

A passage then follows, which with sundry variations is trajected in Wright to v. 417 seqq.: though in this and other particulars, the present MS. accords almost literally with the text of Whitaker's edition. It breaks off at v. 14000 of Wright's version, presenting as before a great variety of readings:

Philosofres fursoken welpe . for þey wolde be nedy.
And wonede wel elingly . and wolde nat be riche

This treatise corresponds with the work entitled 'The Lawyer's Light, or A due direction for the study of the Law,' written by the reverend and learned professor thereof J. D. Lond. Benjamin Fisher, 1629. pp. 119, small 4to.

The printed edition is considerably longer than our MS., the concluding words of which are found in p. 93.

A small folio on parchment, of 12 leaves, in double columns of 44 lines each.

1. ff. 1—7. 'MEDITATIONES BERNARDI.'

Begins :

Multi multa sciunt et semet ipsos nesciunt.

Corresponds as far as f. 7. a. col. 1, ('qui vivit et regnat per infinita sæcula. Amen,') with Ed. Ben. Paris, 1839, Vol. II. p. 661. After this follows the paragraph :

Tedet me vita mea, quia diligenter discussa.....gloriaris per infinita sæcula. Amen. Explicit.

Dat lumen oleaginum
Est fides integerima
Ad omne bonum patula
Quæ nuncquam scit deficere

Dd. III. 17.

A folio, on paper, bound in the same volume with the preceding, of about 300 leaves, 39 lines in a page, in a very unfinished state.

Only the second Vol. appears, with the following title :

'Tome the Seconde, of SCHOOLLE EXERCISES, or, The Divine Humanie Mathematicall Woorke of Master John Stay, philo musus, And student, In the universe, 1634. In which is contained στεριομετρια: and the arte of ΜΟΥΣΙΚΗ as well of the whole worlde as of the humane voyce, and instrumentall also the arte of Grammer all in 500 leaves or 10 Quires.'

There are similar titles of a 3rd, a 4th, and a 5th Booke, the last said to be the quinta essence of the other four.

Traces of the first book exist in the form of an 'Index.'

Dd. III. 18.

A long quarto, on paper, and in a good state of preservation : date about 1600. It consists of 66 numbered leaves, most of which contain on each page seven staves of MUSIC.

The notation and the character of the music in this volume is the same as in MS. 43. The music is generally harmonized, in which case the staves contain six lines; when only the melody is given, the staves contain five lines only. On leaf 64 there is a melody written in a later hand and in the more modern notation of breves, minims, &c. On leaf 66 there is an index headed 'Lessons in this Book.' The Airs or Melodies are termed 'Trebles.'

Dd. III. 19.

A folio, on paper, and in good preservation. In the latter half many leaves have been injured by damp but not so as to destroy the legibility of the pages. The whole MS. consists of 69 pages, each on the average containing 29 lines: handwriting of the same character throughout, and assignable to the middle of the xvth century. Imperfect at the beginning.

A COLLECTION OF PLEADINGS, temp. Hen. VI. in the usual Law-Latin.

Commences abruptly:—

Walterus tenuerit de ipso Ricardo manerium predictum cum pertinentiis per homagium et fidelitatem.

Then comes the record of a 'Placitum detentionis syngraphi obligatorii.' The last folio but one is headed 'xxixth. H' VIth.'

The whole work is apparently a transcript from the Rotuli Placitorum, preserved among the Records; most of which have been published by the Commission of 1800.

Dd. III. 20.

A paper-book in folio bound up with 106.

The contents to the end of § 4 are written in a legible and clear hand, the remainder by the same person though generally in a small running hand of the xviith century.

These letters are only copies of Epistles addressed to various sovereigns by Queen Elizabeth: there are 306 letters on 264 leaves according to the numbers in the margin: ff. 194, 195 a, are blank, apparently for the insertion of Epistles 235 and 236: they are preceded by an Index on 4 leaves.

They have been copied by Baker (xxxii. 19—123) under the title 'Copies of Letters, taken from a large volume of Letters, &c. in the late Bp of Ely's Library, endorsed 10 : 00 : 00^{ii s d}: which probably was the price of the book, and yet only copies.' This endorsement has disappeared, probably in the process of binding.

5. The following SPEECHES OF LORD KEEPER BACON may also be found in the Collection, in MS. No. 1828, § 4.

a. The effecte of the speche used by the Lord Keeper unto the Queen's Majestie at such tyme as her highness called him first to serve.

f. A speeche used by the Lord Keeper amongst the Lords of the Starre Chamber 1569. This (ff. 15 b—18) accordss with No. 1828, 4. f., with the exception of the date.

This (ff. 18—21 b) is the same as No. 1828, 4. l.; which see.

Dd. III. 25—38.

WALDENSIAN MANUSCRIPTS, presented, together with other and more ancient, but now missing, documents, 'to the publick Library of the famous University of Cambridge in August 1658,' by Samuel Morland, according to the heading of the Catalogue appended to the Contents of the 'History of the Evangelical Churches of the valleys of Piedmont,' fol. London, 1658, by the Donor.

These volumes are not noticed at all in the Folio Catalogue, printed Oxon. 1696, which, however, was compiled from a MS. previous to 1658. Another Catalogue, in 1753, speaks of the Manuscripts only which yet remain, and of which only an account is given by Nasmith in his MS. Catalogue completed in 1794. The preface to the latter account has been printed in the Introduction (p. 155) to Waldensian Researches, by W. S. Gilly, 8vo. London, 1831.

Of the Waldensian Manuscripts, preserved in the Library of the University of Dublin, Dr Todd has given a full account in the volumes for 1841 of the British Magazine, xix. 393, 502, 632, and xx. 21, 135. At page 637 of Volume xix. Dr Gilly also says, 'I find the Ussher Collection of MSS. in Dublin contains the substance, if not the counterparts, of almost all the ancient treatises which Morland deposited in the Library at Cambridge, in volumes, marked A, B, C, D, E, and F, and which have been since removed, nobody knows how or when. But I have no reason to think that any of these missing books or parchments have found their way to Dublin. The portions which Dr Todd believed he had discovered in the Dublin Library are transcripts, in a more modern handwriting, of part of volumes G and H, which are still remaining in the Morland Collection at Cambridge. The Ussher Collection of Waldensian MSS. was made many years before Morland's.

Of the following Catalogue of the volumes yet remaining, that of Morland supplies the outline, additional particulars being filled in generally in a smaller type.

112. WALDENSIAN DOCUMENTS: Morland, G.

1. A small paper book (11 inches by 4) containing 16 pages, on 10 of which is written in a small hand a narrative of what is described as 'A verbal process against the Waldenses by the Archbishop of L'Ambrun, in the year 1497 and 1502, written in the French tongue.'

Begins:

Est a presupposer que l'an mil iiij^e iiij^v dix et sept apres ma translation de frejus a ambrun me deliberay visiter ma diocese d'ambrun.

There are some few marginal notes in French in a small hand: in a good and large hand that occurs on many of the other MSS. is the title, 'Proces verbal de l'archevu d'Ambrun de l'an 1497 et 1501, sur le saict des Vaudois.' Another copy of this narrative is in No. 113.

What Dr Todd takes to be the original of this Tract is to be found among the Waldensian Documents at Dublin, No. IX. § xx. See Brit. Mag. xx. p. 192. An abstract is given by Perrin, Histoire des Vaudois, Liv. II. ch. 3. pp. 137—143. ed. 1619.

2. On paper (11 inches by 8½) injured by damp and doubling is

A Bull of Pope Innocent against the Waldenses in the year 1487 in Latin.

Printed by Morland (p. 196) and by (his copier) Leger (Liv. II. ch. ii.): the seals rudely represented in the former still remain. On the paper cover, below the French title, 'Bulle & commision tres ample &c.', is the note in a hand of the xviith century, 'No. 2. Processe against them by Albertus de Capineis, mentioned in the process framed Anno 1501. Article 36.' See Dr Todd, ub. sup. § III. Though there are 9 leaves, of which some are blank, no watermark is discernible on the paper.

3. pp. 1—15. A Latin Treatise called Origo Valdensium et processus contra eos facti.

This has been printed by Dr Peter Allix in the Appendix to Ancient Churches of Piedmont, London, 1690. An English translation with the initial words of the Latin is printed in Morland, p. 215.

4. As a sequel to the foregoing (3), and on similar paper¹, follow

‘Divers Informations and Examinations taken by the Archbishop of Evreux and others of the Popes Commissaries against the Waldenses of Fraissinere and other places, in the years 1478 1479. 1483. 1486. and 1501, wherein are many passages very remarkable, and worthy to be diligently perused by all the curious.’

a. pp. 16—43. Sequuntur examinationes facte In materia heresis secte Valdentium per Reuesm et Reue^{dos} pres laurentium bureau Ep^m Sistaviceu. et thomam pascal ac Rostagnu archipm ebredunen. commissarios...

In the margin, in a more modern hand, there is written, ‘Informacions prises par les commis du pape, l’evesque de Sisteron et autres nommés par le Roy.’ The first examination is headed ‘Examinatio fazii gay de fraycineria pro teste,’ and is dated 1501, 26 July. It is followed by the examinations of Francis Ruffus, Anthony Pau, D. Fazius Ripert, all of Frassinie^{re}; also of ‘Dominus Johannes Lagerus Vicarius de Orseria in Campo-sauro,’ of Peter Raymund, John Arnoux, Angelinus Palon, John Barthelem, Hugh Jacques, John Faber, Pierre Jourdan, Hippolyte Blen, Jacques Pari, Thomette wife of Fazius Ripert, Marie wife of William Bret, Jacques Bonnefoy, Hunet Julian de Valle, Thomas Granet de Valle, Johannes de Burgo, Claudius Hunbert, Honoratus de Burgo, Giraud Ruffi or de Roux, and Jacques Chambon.

There are marginal notes in a small hand, and in French, besides a few in Latin in the larger hand: see § 1. Compare the above with the account given by Dr Todd of No. IX. § 1. 2 of the Waldensian Documents at Dublin in Brit. Mag. xx. pp. 188-9.

b. ‘Regiarum | copia Irarum, Morum de fraxine^{na} Valle loysia ac Argentaria. No. 2.’ is the endorsement by a more modern hand.

The first of these ‘Lettres du Roy Loys vnzieme’ is printed by Perrin, Histoire des Vaudois, pp. 118—124; it is dated 18 May, 1478. The date of the second appears to be 31 Mars. 1478: that of the third is ‘3 April 1478.’ Many corrections have been made by the copier of these letters. They are followed by two, copied by the same hand, of Jehan de Daillon seigneur du Lude; the former, in French, is dated 20 April, 1479, the latter, in Latin, dated 29 May, 1479. At the end (p. 9) is ‘Facta est collatio pntis copie cum pp^o originali per me not^o publicum N Paris’

c. Ihūs. Sequitur extracta processus In materia heresis valden per Reuereu. in xpō prem et dñm Do. Johannem Archiepūm Ebredunen.

On six leaves¹, of which the first three are marked B, C, D, and the sixth bears the endorsement 'Continuatio informationum.' Then in the larger hand, '1483 Informaons par on n'apperi d'aucune diffamatio de paillardise, mais seulement des aultres points.' After which, in another hand, is 'N^o 4 Arch. Jehan.'

d. Processus factus et formatus in facto sancte fidei per Rev^{mm} in xpo patrem et dominum nrm dnm Johannem Dei et ap^o sedis gra Archiepm et Principem Ebredunen. contra Anthon Blasii de Angrogina dioce^s Taurinen. hm Dalphini Sistarien. Dioce^s.

The description given by Dr Todd (ub. sup.) of the Dublin MS. (No. IX. § v.) applies to this with the exception of the handwriting, that of this differing somewhat from the hand of § 3 and § 4 a.

The endorsement is 'Proces & Abiuratio d'Antoyne Blasij,' and in another smaller and later hand, '1483. no 12.' See Dr Todd, No. IX. § XXI.

e. The description by Dr Todd, (ib. § iv.) applies to this, with the additional endorsement 'Universitatis vallis Loysie' in the same handwriting as the text of the MS.

f. Processus factus per R^{mm} in xpo...Ebredunen. contra Anthoniũ fabri als Baudon de Castro-rodulpho de crimine heresis Valdensium seu pauperum de Lugduno diffamatum.

At the top of the page is the word 'Ihus;' and in the margin 'Originalis,' with the signature of the notary N. Paris, as in d. The date of this document also is 1486.

The leaves were numbered by the scribe; but have subsequently been disarranged, f. viii. being now followed by f. xvii. After f. xx. follows a leaf headed 'Ihus,' and containing 'Tabula p^{ntis} processus,' with the number of the leaf opposite each item. Another document of the date 1488. 23 Nov. and signed 'Saichen (?) N. P.' is here inserted: after which follow ff. ix—xvi: the last two being blank and f. xiv. cancelled. A second document, of the date 1488, and by the same hand as the former, is here inserted; after which follow ff. xxi—xxv, of which the last two are blank². On the old wrapper is the more modern endorsement, '16.7^{ber} 1486.'

g. Processus factus &c. (as in d.)...Ebredunen. contra Anthoniũ Albi de Fraxinerin. Ebred. dioc. etatis quadraginta annorum vel circa.

The account given of d and f applies to this, with the addition that at the top of the first page in the right hand corner is 'Ordinarius' as in d, and in the left hand 'cum pma.' as in f.

² In f and g the watermark on the paper is generally a bunch of grapes surmounted by a cypher and a star, sometimes the two latter are not visible.

The endorsement by the larger hand is, 'Antonius Albi. 1486. recite seulemēt ce que le barbe luy dit en confession. R. d'une corde qu'on mettoit au col des mourans.'

113. WALDENSIAN DOCUMENTS: Morland, H.

On paper, of various sizes, and written by two or three different hands, in the volume H are contained the following MSS.

Before those mentioned by Morland and Nasmith is a book similar to No. 112. 1, written by the same hand, but previously, as a collation of the texts and marginal notes seems to indicate. This is followed by

1. 'Divers ample and very remarkable processes and cruel Inquisitions against those of Fraissinere and other places in the years 1487, 1488, 1489, 1492 and 1494.'

a. On paper¹, of the same size as No. 112. § 2 and subsequent portions, and in a hand of the same date.

Processus Inquisitionalis agitatus coram R^{mo} in xpo patre et dno domino Johē dei et aplice sedis gra Archiepiscopo et principe Ebredunen.

Inter

Dominum Promotorem heretice prauitatis Sancte fidei ex vna agentem.

Et

In nomine domini nri Ihu xpi. Amen. Anno a nat. dni millesimo quadringentesimo octuagesimo sexto Et die lune que fuit Intitulata et numerata vndecima mensis decembris.....

The top of the leaf has been cut off in the binding, and only slight traces remain of the word 'Jesus;' in the margin of the first page is '4^{to},' and below it 'fregit carceres,' and by the same hand on the next page is the note respecting Audinus Crispini, 'etatis xxiiij^{or} annorum vel circa.'

On f. v. the account of the first Interrogation is concluded with the names of the witnesses (Petro Sabine...officiali Ebredunen...Desiderio Martini, Desiderio Forget, et Spn' Rouerij Cap^{nis} testibus), and the signature of Nicolaus Paris.

'Examinatio secunda Audini Crispini de Sancto Andrea' is dated in the preamble (f. v. b) '1487. 30 Januarij.'

The account (f. vi. b—f. viii.) of the next interrogation begins, 'Deinde anno quo supra et die Sabbati quinta mensis Maij...'

The date of the next (f. viii.) is the 10th of May.

On the 15th of May, after the first examination (f. ix. b) he is sent to the torture, after which is 'alia examinatio seu Repeticio predicti Odini Crispini.'

¹ It may be noted that the watermark is the same as of No. 112. § 4. f, g.

and again (f. x. b), 'post vesperas,' when he is again sentenced to the torture, the examination under torture is renewed, the account ending on f. xiii. b.

The summary (ff. xiii. b—xv.) of his tenets deduced from the preceding interrogations is without the signature of N. Paris.

'Alia Repeticio dieto (sic) Odini Crispini,' is dated (f. xv. b) 'die Martis vicesima sexta mensis Jugnij,' and ends on f. [x] vi. After the usual signature, in the same handwriting as the foregoing, is 'concordat hmoi copia cum proprio originali. N. Paris.'

In the margin, by one hand, are notes both in Latin and French, with pointers, and lines under some words.

Eight leaves follow, which are blank, except that the last is endorsed '1486. 1487,' and by the same hand as the marginal notes but larger, 'Proces contre les Vaudoys:' beneath, in a smaller and apparently another hand,

'Audimus Crispini alias Valoy.

Jehan Archeveq3 poursuisvant.

N° 6.'

Compare with the above account that given by Dr Todd (Brit. Mag. xx. 190) of an imperfect transcript at Dublin. (No. IX. § x.)

b. Three leaves², (12 inches by 8½) which have suffered from having been folded and exposed to damp before they were curtailed by the binder.

Cest l'extraicte faicte du contenu au proces fait et demene deuant Mess^{rs} Mons^r linqwesteur aplicque et official de ceste cite in pns et assistans contre Steue Raoux de fraxinieres.

The endorsement, in the same large hand as that on a, is :

'Vidi | Stephannu Ruffi de fraisinieres.'

After 'No. 16,' which has been altered to No. 17, is, in a small hand,

'On na autre response de cestui cy examine | par Albertus de Capitaneis, sinon que sen rafferte a dieu;' and, 'Cest Albertus...auoir persequite les Vaudoys en l'anne 1488.' A leaf has been torn out before

e. 1488. Minute de diverses responses de ceux de fraiciniere vbi ne verbum quidem de paillardise.

This endorsement is in the same large hand, and, beneath, 'N° 7' are, in the smaller, 'Sous ce messieur Jehan Archevesque d Ambrun.' 'Veyleti inquisiteur.' A pen has been drawn across these; the pen through the second also subscribed, 'Laugeri inquisiteur.'

The whole is much less carefully written than a, the latter portion very hastily: but the marginal marks are similar. The watermark on the paper is the same as that of a.

d. 1489. Proces contre Pierre Valet (sic) de Freicinieres.

Confisq. ses biens le liurant au bras seculier.

¹ Maii is in a marginal note by a later hand, but from the dates the month must be June.

² The watermark is a spearhead through a ducal crown.

The two lines of the above endorsement are in different hands: in another is 'N° 3;' (the 3 has been written over 7, by the same pen which has been drawn through 6 by the side). On the back is also 'Cum P̄ma:' this was also on f. 1, but has been partly torn off with the corner of the leaf: in the margin of f. 1 remain 'f. aplica.' and '2°. 1439.' in one hand, and, apparently in the two hands of the endorsement, are 'Petrus Valoy' 'Liuré au bras seculier.'

The account of the examination is in Latin, concluding (f. vi.), '...testibus Et me notario Gebaud.' The MS. continues, 'Demum vero sequitur tenor processus in vulgari sermone translatus...,' and concludes (f. vii. b), 'Die ultima Marcii ante Palanū. N. Gebaud.'

The paper¹ is nearly the same size as in § 1 a, the handwriting is different.

Compare Dr Todd's notice of No IX. § xv. and xvi. ubi supra.

c. 'Proces contre deux barbes asavoir francois de gerundino, dict barbe Martin, et Pierre de Jacob, dict barbe Jean: aux responses des quels ont esté adioustées des calomnies sur le faict de Paillardise et d'Idolatrie comme appert par le somptum des dites Responses en breuet y joint, le quel le Gressier a estendu a son plaisir.'

This first portion of the endorsement (on f. xii.) is in the large hand, the portion after 'N° 9' in the smaller: there are, besides, endorsements in Latin by two or three other hands. On the top of f. 1 is 'Ihus,' and in the margin '1°.' '1492:' the other notes generally in Latin².

The first portion (ff. i.—viii.) is printed by Allix (ubi supra, pp. 307—317.) The latter part concludes (f. xii.), 'Extracta fuit hmoi copia a proprio originali et concordat N Paris.' Compare Dr Todd's account of No. IX. § xvii.

f. Contra peyronetam Relictam Adam Petri Beraudi als fornerii loci belli Respecty.

This is on the first cover; 'vis. 3°.' and, 'Ihus marie filius' being above; and below, in the large hand, 'A Valence l'an 1494,' and, in a somewhat smaller hand, 'Existimo fidelit' scriptas respensiones.'

The whole is printed in Allix (ubi supra, pp. 318—331). That which he prints (p. 318) under the title, 'Sumptum ex ore Peyronetæ,' is on a slip of paper³ inserted before f. 1, and endorsed, by the large hand, 'Nota hanc chartulam,' with the heading, 'Icy se voit come on receuoit en bref les responses et puis on les estendoit a plaisir.' Marginal notes as in e are chiefly in Latin. See Dr Todd's account of No. IX. §§ xviii. and xix. The same endorsement is on f as on § xix.

2. A Bull of Pope Alexander, bearing date the first of April in the year 1501, for absolution of the Waldenses, &c. to encourage them to revolt and abjure their Religion.

³ With the same watermark as the rest, viz. a gauntlet.

‘Cum nos hodie te...’

The endorsement is the same as the title given by Dr Todd in his account of No. IX. § vi.

3. A Bull of the same Pope Alexander, bearing date the fifth of April, 1501, for absolution of Usurers, &c.

‘Ab eo qui...’

The scribe has made some corrections. See Dr Todd, No. IX. § vii.

4. A Bull of the aforesaid Pope Alexander bearing date the seventh of October, 1501, for absolution of all sorts of crimes and sins, and particularly of that of Heresie.

‘Cum nos alias te...’ See Dr Todd, No. IX. § viii.

5. An Edict of Louis King of France, bearing date the 12 of October, 1501, for the restitution of the goods of those of Fraissinere.

The endorsement consists of that and the title given by Dr Todd, No. IX. § xxiv: the date of the text is ‘xii. jour.’

6. Letters Patent obtained of Louis King of France by those of Fraissinere, bearing date the twelfth October, 1501.

The endorsement is the same as that given by Dr Todd, No. IX. § xxiii. There are many marginal notes to this document and the following.

7. An Arrest du Grand Conseil of the 27 of May, 1502, in favour of those of Frassinere, Val Loyse, Argentiere, and other Inhabitants of Dauphine who turned Catholicks.

This has the same certificate and endorsement as No. IX. § xxv. After this follows (see No. IX. § xxvi.), A letter from the King on the same subject, dated 27 May, 1502. The endorsement is now scarcely legible.

114. WALDENSIAN DOCUMENTS: Morland, I.

Volumes 114—120 (I—P inclusive) are bound together. In the Volume I are contained the following MSS. on paper, 10½ inches by 7½. The documents 1—5, which alone are catalogued by Morland and Nasmith, are all copies written by the same hand, and are of the date (1656) of the certificates subscribed by Balcet and A. Javel: these certificates are written in the smaller hand and with the darker ink with which the descriptions of the seals have been added to the copies. The document 6 is by a different hand, of about the same period as the others: at the top of every page (ff. 23—44) is the mark +.

1. The Agreement made between Henry the Fourth of France and the Evangelical Professors of the Valleys of Piemont, in the year 1592.

This (ff. 1—10) includes the Letters Patent which with the foregoing Agreement are printed in Morland, Bk. III. ch. II. pp. 429—448. See also § 6.

2. A Petition of those of Val Perosa, presented to his Majesty of France, with the King's Answer thereunto, upon the sixth of June, 1630.

3. Several Articles of Capitulation accorded by the King of France to those of Val Perosa, bearing date the eleventh of April, 1630, to which are annexed his Majesties Letters Patents.

The latter (ff. 15*b*—17) are dated Jan. 1633. The two following form part of the same collection.

4. The Kings Letters Patents in favour of the Evangelical Professors of Val Perosa, issued forth the tenth of March, 1648.

This is preceded (on ff. 17*b*—19) by an 'Arrest du Conseil' of the same date. On f. 17 is the heading, 'Extrait des Registres du Conseil d'Etat.'

5. issued forth the 18 of August, 1653.

The documents are similar to § 4. On f. 22 is a Certificate similar to those at the end of § 1 and § 2.

6. Lettres patentes du Roy, sur l'homage fait a sa Majeste par ceux qui se sont remis soubz l'obeissance d'iceluy en Piedmont.

This is the title on f. 23, which also Morland has prefixed to the contents of pp. 457—465. With the exception of the notary's signature, the documents are in fact the same as those previously printed, in an inverted order, on pp. 429—448. See above, § 1.

115. WALDENSIAN DOCUMENTS : Morland, K.

1. The Concessions of the Duke of Savoy to the Evangelical Professors of the Valleys of Piemont in the year 1561.

This document does not now form part of the volume.

Probably Nasmith, in entering it in his MS. Catalogue, blindly followed Morland's List.

2. The Concessions of the Duke of Savoy to the Evangelical Professors of the Valley of Piemont in the years 1602 and 1603.

Printed in Morland, pp. 466—496. On the last of the ten leaves (12 inches by 8 $\frac{1}{2}$), which are written in a large hand, is the endorsement hurriedly written, 'Copia autentica delle concess. del 1603 et 1620 et del Inter^o.'

3. The Confirmation of the above said Concessions, bearing date the 2 and 4 of June and 29 of December, 1653.

This on five leaves, of somewhat larger paper, is written in a smaller and clearer hand than the preceding document. It is referred to by Morland, p. 497, and translated by Leger, Liv. II. ch. vii.

116. WALDENSIAN DOCUMENTS: Morland, L.

1. A Memorial concerning the Evangelical Churches in the Valleys of Piemont, in the year 1644.

This and the following articles are copies, and with the exception of §§ 4, 5, 7, 12, and 22, have at the end certificates like the one to this article, Dass dissere Copia dem Original Inn allweg glychluthend syge Bezügt Andreas Schmid, der Statt Zürich Understatt-schryber.

The articles are in German with the exception of §§ 3, 8, 11, 12, 13, and 23, in French, § 5 in Latin, and § 22 in Italian.

In the margin at the beginning of many of the articles are written the titles, those in English perhaps by Morland, those in French by the same hand as the notes to § 1.

3. A Letter of the Duke of Savoy to the Evangelical Cantons the 6th of April, 1655.

4. A Letter from the Ministers of Zurich to those of N. N. touching the negotiation of Mr Duræus for the unity of the Churches, together with a relation of the beginning and progress

On the 11th page the MS. commences with 'Liber iste quem in presentiarum legendum assumptimus, ex multorum antidotis est compilatus, quod patet ex ipsis medicamentorum intitulationibus;' and proceeds to treat of various complaints, in which the several herbs in the introductory catalogue have been found of service as antidotes.

Dd. III. 53.

A quarto, on parchment, containing two distinct works on 266 pages, besides fly-leaves, formerly bound in wood, but now in modern covers.

On what was the inside of the old cover is 'Sum Mulcasteri,' and bound up between the fly-leaves at the beginning is an epistle on paper headed, 'Viro illustri et reverendo Joanni Episcopo Norvicensi, S. P. D. Petrus Burmannus,' and dated 'Trajecti Batavor. 15 Jan. 1707.'

I. The former work is comprised in pp. 1—210, and the larger portion of it (pp. 1—179) was written by various hands about the commencement of the xvth century. Generally, at the points where the MS. is defective, a change in the style of the initial letters may be observed. The other portion, which may be regarded as a separate Formulary, is, as is stated below, by a more modern hand, perhaps of the xvith century.

It is, according to the following description by Nasmith, 'A Formulary, or Book of Precedents, of such Grants, Warrants, and Letters as were accustomed to pass the Signet Office, and was probably drawn up for the use of the Keeper of the Privy Seal. These forms are some in Latin, but a greater number in French, and contain much curious matter, though their utility, both to the topographer and the historian, is considerably abated by the want of dates, and by the names, both of persons and places, being frequently expressed only by their initials. There are short rubrics in the margin pointing out the subject-matter of each article, but without any specification of persons or things. The name of King Richard is prefixed to many of these forms, either from the oscitaney of the writer, who mistakenly supposed the initial R. used for Rex to be an abbreviation of Ricardus, or more probably because the collection was made in the time of Richard II.*; but the contents of several, which thus bear the name of Richard, plainly prove them to belong to the preceding reign. The MS. is in some places defective, and in others has received additions from more recent hands; but as with all its imperfections it affords an accurate and authentic picture of the customs of the times, particularly of the manner in which the regal power was then exercised, and of the favours which the sovereign was accustomed to bestow, I have given a minute description of its contents, and I have numbered the pages, that any article may more easily be found.'

The first eight pages contain Warrants from the King to his Chancellor for letters patent, to be passed the Great Seal for Licences.

1. p. 1. To William de Sudbury, Bp of Chichester, to exchange lands in Coushute with the Abbat and Convent of Chersey, for a messuage and lands at N. in the parish of C., and the fourth part of a knight's fee in T. K.

The scribe's description in the margin is, 'Lra escambii concordati inter Ep̄m et certos natiuos suos et abbatem et conventum de certis terris et ten. suis.

The letter begins:

Edwardus Dei gracia Rex Anglie et Francie et Dominus Hibernie dilecto et fideli nostro Ricardo Maundeville Cancellario nostro salutem.

It ends:

Here, says Nasmith, ends the Original Register, or Book of Precedents; on the next thirty pages are written in a different and more modern hand, "Forms of Latin Letters," which are still more defective than the preceding collection; for not only are they without dates and express persons and places by their bare initials, but they also frequently omit the names of those by whom they were written, and of the parties to whom they were addressed. They were probably collected by some ecclesiastic or lawyer employed under the Corporation of London, in whose name the greater part of them appear to me to have been written; and they exhibit the functions and duties of a Corporation in former times, which have long since gone into disuse. They then corresponded with other corporate bodies as well without the realm as within; with the former they expostulated for wrongs done to any of their fellow citizens, and even threatened reprisals, if redress was withheld: they granted testimonials of the innocence of persons accused or defamed, of the payment of debts, and of various other matters; and they warmly expressed their resentment where their letters testimonial had been treated with disrespect. In the margin are short rubrics to each letter; these, says Nasmith, I have copied, and added such further particulars as I could gather from a perusal of the letters.

The arms are arranged in two rows, after those of the king, which stand at the top, the bishops and abbots in one row and the temporal peers in the other, with the exception of the Cardinal Archbishop of York and the Bishop of Durham, whose arms head the temporal column. There are 11 bishops and 12 abbots and 22 temporal peers. The arms are beautifully emblazoned. At the top is written in a contemporary hand, 'in A^o vi. Parleamentum.' On a piece of parchment attached to the top is written, 'Ex dono Roberti Lloyd de Cheame in Agro Surriensi. Aul. Pemb. Soc. 1702.'

A middle-sized folio sheet of letter-paper, the 1st page apparently in a hand older than the remaining two, which have been probably added by a commentator, who in addition to fresh matter has appended remarks on the 1st page: the date of the 1st page may be ascribed to the beginning of the xviith century, that of the other to a few years later.

Its title is: 'That the professors of the comon lawes oughte not bee excluded from practysinge in cases of honor.'

22. Middle-sized folio paper copy in Latin of the Judgement of the Lord High Marshall, in a suit between Francis Warner, of Parham, in the county of Suffolk, and John Lynch and others, of

b. '28 January, 1585. Extract of the Letters written to the Scot: Qu: deciphered.'

This latter date is that of the third extract or rather abstract, and is part of its endorsement: the two former letters also belong to the year 1585.

35. Inventory of Letters and State-papers, chiefly relating to the Queen of Scots.

On six leaves written in a formal hand of the period to which the documents described belong. The portion of the inventory headed,

'M^r Beales Negotiation Nouember 1581.' contains a list of 13 articles, his Instructions and letters.

36. 'These are the wordes y^t I remember were betwixt the King and the Q. in Glasco, when she took him awaye to Edinbro.'

This heading is on what is now the fourth page: the report occupies this and the next two pages and is continued on p. 1, ending on p. 2; the rest of p. 2 contains an imperfect account of 'The wordes y^t the king spake vnto me at his departing forthe of Glasco.' On p. 3. 'These are the wordes y^t were betwixt the Q. and me hye the waye as she came to Glasco to feteche the Kinge when my Q. my missez sent me to shoue her the cause whye he cam not to mete her himselfe.' A pen has been drawn through the first line of this heading, and above is written, 'The wordes betwixt the Q. and Thomas Craford(?)' There are many alterations in apparently the same handwriting as the rest: it is bad enough to be Lord Burleigh's.

In a small hand on p. 3 is the endorsement, 'The words betwixt the Q. and Thomas.' See Hume's History, &c. Vol. v. note L. (8vo. 1826).

37. A petition in Latin, signed 'Le Sauuage, Minister,' to the ABp of Canterbury.

'A brief note of the chief and principall poinets &c.' printed by Hugh Campbell at p. 23 of Appendix to Love-Letters of Mary Queen of Scots (ed. 1825) differs in form more than in substance from this which begins with,

'The first. The alienation of her mynd frome him, the greate hatred manifestlie shewed against...'

This point and the next are under the heading 'Antecedentia,' the third under 'Adjuncta,' and the two last under 'Sequentia,' with brief abstracts in Latin in the margins. After these follow 'All these and manie other by them alleged probant eam participem et consortem fuisse necis mariti sui,' and a paragraph, 'A^o domini 1348. Quemadmodum olim Joanne regine Neapolitane...armis prosequeretur.' 'Scotica tragoedia.'

The initial words 'Innocentius ep̄s servus . . . Priori et conventui monasterii Sancti Andree Northampton . . .' indicate that in form the deed is a PAPAL BULL, though in Nasmith's opinion, it was never completed. It relates to a dispute respecting the advowson of Sywell.

'Actum Lugdun. a. d. MCC.L. XIII kal Oct. 8 Innocent. IV,' occurs before the names of the witnesses, after which is the Papal scribe's malediction, 'Dat. Lugd. v kal. Nou. 8^o Pontif. nri.' Two seals are mentioned, but a loop of red and yellow twist only remains.

The copier however, Myles Blomefylde, thought highly of the work and of its author, who was a native of Bury St Edmund's, and late parson of 'Seynt Simon and Judes in Norwich,' where he had been much troubled by 'your highnes husbondes informers and promoters,' on account of his Exercises, and by 'crewel papistes.' καὶ ἕξεις ἀδιασφάλτους τὰς μεθόδους.

Five pages.

Part of this in the original MS. was a repetition of the margin of § III.; the variations are there collated, and the passages common to both omitted here.

In the Benedictine Analect. Græc. (Lutet. Paris, 1683) are to be found 'Excerpta ex Herone Geometra de Mensuris,' with the following preface, 'Heronis Geometria integra habetur in Codice Regio 2724, Quam quidem totam edere præsentis non est instituti, quod longiuscula sit, et ad volumen integrum conficiendum sola sufficiat.' Only a very little in the few scraps of the author that follow is to be found in the MS., which would accordingly appear to be a selection made on a different principle.

V. Εὐκλείδου Εὐθυμετρικὰ.

Begins:

Τῶν εὐθυμετρικῶν διαστημάτων.

Ends:

ἔχει ὁ στερεὸς πούς.

(Apparently mutilated.) Five pages.

VI. Βιβλίον πρῶτον.

Τὰ διαφόροις τῶν παλαιῶν περί τε γεωργίας καὶ ἐπιμελείας φυτῶν &c. et sic quæ sequuntur ad finem MS. Γεωπονικὰ Constantino Cæsari vulgo attributa (omissa prefatione quæ precedit librum Γεωπονικῶν); these latter words in a later hand.

The whole MS. seems to have been carelessly copied; but the paging of the original MS. is noted in the margin.

10. On 8 small leaves of paper, written with faint ink, and with fainter rubrics, is a fragment of Μαξίμου μοναχοῦ ἐξήγησις περὶ τοῦ πάσχα.

The fragment is the portion printed in Uranologion, D. Petavii (Fol. Lutet. Par. 1630,) pp. 317—326. vi.—xviii. It is followed by 2 leaves, containing 4 tables, in each of which the months are given with Latin names in Greek characters.

11. An 8vo. on paper, 8 pages of 21 lines each, with good margins, writing of about the xvth century, with emendations in a different hand. Apparently the remainder of the MS., of part of which § 9 is a copy.

Begins in red,

‘ἀρχὴ σὺν θῶ τοῦ γεηπονικοῦ βιβλίου.’

In black,

‘πολλοῖς μὲν καὶ ἄλλοις βασιλεῦσι.’ κ.τ.λ.

The preface referred to in the conclusion of the preceding MS.

There follow eight chapters, nearly, about one line of the 8th being wanting; the last page ends with στρατοπέδων κήσεις.

The book has been edited anonymously at Basle, 1539, 12mo; also by Pet. Needham, Coll. D. Joh. Cant. Soc. 3vo. 1704, who has collated this MS.; and, finally, by Niclas, 2 vols. 8vo. Leipsic. The last two editions with a later version.

The question of the name and date of the author, &c. are discussed very fully, but without any very certain conclusion, in the prolegomena to these editions, and by Fabricius, Bibl. Græc. Vol. viii. 16—23. The MS. has suffered corrections and annotations both marginal and interlinear. One requires remark: viz. in the passage in the preface, 'ἄλλ' εὐτυχοῖς ὃ δικαιώ-τατε δίσποτα κωνσταντίνε τὸ τέρπνον τῆς πορφύρας ἀπάνθισμα, where the marginal note is: 'Constantinum IV. Pogonatum alloquitur (circum ann. 670.' Needham bases an argument on the passage, and is followed by others; but the word κωνσταντίνε is written over an erasure, and apparently by another hand. There is an apparent connexion between this MS. and that marked 'G' in Niclas' edition, as if that were copied from this by one who read the characters incorrectly.

Dd. III. 87.

A Volume of TRACTS.

1. Debates in the House of Commons, 1680, on the Exclusion Bill.

The particulars are the following:

On pp. 1—10. The speeches of Lord Lovelace, M^r Boscowing, S^r William Jones, Coll^r Titus.

On pp. 11—17. The proceedings of the House on Nov. 16th, 1680, and Nov. 17, with the speeches on the latter day of Sir Nicholas Cary, Sir William Jones, Lorey Hide, M^r Hamblen, M^r Herboard, Sir Edward Dearing, S^r Thomas Player, M^r Vernon, Coll^r Titus, Lord Russell, S^r Henry Capell, Sir Francis Warrington, Sir William Temple, M^r Deering, M^r Montague: respecting the Address to His Majesty.

On pp. 17—20 is an account of proceedings of 'November 15,' but the speech attributed to M^r Trenchard accords with that put into the mouth of M^r Powle in Parl. Hist. iv. p. 1227, during the debate, on Nov. 23, relating to the charge of Chief Justice Scroggs to the Grand Jury of Middlesex.

On pp. 20, 21. 'Severall Debates vpon the Articles reported by the Committee agst Sir W^m Scroggs.'

On pp. 22—25 is 'M^r Whartons Speech' on the 3rd reading of the Exclusion Bill, according to Parl. Hist. iv. p. 1206.

2. A small folio, on paper, in a very modern hand, perhaps as late as the XVIIIth century, containing 10 leaves, the last of which is blank, each page containing about 45 lines.

M. T. CICERONIS SYNONYMA. 'Ex Cod. Lat. MS. n. 138. Arundel.'

The first words of the MS. are

C. Jan Victorino suo salutem dicit. Collegi ea quæ pluribus modis dicerentur, quo uberius promptiorque esset oratio.

Ends with the words

Vitare : declinare, fugere.

The colophon supplies the title.

For an account of this Lexicon and the editions of it, see Fabricius, Bibl. Lat. Vol. I. p. 214 (Ed. Ern.): in the edition of Ascensius the epistle is inscribed, 'Cicero Lucio Venturio salutem:' and the production has been frequently ascribed to Cicero. The Arundel MS. itself commences (according to Cat. MSS. Bibl. Arund. p. 34) with the words 'Cicero Victorino suo.'

3. 'At Whitehall the 6. of July, 1616,' precedes the list of those present, which forms the heading to the Account of what occurred at the Council, concerning Commendams.

For the substance of this MS. see Carte, iv. pp. 35—9. Compare § 5.

4. A quarto, on parchment, containing 38 ff., with 42 lines in each page. Date, the XVth century.

EXPOSITIO SEQUENTIARUM SECUNDUM USUM SARUM.

Begins (f. 1 a):

[S]alus eterna indeficiens mundi vita...

Ends (f. 38 a):

Explicit bonus tractatus super Sequencias. Amen.

This has been printed by Julianus Notarius, London, 1510, at the end of the volume entitled 'Expositio Hymnorum totius anni secundum usum Sarum.' The MS. differs slightly from the printed book.

5. A folio, written on paper, in an obscure and in places illegible hand, a Law Tract, entitled the 'Comendum (sic) Case, xxiii^o. Oct. 1616,' or more properly

'Notes of Baron Bromley's Arguments in the Exchequer Chamber.'

It contains 6 folios, written on both sides, 34 lines to the page, terminating abruptly, as though the remainder were lost.

The case itself, 'Coult and Glover v. Bishop of Litchfield and Coventry,' is reported at length in Hobart's Reports and in Rolle's Reports.

6. On twelve pages folio, written in a small law-hand, are Extracts from Charters granted to the city of London.

The first extract is from the Charter of William I. to the city of London. The last is 'Nota pro prisus vini,' from the Articles in the Charters of Hen. VI. and Edw. IV. They appear to have been made for the preparation of a new charter.

7. Fol. pp. 27. 'Wraynham's Case: or a Vindication of the Lord Chancellor Bacon,' is the title to a tract 'first published from the Original Manuscript,' in London, 1725. This MS. appears to be a transcript from the Original, and to have been corrected in some places: it differs from the printed copy in wanting the title and the surnames of some of the judges.

8. Fol. pp. 4. Address before the right honorable and worthy lords of the Exchequer (?) by the Recorder (Sir H. Montague?) in the name of the city of London, on presenting a Lord Mayor.

It begins:

Such as behold the face of the sunne see in the body of that great light a beautie deserving love and meruile...making them filios Auroræ, sonnes of the mourninge...

And ends with the wish, that every day may come crowned and glorious with some fresh or flourishing new felicitie.

This copy has a few lacunæ: one is for the name of the L. Mayor.

9. On 8 ff. 'Notes of the King's speech in the higher house of Parliam^t. 19 February, 1623.'

This differs but very slightly from that given in Parl. Hist. Vol. I. 1373. After this on 2 ff. follows the speech of the Lord Keeper, appointing Saturday for the Commons to choose a speaker.

After some blank leaves follow

10. 'Notes of his Ma^{ties} speech in the higher house of Parliam^t. 29^o Maij, 1624.'

This is more complete, especially in what relates to grievances, than the report given in Parl. Hist. i. p. 1501, where it is stated that 'This speech is most miserably curtail'd in Rushworth; nor is it entered at all in the Journals, or elsewhere in the printed historians. We have recovered it from an old Manuscript Collection of Parliamentary Proceedings, in this and the next reigns, communicated by Sir John Napier, of Bedfordshire, Bart.'

Then follow what seem to be his Majesty's Answers to each bill read by the Clerk of Parliament. (See Lords' Journals, 21 Jacobi.)

(a) 'Concerning the Act for the Saboth,' upon which the King puts his veto. It appears to have been the same as 1 Car. I. c. 1.

(b) 'Concerning the Act of Recusants,' upon which the King puts his veto, after declaring his zeal against the papists.

(c) 'Concerning the Burgesses of Durham,' upon which the K. puts his veto.

(d) 'Against Supersedeas and Certioraries to remove Indictments before Justices of the peace...' 'His Majesty lett it passe.' 21 Jac. I. c. 8.

(e) 'Against Concealments.' It is spoken of by the K. as laying a burthen upon Lord Carew now employed in France, c. 2.

(f) 'For the naturalisation of Jacobson,' the King's jeweller, deferred till the next session.

(g) 'Concerning the passing of York house to the Duke of Buckingham,' c. 30.

(h) 'Concerning an Act to make my Lord Treasurers lands lyable to the payment of debts.' In his speech the K. threatens every one who 'complaynes to Parliament except he first seek leave of me;' is content to pass the bill under protest, 'reserving his right to determine the amount of the Treasurer's guilt.'

(i) 'Concerning the easie passing of Licenses of Alienations.' This Act is to be 'stayed till next session:' see 1 Car. I. c. 3.

(j) 'An Act for three subsidies and three fifteenths.' 21 Jacobi I. c. 34.

(k) 'An Act for his Ma^{ties} most gracious and free pardon.' c. 35.

In his speech dismissing Parliament the K. exhorts them all to consider the good of the kingdom, in particular the Bishops to 'be careful on both sides against papists and puritans,' alludes to 'complaints about the decorations of the churches,' commends the Bishop of Norwich. 'And seee I leave you for this time.'

11. Fol. pp. 7. 'Notes of y^e Lo. Ch. Justice Crews speech, sworn Ch. Justice the 27 January, 1624.'

Four 4to pages in shorthand follow: at the top of the first is the date 27 Jan. 1624; on the first page also occur the quotations, 'Non querendum quem eligere sed, &c.,' and 'Non prætori Catonem sed Catoni prætorem ducem fero,' above the corresponding symbols.

12. Fol. pp. 3. The King's Speech at the opening of Parliament, 1625.

There are many erasures and corrections, which give it the appearance of being a rough draught of that printed in the Lords' Journals.

13. Fol. pp. 10. 'Sir John Ellyott's Speech.'

This is the inscription at the beginning and end of this speech, which is ascribed, in Parl. Hist. ii. p. 14, to Sir Robert Cotton, being taken from his Posthumous Works, published by Mr Howell, anno 1651.

14. A decree in the case of the advowson of North Cadbury, 'Whether Baron Ewens or the Colledg (Emanuel) ought to have the advowson.'

15. Fol. p. 1. 'A Coppie of a Commission granted to my Lo. Hais and Sr Tho. Edmonds, to treat of and conclud a marriage betweene Prince Charles and Christian 2 daughter of Fraunce.'

The Commission, dated 8 June, 1616, is printed in Rymer, Fœdera, xvi. 788.

16. A Report of the Duke of Buckingham's Negotiations in Spain.

One point of difference between this and the accounts given in the Lords' Journals, and by Rymer, Fœdera, xvii. p. 552, from which two that in the Parl. Hist. is compiled, is that the MS. report of the Duke's proceedings is in the first person, and in this respect it differs also from the reports given by Rushworth and others.

It is imperfect, commencing with, 'being persuaded they could saye nothing to me which I had not heard before:' the ensuing paragraph corresponds to Rymer, p. 561.

It also differs from the printed accounts in the arrangement of the various letters: some of which are curtailed, and others are entirely omitted; but it contains the principal details of the proceedings in Parliament to March 1. It next gives the Memorial presented by both Houses, and the Answer returned by the King 'on Palme Sunday 21^o Martii 1623 at Whitehall.' For the report of these which the Lord Keeper made to Parliament, see Lords' Journals, March 24.

17. pp. 5. A copy of a speech to 'My Lords,' by one who makes abject submission to the King.

He had been 7 years in the King's service, and in high favour; but was now 'a prisoner unto justice.'

18. pp. 10. Sir W. Raleigh's last speech.

It begins:

'I was yesterday taken out of my bedd in a strong fit of a fever which much weakened me, and whose untimeliness forbearinge no occasion nor place I likewise expect to-day.'

It then proceeds in nearly the same words as the report in his Life by Wm. Oldys (fol. 1736, and reprinted in Works of Sir W. R. Oxf. 1829, Vol. i. pp. 558—563), giving his concluding words more at length, and the circumstances of his death less in detail; see also that given in the Appendix, Vol. viii. of Works.

19. pp. 8. 'Noctes Templariæ. A Briefe Chronicle of the darke Raigne of the bright Prince of burning Love.'

See Pearce's History of the Inns of Court, &c. 8vo. 1848; also D'Israeli, Curiosities of Literature—Saturnalia.

On the waste leaf are mottoes for sergeants' rings.

20. A small quarto, on parchment, of 25 leaves, in good preservation generally, but not continuous.

Four blank folios intervene between this and the 2nd part, which comprises the Statutes of Henry VI.'s reign, in the same language and hand; it contains 63 folios, with the same number of lines in each, written on both sides; all but the last 8 folios are in good preservation, the last two pages are illegible.

The first three leaves contain prayers and ascriptions of praise to the Virgin Mary, on the day of the Annunciation (v. f. 4a); the last leaf is filled with humble congratulations to Queen Mary and rejoicings in the prospect of royal issue from her.

The date is probably 1638, when Mary Beatrice was pregnant. A single 12mo leaf follows containing a number of names with addresses in an xviiith century hand.

13. A quarto paper tract containing 6 pages, written on both sides in a good running hand of about the time of the affair referred to in it:

A paper book, in quarto, containing 52 leaves, written in a clear hand of the xviiith century, containing

‘REMARQUES SUR LA FRANCE.’

It begins :

Il semble que ceste Monarchie tienne de l'Aristocratie et populaire en apparence ; mais elle n'en tient qu'en apparence seulement...

It concludes with a statement on 10 leaves respecting,

‘Estat General des pensions, que le Roy entend estre payées A Messieurs les princes, Seigneurs Ecclesiastiques, Gentilshommes officiers de sa Ma^{te} et à Messieurs du conseil d'estat et des finances et autres, pour l'année 1614.’

Dd. iv. 16.

A small quarto, on paper, in good preservation, consisting of 327 leaves, paged, written in a neat small cursive hand, the initial lines of treatises, and initial letters of paragraphs, being rubricated in the earlier part of the volume.

The MS. seems to be written by different hands, although much resembling each other. The MS. is entirely Greek, except the letter of N. Saguntinus, which is in Latin. The number of lines in each page varies from 23 to 29. It was written at Florence, A. D. 1441, and probably belonged to Nicholas of Saguntum, the Pope's secretary (see below, fol. 323 b). It must afterwards have had a French owner, as appears by the words written inside the old vellum cover, ‘Receuil. Gemisti et quædam alia.’

On a fly leaf at the beginning are the words, 'Late B^p. of Ely's MSS. [i. e. Bishop More]: lent to M^r Dechaire for M^r Pearse of Edmund Hall.'

At the heading are the words, $\overline{\text{IS}} + \text{XS}$.

1. 'τοῦ σοφωτάτου καὶ λογιωτάτου κυρίου Γεωργίου τοῦ Γεμιστοῦ περὶ ἀρετῶν.' fol. 1.

Begins:

ἀρετὴ ἐστὶν ἕξις.

On fol. 6 is a diagram representing the arrangement of virtues (τάξις ἀρετῶν): it is given also in printed editions of this treatise.

2. 'Ἀριστοτέλους περὶ ἀρετῶν.' fol. 6.

Begins:

ἐπαινετὰ μὲν εἰσὶ (sic) τὰ καλὰ.

This treatise ends in Weise's edition (p. 915) with the words: τῆς δὲ κακίας ἐστὶ τὰ ἐναντία: but this MS. has τὰ ἐναντία ταύτη' ἅπαντα δὲ τῆς κακίας καὶ τὰ παρακολοθοῦντα αὐτῇ τῶν ψεγομένων ἐστίν: the present MS. also differs from Weise in several other instances.

3. 'Ἀριστοτέλους ὄροι ἀρετῶν καὶ κακιῶν ἀπὸ τῶν ἠθικῶν.' fol. 8 b.

Consists of extracts from the Nicomachean Ethics a little altered, as may be seen by comparing the opening sentence with Book II. c. 6, § 15, and § 3.

4. 'ῥητὰ τινὰ ἀναγκαῖα καὶ χρήσιμα ἐκληφθέντα κατ' ἐκλογὴν ἀπὸ τινῶν τῶν Ἀριστοτέλους πραγματειῶν, ὡς ἐφ' ἐκάστοις διασαφηθῆσεται. ἐλήφθη δὲ τὰ μὲν διὰ τὰς ἐννοίας, τὰ δὲ διὰ τὴν λέξιν.' fol. 11.

Consists of brief extracts from the treatises περὶ ἠθικῶν and περὶ ψυχῆς. The opening sentence is taken from Eth. I. 4, § 5: ἀρκτέον μὲν γὰρ ἀπὸ τῶν γνωριμωτέρων, κ. τ. λ.

5. 'Εὐριπίδου.' [Hecuba, 306—308]. fol. 16.

ἐν τούτῳ (τῷδε) γὰρ κάμνουσι, κ. τ. λ.

6. 'ἀρχὴ τοῦ ᾱ τῶν εἰς (?) περὶ οὐρανοῦ.' fol. 16 b.

Contains the commencement of c. 1, of the treatise of Aristotle De Cælo, ending with the words τοῦτο δ' ἐστὶ πάν. (p. 127, Weise.)

7. 'ἀρχὴ τοῦ ἄ τῶν ἠθικῶν.' fol. 17.

Extracts at greater or less length from all the Books of the Ethics follow.

8. 'ἐκ τοῦ ἄ τῶν τριῶν τῆς ῥητορικῆς Ἀριστοτέλους βιβλίων.' fol. 62.

Similar extracts from the Rhetoric.

9. A COLLECTION OF SPURIOUS EPISTLES OF BRUTUS, EURIPIDES, &c. fol. 72.

Contains the prefatory letter of Μιθριδάτης βασιλεὺς Μιθριδάτει τῷ ἀνεψίῳ in praise of the Epistles of Brutus. (See Bentley, Dissert. on Phalaris, i. p. 33, ed. Dyce.) The prefatory letter of Mithridates, the letters of Brutus and the replies to them from the Lycians, Milesians, &c. amount to 70, and are contained in the Aldine collection, but are differently arranged, and exhibit in two instances different titles (besides many various readings); the two epistles which in the Aldine collection are headed as relating to the Βίθυνοι, being here said to relate to the Γάλλιοι. The five letters of Euripides are the same as in the printed editions.

10. 'Ἀριστοτέλους ἐν τῷ περὶ κόσμου πρὸς Ἀλέξανδρον.' fol. 87.

The extract contains the last half of the last chapter de Mundo, beginning with the words οἶμαι δὲ καὶ τὴν ἀνάγκην, p. 347 (Weise).

On fol. 87 b. are four unspecified extracts from Aristotle. The first occurs in the fragment περὶ σημείων (p. 979, Weise): the other three will be found in the work entitled De Mirabilibus, § 170, § 48, and § 95 (pp. 1000, 993, 995, ed. Weise), respectively.

11. 'τοῦ ἐν ἀγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν Βασιλείου ἀρχιεπισκόπου Καισαρείας Καππαδοκίας τοῦ μεγαλοῦ λόγος πρὸς τοὺς νέους, πῶς ἂν ἐξ Ἑλληνικῶν ὠφελοῦντο λόγων.' fol. 88.

Begins:

πολλά με τὰ παρακαλοῦντα.

Ends:

ὁ μὴ πάθουτε νῦν ἡμεῖς τοὺς ὀρθῶς ἔχοντας τῶν λόγων ἀποφεύγοντες.

Ed. Bened. t. ii. pp. 173—185, where the last sentence is differently read.

12. An anonymous life of Homer, fol. 98, b.

Begins:

Ὅμηρος ὁ ποιητῆς υἱὸς ἦν κατὰ μὲν τινὰς Μάρωνος (sic) καὶ Ὑρμηθοῦς, κ. τ. λ.

Ends :

τινές δὲ προστιθέασιν αὐτῷ καὶ παιγνία τινα, Μαργίτην, καὶ βατραχομομαχίαν.

This life agrees substantially with the Γένος 'Ομήρου, published by Westermann (Biographiæ, pp. 27, 28), and others, but is longer than his text, agreeing very nearly with the MSS. R and M, whose readings are cited in his notes.

13. 'Ἀριστοτέλους ἐκ τῆς πρὸς Ἀλέξανδρον ῥητορικῆς ἐν τῷ τέλει.' fol. 99.

Begins with the words χρῆ δὲ καὶ τὴν ἐπιμέλειαν, cap. 38, § 2, p. 934, (ed. Weise,) and proceeds to the end. The concluding part which Weise brackets occurs in this MS. This treatise is now considered to be the work of Anaximenes. See Spengel's Rhetores Græci, Vol. I.

14. 'ἐκ τοῦ γ τῶν περὶ ῥητορικῆς Ἀριστοτέλους.' fol. 101.
Begins, Rhet. Lib. II. (not III.) c. 4, med.:

φιλοῦσι δὲ μάλιστα πάντες τοὺς τε ὁμοίους καὶ ταῦτὰ ἐπιτηδεύοντας, κ. τ. λ.

Then follow various citations from the Rhetoric, to the end of fol. 110. The last citation, ἀρχὴ τοῦ γ τῶν περὶ ῥητορικῆς, being the beginning of the second Book as it now stands.

15. Three letters of Aristotle, fol. 111.

The first is entitled Ἀριστοτέλης Ὀλυμπιάδι, beginning :

ἀποδέχομαι τὴν σὴν πρόνοιαν τοῦ συμφέροντος.

And ending :

τὰ δ' ἄλλα προνοῦ τοῦ συμφέροντος.

This letter is not printed in Weise's edition ; but among the catalogue of his letters and other works, which is given by Diogenes Laertius, we have πρὸς Ὀλυμπιάδα Α'. The present letter is contained in the Aldine Collection of Greek Epistles, but is there ascribed, not to Aristotle, but to Philip ; the other two, Ἀλέξανδρος Ἀριστοτέλει, and Ἀριστοτέλης Ἀλεξάνδρῳ βασιλεῖ are given at p. 1013 of Weise's edition.

16. 'ἐκ τοῦ β τῶν περὶ ῥητορικῆς Ἀριστοτέλους.' fol. 111 b.

i. e. Rhet. Lib. I. c. 10. (πάντες δὲ πράττουσι...ἐπιθυμίαν.)

17. 'Ξενοφῶντος εἰς Ἀγησίλαον ἐγκώμιον.' fol. 112.

Contains the entire treatise.

18. 'ἐκ τῶν εἰς γ' (?) τοῦ ᾧ ῥητορικῆς τέχνης Ἀριστοτέλους. ἀρχή.' fol. 129 b.

Begins with Rhet. Lib. i. c. 1. (init.) and ends with the words τοῦτο ποιήσει στρεβλόν, in the same chapter.

19. A grammatical work, the latter part of which consists of a Lexicon, fol. 129 b.

Begins :

ὅτι κατὰ ἐπτὰ τρόπους ἐξηγεῖσθαι δεῖ τὰ τῶν ῥητόρων κατ' ἀλληγορίαν, ὅτε ἔξωθεν παρὰ τὸ κείμενον ἕτερόν τι νοούμενον ἐκ τοῦ κειμένου ἀγορεύσει ὁ διδάσκων καὶ ἐξηγούμενος· ἀλληγορία γὰρ λέγεται ἢ ἄλλο παρὰ τὸ κείμενον ἀγορεύουσα, κ.τ.λ.

It ends thus:

αἴγιρος : εἶδος δένδρου· ὠνομάσθη ἀπὸ τῆς ἐγέρσεως αὐτοῦ καὶ ἀναστάσεως.

This work is taken in whole or part from the Scholiasts on Homer. Some of the glosses (as ἀπέλεθρος and κόρη, for example,) occur almost verbatim in Cramer Anecd. Gr. Paris, T. III. pp. 208, 203.

20. 'Γεωργίου τοῦ Γεμιστοῦ κατὰ τινων τοῦ Ἀριστοτέλους λέξεων καὶ ὑπὲρ Πλάτωνος.' fol. 132.

This treatise has been several times edited; but the title sometimes given is περὶ ὧν Ἀριστοτέλης πρὸς Πλάτωνα διαφέρει: the opening words of the tract are, οἱ μὲν ἡμῶν παλαιότεροι καὶ Ἑλλήνων καὶ Ῥωμαίων, κ.τ.λ.

21. 'τοῦ αὐτοῦ Γεωργίου τοῦ Γεμιστοῦ πρὸς τὰς τοῦ Σχολαρίου ὑπὲρ Ἀριστοτέλους ἀντιλήψεις.' fol. 146 b.

Commences with an extract from Scholarius (i. e. Gennadius), ἐπεὶ τὸ βιβλίον τῶν κατ' Ἀριστοτέλους βλασφημιῶν καὶ εἰς ἡμᾶς ὀψὲ περιήλθεν, κ.τ.λ.

This treatise of Gemistus does not appear to have been printed. R. Gery (Appendix to Cave, Hist. Lit. p. 142,) says: Utrum unquam prelo exierit non comperi.

22. 'Μάρκου Τουλλίου Κικέρωνος ἀπὸ τῶν ῥητορικῶν αὐτοῦ περὶ τεχνικῆς μνήμης εἰς Ἑλλάδα φωνὴν ἀκριβῶς μετενεχθέν.' fol. 178.

Consists of a Greek version of Lib. III. ad Herennium, beginning, 'Memoriae utrum habeat quidquam artificiosi,' &c. (c. 16. Ernesti); ending with, 'hoc modo et testium et hæreditatis et veneno necati memoriam habere poterimus' (c. 20).

The first words of the version are :

περὶ μνήμης πότερον ἔχει τι τέχνης τε καὶ τριβῆς ἢ τὸ πᾶν αὐτῆς ἐκ φύσεως πρόεσι, καιρὸς ἕτερος προσήκων εἰ πᾶν ὀρισθήσεται.

The author concludes with an account of his own part as a translator (fol. 180 b). He is, without doubt, Maximus Planudes; see Engelmann's Bibl. Script. Class. p. 166.

23. 'ἀπὸ φωνῆς Θεοδώρου.' fol. 180 b.

Begins :

ὅτι ἡ ψυχὴ ὄλη ἐν ὄλῳ τῷ σώματι καὶ ὄλη ἐν ἐκάστῳ τῶν μερῶν.

A short fragment of Theodorus (Asinæus?) on the nature of the soul, taken down virâ voce (ἀπὸ φωνῆς), consisting of 8 lines, printed in the Cambridge Journal of Classical and Sacred Philology, Vol. I. p. 133.

24. 'περὶ βασκανίας.' fol. 181.

It begins :

ὁ περικεχυμένος οὖτος ἀῆρ δι' ὀφθαλμῶν τε καὶ ῥινῶν ἄσθματος καὶ τῶν ἄλλων πόρων εἰς τὰ βάθη δυκνούμενος, κ.τ.λ.

And ends :

οὐχ ὁ μόνον βούλονται δρῶσιν, ἀλλὰ καὶ ὁ πεφύκασιν.

Taken with some alterations from Heliodorus (Ethiop. Lib. III. p. 140—142. Ed. Bourd.).

25. An anonymous grammatical treatise, or rather farrago without title, taken partly from Porphyry, consisting partly of a Lexicon. fol. 181 b.

It begins :

ὁ ἀλλὰ συνδεσμός ἐνίστε μὲν συμπλεκτικός καὶ λέγεται ἐπὶ ἀναιρέσει ἐνὸς καὶ συστάσει ἐτέρου, οἷον οὐκ ἔστι τόδε ἀλλὰ τόδε*, κ.τ.λ.

And ends :

καὶ τίθεται αὐτῷ (Πολυδεύκη) αἴρεσιν ὀπότερον ἂν ἐθέλοι ἐλεῖσθαι, ἀθάνατος εἶναι ἢ σὺν τῷ ἀδελφῷ τὸ ἥμισυ τοῦ ἐνιαυτοῦ θανόντα διάγειν, τὸ δ' ἥμισυ ζῆν μετ' αὐτοῦ· ὁ δὲ αἰρεῖται τὸ δεύτερον.

At the top of fol. 187 is written in red, ΠΟΡΦΥΡΙΟΥ. The extract commences :

Κυπρὶς τὸ ἐπίθετον Ἀφροδίτης ὁ οὐκ ἐνόησαν οἱ πρὸ ἡμῶν τί σημαίνει.

* This passage occurs in the Scholia on Sophocles Electra, v. 879 (p. 265, Ed. Dindorf), including the citation ἀλλὰ τὰς πινακίδας from Synesius: it is also found in the Anecdota Barocciana, published in the Camb. Phil. Mus. Vol. II. p. 431.

The whole passage is contained in Bekker's Scholia on Il. ε. v. 422, from two MSS. (B, D). In this work are various Homeric ἐπιζητήματα; and citations from Homer, Hesiod, Pindar, Hellenicus, Euripides, Plato, Euphorion, Herodian, Ælian, Zoilus Ephesius, and others. A Scholiast on Homer, published by Cramer (Vol. III. of Anecd. Paris. Cod. 2679) has some remarks agreeing almost verbatim.

26. 'Ἀριστοτέλους ῥητορικὴ πρὸς Ἀλέξανδρον.' fol. 192.

Me gardez cors e alme de mal e dencübrer fetes moy tre duz sire ton fin aver
e par vostre grace de enfern eschaper

The first 12 leaves consist of illuminations, viz. St Ambrose with St Monica, SS. Katharine and Margaret, St George, St Christopher, the Annunciation, the Nativity, the Resurrection, the Ascension, Coronation of the blessed Virgin, the Saviour enthroned with the emblems of the four Evangelists, a Madonna with the Child fully draped, and the Crucifixion with the blessed Virgin and St John. On the reverse of fol. 12 is a rude ink-drawing of St John Baptist with the Lamb.

The next 6 leaves contain the Kalendar, each page containing at the side a representation of the month, and below the corresponding sign of the Zodiack.

The Hours then begin as usual, Domine labia mea aperies, with an illumination of the Madonna enthroned, with a fully draped Child standing, and a female figure kneeling below.

On the recto of f. 68 commence Les Matines del Saint Esprit : these are followed, f. 75 b, with a 'remembrance' of the three 'pities' of our Lord, and hymns and prayers to St John and our Lady, in French, in a different hand; f. 78 is occupied with directions, also in French, for one in tribulation, in a third hand. The original hand recommences f. 79, with the seven Penitential Psalms, the initial letter containing an illumination of our Lord enthroned, followed by the Litany and the fifteen Psalms.

ff. 95, 96, have been lost, and replaced by a later hand.

In f. 101 begins the Officium Defunctorum, and the volume ends, f. 135 b, with the prayer, Animabus quæsumus Domine, &c.

The rubrics throughout are in French, and the borders contain grotesque animals with human heads.

The Psalter begins f. 2, after the preface, and is headed, 'Psalterium glossatum per sanctum Anselmum.' The gloss is the ordinary gloss attributed to Walafrid Strabo and Anselm of Laon, and first printed in the edition of the Vulgate, in 4 folio volumes, at Venice, about 1480. The initial letters are alternately green and red. The Psalter ends f. 147 b, and the Canticles occupy from ff. 148 to 155.

At the end, f. 155 b, are two sequences in a later hand, the first beginning, 'Unus est in Trinitate trinus est in unitate Deus creans omnia...'; the second is King Robert's 'Veni sancte Spiritus et emitte cœlitus lucis tuæ radium.' On this page is also written the name Johannes Church.

1. (ff. 1—150 b). INCIPIT LIBER ARISTOTELIS DE NATURA ANIMALIUM QUEM TRANSTULIT MAGISTER MICHAEL SCOTUS DE GRÆCO IN LATINUM ET...

The volume consists of a translation of various works of Aristotle on animals, and is divided into 19 tracts, the last of which wants one leaf. The first ten books comprise the De Historia Animalium: the next four the De Partibus Animalium, and the last five the De Generatione Animalium; but not always according with the modern divisions of the Greek text.

The first tract contains all Aristotle's first book of the περὶ ζώων ιστορίας. (Quaedam partes corporum animalium dicuntur incomposite, &c.) and goes on to the end of the tenth chapter of the second book (et narravimus diversitatem quæ est inter illos). The last words of the 19th tract now are, Et tauri præcipue sunt fortiorum nervorum et cordis. (περὶ ζώων γενέσεως. Lib. v. c. 7.)

Michael Scotus is mentioned in Casaubon's and Weise's editions of Aristotle as having commented on various works of that philosopher, but his translation of the books on animals is not noticed by them. Fabricius, however, mentions on Labbe's authority a MS. copy of his version of Aristotle's XIX. books on the History of Animals, made not from the Greek but from the Arabic. His remark, 'X. Græce tantum habemus,' is beside the mark. (Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. Vol. v. p. 234.)

2. (ff. 151—162).

A fragment of the 'LIBER DE SPIRITU ET ANIMA,' v. Aug. Opp. Par. 1837. Vol. vi. p. 1138.

The rubric is Augustinus de differentia Spiritus et Animæ.

est, id est, similem Deo. (Ed. Par. p. 1142 b.)

Between ff. 156 and 157 a leaf has been lost.

Ends (f. 162 a, 1):

aliud non sit quam ratio. (Ed. Par. p. 1172 A)

The MS. differs from the printed text.

The handwriting and form are the same as in § 1.

with occasional marginal references to the authorities for such remedies.
On the last page is an Index to the different Internal Disorders. Attributed

The first two chapters of B. vii. are in the MS. condensed into one, but such abbreviations are not frequent.

Dd. iv. 44.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing 36 leaves, with about 34 lines on a page, written in the early part of the xvth century.

A Collection of RECIPES and CHARMS for the diseases of horses.

It appears to be two or three treatises stitched together with several loose leaves appended.

The first treatise is of 16 leaves (two have been cut out), beginning in red letters, 'Here bygynneþ þe maladies þ' hors haveþ of here own kynde.' It closed originally with a recipe for 'a plastre to don away wickide fleisch,' with a charm ending, 'sy il beyt quit pur son chyual q sors estoyt,' but another hand has written in two more recipes.

The second treatise occupies not quite a page: 'Practica Willi Marescalli Prioris Mertonie de infirmitate equorum' [in red] Cryst hym self was y bore in bemergbyre in benyngbyre. Bedleem hit hijt.

Ends:

'by þe offryng of þes candels in þe worship of Seint Firmyn.'

Dd. iv. 45.

A small quarto, part paper, part parchment, 35 leaves, about 30 lines in each, written in the xvth century.

Various treatises on subjects connected with ALCHEMY and the Philosopher's stone.

1. 'ARNALDUS DE NOVA VILLA,' six and a half pages (paper).

Begins :

[M]ateria lapidis est res vilis pretii ubicunque reperitur que est aqua viscosa sive mercurius communis sicut extrahitur de minerâ.

Ends :

Non tangat latera scutellarum, et hic Finis et Deo gratias.

It is not to be found in the collected works of the author.

2. 'DECLARATIO LAPIDIS PHILOSOPHORUM PER AVICENNAM FILIO SUO,' 4 pages (paper).

Begins :

Fili mi Abbulhaly intellige quæ dicam tibi de cognitione lapidis.

Ends :

Colophon supplies, 'Explicit archanum Avicenne de philosophorum lapide.'

A treatise with the same name appears in the Theatrum Chemicum, Vol. iv. p. 375, the first part of which accords with this so nearly as to appear another translation of the same work. The correspondence however fails in the latter half of the MS., the remainder of the printed treatise being completely different from the MS. and much longer. The treatise in the Theat. Chemic. has been pronounced spurious (see Biographie Universelle, sub nom.), apparently on internal evidence.

3. Anonymous, seven and a half pages (paper), same handwriting as the preceding.

Begins :

Hic incipit tractatus optimus in quo exponit et apte declarat Plinius philosophus quis sit lapis Philosophicus.

Ends :

quod qui habent ipsam incomparabilem habent Thesaurum.

4. On the same subject, 'per Albertum,' two paper leaves, in handwriting and of paper different from the preceding.

Begins :

Aqua Mercurius et oleum sulphuris. Opus istud multis diebus abscondebatur. Circa quod primo principaliter est notandum quod Mercurius noster non est, &c.

Ends :

et ego Albertus dico quod sum expertus istas duas operationes, et quod non est aliud opus perfectum [a] me, nisi hec duo opera, et vera sunt et etiam Euclides et multi philosophi concordant mecum et dicunt, quod totum beneficium hujus artis in Mercurio et lunâ consistit, et in Mercurio et Sole, et scias quod omnia alia sunt vana et illusoria. Deo gratias.

5. Twenty-two pages, (paper) handwriting similar to the preceding.

A Collection of Diets of HERMES, ARISTOTLE, and others, on the subject of ALCHEMY, but the treatise itself does not extend into the last three pages.

Begins:

Hermes dicit quod Elixerium sine Mercurio stare non potest.

Concludes with the usual 'et Deo gratias.'

On the last three pages are written a few recipes, partly chemical, partly medical; one in English, the rest in Latin.

6. Eighteen pages, consisting of a preface and four chapters. At the end of the preface is written, 'Retropositis tamen loquelis ut improbi ab hâc scientiâ repellantur, ne videar coram porcis spargere margaritas. Et ut erit hic tractatus piis et justis artem virtuose querentibus Speculum veritatis. Et sicut operatio lapidis benedicti quadruplici partitur regimine, sic istum libellum quatuor destinguo capitulis.'

Begins:

Lapis Aquile cum naturâ preciosissimus, &c.

Ends:

Est cujus testis semor hoc secretum magnum Dei gloriosi soror prophete inpiratum a deo prophetis et electis suis in ipsum credentibus; cujus patri igitur sit honor et gloria in secula seculorum. Amen.

Colophon, Explicit tractatus magistri Johannis de Porta Claudorum, cujus cognomen quere in hoc libello et invenies.

Is the author John Dee, M.A. of Cripplegate, London?

7. Small quarto, in parchment, 18 pages of 30 lines, handwriting of the xvth century.

The Colophon gives the title (red),

'EXPLICIT TRACTATUS DE SERPENTE SUB COMPENDIO BREVILOQUII HOLKETTI.'

It purports to be an exposition of a treatise composed by Aristotle, and sent to Alexander, in an interval of peace. It was translated by order of Pope Honorius out of Hebrew into Latin by a certain Greek.

Begins :

Christi nomine invocato ad honorem proficientium in actibus naturæ, quia plerumque plures litteras philosophorum, &c.

Ends :

Hiis autem paucis dictis sufficit doctrina supradicta solide et sane intelligenti, et scimus quoniam diligentibus deum omnia cooperantur in bonum. Deo gratias.

8. A poem, on the same subject, without title, four pages of 29 lines each, metres varying, handwriting the same as the last treatise.

Begins :

Aske ye of þe clerkys that holden hem so wise
What is þe whete that moste be sawen in þe erth.

Ends :

Awise þe well er þou begynne
Or ellis litel shalt þou wyne.

There is now no title, but the author’s name is subscribed to the dedication, which is in Latin, and addressed to Dr Hardinge, President of Magdalen College (Oxford, 1607—1610): in it occurs the sentence, ‘Tu Moses alter me tanquam Calebium aut Josuam ad terram promissionis invisendam misisti: bona et fructuosa de ea refero.’ After the dedication it begins (p. 7):

The MS. differs slightly from the printed text. A leaf is missing between ff. 103 and 104.

Sermons 5—32 are 4—31 of Edition.

On f. 247 b, col. 2, are these notes:

Een ave Maria om Gods wil voerden sonner.

A long quarto, on paper; in good preservation. It consists of 204 numbered leaves, each page containing six lines of MUSIC on staves of five lines. Date of the writing about 1600.

On the second leaf is the following account of the MS. :

‘The gyfte of M^r Henry Bury clerke deceased; that branch of his last Will which concerneth this book is as followeth, viz. Item, my will is that my two song bookes, either of which containeth all M^r Waterhouse’ songs of 2 parts in one, upon the plaine song of Myserere about a 1000 waies, shall be given, the one of them to Oxforde and the other to Cambridge; whear I hope they shal be kept or published in print for the credit of Englishmen and for better preserving and continuing that wonderful work.’

Mr Bury's will seems to have been proved in 1636, but the MS. did not at once come into the possession of the University, as appears from the following note, added by the librarian of the time:

'I was chosen Librarie keeper anno 1629, but never saw this book till February 1, anno 1648, it being left in some forgetful hands; and at last by Sr Coppinger of St John's College sent unto me, Abraham Wheelock.'

The old Church-melody 'Miserere' is written at the head of each page on a stave of four lines; and between the two parts, forming each of the 1163 accompaniments, the words '2 parts in one' are written. This phrase is not used as in modern music, but indicates that the two parts between which it is placed are to be sung together as an accompaniment to the plain song.

On the last leaf there is a short list of errata.

Dd. iv. 61.

A paper book, in quarto, bound up with No. 237, written on 22 ff., in a neat hand of the xvith century.

'THE HISTORIE of ÆLIUS SEJANUS, collected out of Diverse Authors, and enriched with profitable and necessarie observations, by P. Mathiew.'

Printed at Paris, 1628, according to No. 235 of Oldys' Catalogue of Pamphlets in the Harleian Library appended to Harl. Miscel. Vol. x.

237

Dd. iv. 62.

A quarto, on paper, handwriting of the xvith century.

LAW COMMONPLACE BOOK, arranged alphabetically from 'Abeyance' to 'Waiver des Choses,' containing 378 numbered folios altogether, and consisting of two parts, the 2nd from folio 220 to folio 374 being an Appendix of omitted matter.

There is a table of contents at the beginning.

Dd. iv. 63.

A rather long octavo, on thick paper, consisting of 63 leaves, the first 8 of which are blank, the title excepted: the remainder of the MS. (unpaged) is written in a cursive character, abounding with contractions: each page contains about 40 lines. It probably belongs to the latter part of the xvth century.

1. HARPOCRATIONIS VOCABULARIUM.

This title is written on the first leaf and also on the reverse of the eighth leaf, but in a later hand than the MS.

Begins:

[^αΑ]βαρις· κύριον. fol. 9.

Ends:

ἐτιμᾶτο δὲ Ἀθήγησι καὶ ψίθυρος Ἀφροδίτη καὶ Ἔρως ψίθυρος. fol. 61 b.

This MS. agrees generally with the common text (i. e. as opposed to the MSS. D. E. of Bekker): its readings in particular agree with those of A. It has been partially collated by Mr C. B. Scott, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, for Prof. W. Dindorf's Edition (Oxf. 1853). It does not appear to contain many readings of interest or value; several omissions and instances of carelessness occur in it.

On the margin of this MS. are written in a pale yellow ink various important additions, which have been called by Sauppe, Lexicon Rhetoricum Cantabrigiense; they were edited by Prof. Dobree, as an appendix to Photius' Lexicon (Cambridge, 1822); and they are also inserted in Prof. Scholefield's Dobreei Adversaria. For an account of them, see his Pref. ad Phot. pp. x. xi. They have also been edited by Meier in 4to, Halæ, 1844.

2. AN ANONYMOUS TREATISE ON GREEK VERBS.

Begins:

τῶν ῥημάτων τὰ μὲν οὐδαμῇ μεταβαίνουσιν εἰς ἕτερον πρόσωπον τῶν λόγων τὴν σύνταξιν ἔχει, διὸ καὶ ἀμετάβαστα προσηγόρευται· οἷόν ἐστι τὸ ζῶ, πλουτῶ. fol. 61 b.

The last line seems to be as follows:

τελευτῶ· ἀντὶ τοῦ τέλους (sic) λαμβάνω· τελευτῶ δὲ. . . fol. 63 b.

This treatise is evidently the same as that of Maximus Planudes περὶ μεταβατικῶν καὶ ἀμεταβάτων ῥημάτων, which is mentioned by I. Bekker as occurring at the end of his MS. K. of Harpocration, and of which Harles (in Fabric. Bibl. Græc. Vol. vi. p. 349) has given a further account. It does not appear to have been published, and it seems to be of little or no value.

In the beginning of the MS. the name J. B. Hautin is written.

A small quarto, on paper, 54 leaves, of variable number of lines, with drawings of the constellations done with so sharp a pen as in some instances to cut the paper, and shaded with a brush: the stars marked in red ink: preservation bad from exposure to the damp, and mutilation of the five last leaves: written about the middle of the xvth century.

‘BASINII PARMENSIS ASTRONOMICON.’

A Poem in Latin Hexameters, with some few Greek interlineations, addressed to Sigismundus Pandulphus Malatesta. The first book contains 690 lines.

Begins:

Ætherios orbés subjectaque templa deorum
Musa cané, atque vias semper volventis Olympi.

Ends:

Nexa tenet cursu semper volventis Olympi.

The second book of 491 lines,

‘Basinii Par. Astronomicon liber secundus.’

Begins:

Quinque vagas etiam necnon pulcherrima mundi
Lumina bina canam, &c.

Ends:

Pandulphi moresque hominum letegasque Phrygasque
Europæque manus, Italos fortesque Pelasgos.

It appears never to have been published, and to have escaped the observation of all bibliologists. It is not alluded to by Adclungh (see Basinius Von Parma), nor does it appear in the list of his works in the Bodleian Catalogue, in which however appears the name of another poem, addressed to the same patron. From the historical allusions, its date must be circ. ann. 1464.

On the last leaf are written the names Philip Webster and Charles Landel.

A small quarto, on paper, 19 leaves; different handwritings of the xviiith century.

A number of RECIPES for domestic medicines and cookery; the first being for the T'issick, and the last for Elder Berry Wine.

241

Dd. v. 2.

Octavo, on paper, containing ff. 116 in double columns, with 37 lines in each page. It has red and blue initial letters. Date, the xvth century. This is bound up with the preceding MS.

PSALTERIUM SECUNDUM USUM SARUM.

The first 6 leaves contain the Kalendar, two blank ones follow, and the Psalter begins f. 9; the arrangement, both respecting the order of the psalms, and the insertion of canticles and hymns, corresponds with the Salisbury breviary printed at Paris, 1531, (except that Ps. 117 and 118 are placed after the canticle Deut. 32, which follows Ps. 108, instead of as usual after Ps. 25,) ending with the Litany, f. 72 b; then follows the 'Cursus beate Marie Virginis;' f. 74 b, the Vigiliæ defunctorum, and in f. 78 b, the Hymnarium, beginning with the Hymn for Advent 'Conditor alme siderum,' and ending with that In transfiguratione, 'O nata lux de lumine:' after these follows f. 88, the Commemoratio sanctorum, preceded by the rubrick, 'Incipit commemoratio sanctorum infra pascha et penthee,' and the volume ends f. 116 a, after the collects 'de omnibus sanctis,' with the words Deo gratias.

242

Dd. v. 3.

A paper book, in 4to, neatly written; of the time of Jas. I.

Perhaps a reading of Popham's, who was made Chief Justice of the King's Bench in 1592. According to Dugdale he was Reader in the Middle Temple in the 10th Eliz.

Dd. v. 5.

An octavo, on vellum, containing ff. 425 in double columns, with 30 lines in each column. It has illuminated initials, vignettes, and borders. Written in a very beautiful hand of the xvth century, in France, judging both from the style of the illuminations and the rubricks, which are throughout in French. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf.

A mutilated

BREVARIUM SECUNDUM USUM SARUM.

The volume begins in the middle of the Psalter with Ps. xxvi. 6, 'manus meas: et circumdabo altare tuum: ' and a leaf is lost between ff. 23 and 24. After the Psalter and Litany, f. 78, the office 'en la vigile de pentecoste' begins, and in f. 87, the Legenda from Kings to Malachi, then 'les rebriches generaus,' followed by the offices for the Saints' days, beginning as usual with St Andrew, and ending f. 388, with St Katharine: after a blank leaf in f. 389, the Commune sanctorum begins with the rubrick 'Ci commence le commun des saints,' and the MS. ends incompletely, f. 425 b, with the lections for the festa Virginum, 'virgo sapiens' being the catchword for the next page.

Besides the vignettes, which are numerous and beautiful, the borders contain a variety of grotesque figures—apes mounted on goats—monks in absurd positions, &c.

Dd. v. 6.

A small quarto, on paper, written upon one side only, of 14 leaves; in good preservation.

It also states their values in tythe and glebe, and gives a list of the Professors of Gresham College.

246

Dd. v. 7.

A paper book, in 4to, loosely written; on the title-page appears, 'BROCARDICA QUE JURE CANONICO sic dicuntur quæ sunt materiæ contrariis rationibus æque probabilibus involutæ.' Moot poynts.

Apparently imperfect. It is paged from 1 to 93, and after 42 blank leaves paged again from 200 to 246.

There are 6 leaves of index, and 3 of references, principally to Statutes of Ed. III.

On the title-page, "'James Whitelocke,' nec beneficio nec metu." 9 Augusti, 1590.

Also,

'Bulstrode Whitelocke, nec adolor nec calumpnior, plane et sane.'

For an account of the Whitelockes, see Chalmers, Biog. Dict.

Brocardica is a title fancifully prefixed to what is in truth only a student's note-book.

247

Dd. v. 8.

A paper book, in 4to, CONTAINING NOTES OF SUNDRY READINGS ON TITHES, extending over 167 ff. At f. 167 appears, 'This last speech being ended, M^r Attorney Generall S^r Robert Heath being then present, answered the same, and was pleased in the name of the whole house to honour the Reader much...

Sir Rob. Heath was appointed Attorney-General in 1625.

John Wylde (his name is given 'Wild' in Haydn's Book of Dignities) was twice appointed Chief Baron of the Exchequer.

‘TWENTY ARGUMENTS against the OATH OF ALLEADGIANCE propounded to Mr Preston and other Defenders of the said Oath in satisfaction of a late bitter provocation published on that subject in the name of Mr Howard by a Lay Catholic.’

The work referred to appears to be, ‘A Patterne of Christian Loyaltie, &c., by William Howard,’ 4to, London, 1634.

Dd. v. 13.

A paper book, in 4to, collection of notes on ‘THE SECURITIE FOR RENT-CHARGE.’

Badly written, in law hand, time of Chas. I. and imperfect at the beginning.

253

Dd. v. 14.

A paper book, in 4to, 134 leaves, many blank. ‘DIVERS AND UNCERTAYNE DISCOURSES DEL LEY,’ together with notes of several readings, from 2 March, 1611, to 6 Aug. 1614.

On the first page is written, ‘By mee Thomas Wateridge.’ About the middle of the book are 12 pages, headed ‘Joco seria. Of Divers subts.’ These consist of anecdotes, related by some members of the Inn, in the year 1611, which is also the date of the handwriting.

Dd. v. 15.

A paper book, in 4to, containing 229 folios, being a note-book of cases, alphabetically arranged, from ‘EARLE’ to ‘WYNES.’

Apparently it is a portion only of the whole work, as it begins at f. 157. The paging extends as far as 272. Clearly written in Law French, in a hand of about the xvth century.

Dd. v. 16.

A paper book, in quarto, containing the three following tracts, written by different hands, probably French, and not earlier than the middle of the xviiith century.

1. 'De anno et eius partibus Tractatus.'

The title (p. 1) of cap. 1^{um} is, 'Anni appellatio et effigies.' The pages numbered 20 and 24 are consecutive; and the tract is incomplete, wanting the chapters after 'De diebus festis Aprilis caput (41^{um}),' which ends on the page numbered 95.

2. Small quarto, on paper, of 62 leaves, written probably in the xviiith century, 'DE LA PREDESTINATION.' A treatise in 6 chapters.

Begins (f. 1 a):

La Predestination estant un Point au quel...

Ends (f. 62 a):

... fait reposer sur vous ses immenses richesses.

3. A Treatise on Colours.

Without a title, this begins (p. 1):

EX coloribus incertam esse temperamentis significationem ex eo colligit Galen. 4 simpl. cap. vlt^o et pr^o eiusdem cap. 2. quod in vnoquoque colore, et callida et frigida, et humida et sicca reperiantur. Sed et ratione hinc fiet manifestum.

The reference is to Galen's treatise De Temperamentis.

The abbreviations of the MS. are unusual, the omission of m being denoted by ' instead of -.

Ends (p. 30):

De coniectura igitur ex coloribus quesita satis superque dictum est.

4. Two leaves on paper, signed 'Heimbachius G.'

'In auspiciatissimas Nuptias Celsissimorum Principum Anhaltii et Arausie sponsorum. Seazon.'

A small thick octavo, on paper, irregular writing, of xviii century.

Apparently the index to the owner's COLLECTION OF RECIPES, alphabetically arranged, with some of those recipes at the end.

The date and owner's name may be conjectured from an irregular entry :
'Jan. 21st, 1652. John Gardener sen^r was borne at Amersham betweene 10 and eleven Clock in y^e morning.'

There is also a receipt for the sum of £3 paid by the same John Gardiner to Hugh Hobbs.

258 Dd. v. 19.

A small quarto, on paper, of 96 leaves : the first three of which contain a table of contents. The title (on f. 4 a) is as follows :

'Here folowith certeyne NOTES, gathered out of the prophet David, out of the wourks of Salomon, Job, and Ecclesiasticus.'

The writing is of the xvii century. On f. 1 the name Elizabeth Harris is twice written.

259 Dd. v. 20.

A small quarto, on paper, in good condition : date about 1620.

It contains 45 leaves, most of them ruled for MUSIC. On the fly-leaf are the words 'For the Bass Vvall.' The leaves 1—11, 19—25, 33, 40—42, contain the bass part of a number of dance tunes : this portion of the MS. is written in the modern notation of semibreves, minims, &c., but without bars. Leaves 12—18, 26, 27 contain music like that in MS. 43 ; the remaining leaves are blank.

260 Dd. v. 21.

This MS. consists of 13 leaves of paper, bound up with the preceding. It contains 'the Recorder part' of most of the MUSIC whose bass is in MS. 259.

The Recorder was a kind of flute or flageolet.

A small quarto, on paper, 269 leaves, xvith century.

PHARMACOPEIA and RECEIPT BOOK of Dr Theodore Turquet De Mayerne.

Principally in Latin, the rest in English and French. The original receipts marked in the margin with his abbreviated initials, and those communicated, with the name of the author, also in the margin. It appears to comprise the interval from 1627 to 1651, though there is a reference (p. 99) to the date 1610.

To a prescription for small pox, at p. 177, there is the marginal note :
'feliciter dedi Regi Carolo laboranti variolis an. 1632.'

264

Dd. v. 25.

A small quarto, on paper, 190 leaves; good preservation, in the author's handwriting, of the xvith century.

'ADVERSARIA PHYSICA: AUDITIONES QUOTIDIANÆ, Sep^r. 1630.'

A collection of Recipes by Dr T. de Mayerne, and his modifications of them denoted by his monogram appended. In German, some in French and English, but most in Latin; it includes prescriptions for cosmetics and washes and for preservation of flowers, &c.

There is an ancient book-plate on the first fly-leaf, representing a peacock displayed, standing on the stump of a tree, before which Mercury is driving a pair of winged horses in a plough. Motto: 'Spes alit Agricolas.'

Dd. v. 26.

A small quarto, on paper, 126 leaves, double columns, good preservation; same handwriting as preceding.

'MEDICAMENTA ad instruendam Officinam nostram Chymicam nunc præparanda, Mens Oct. 1607:' the author being 'Th. De Mayerne.'

It relates to the preparation of medicines, with a few descriptions of the apparatus employed, and the modes of adjusting and using such apparatus; chiefly in Latin. Not published.

On the 105th leaf there is Censura Trogniana in aliquot operationes hoc libro contentas, and on the 109th, 'Cathartica quædam Mineralia.'

Many of the formulæ, apparently original, have Mayerne's monogram: others are taken from Paracelsus, with observations of the compiler, and the doses to be administered. There is an index at the end.

Dd. v. 27.

An octavo, on paper, of 54 leaves, written probably in the xviiith century.

SERMONS for the Sundays and Holydays of the year.

At the top of f. 1 a are the words:

Jesus. Prologus in librum tropologie.

Exscripsi hunc librum ab alio in pergameno scripto in bibliotheca majori Universitatis Cantabrigie, latere aquilonari.

Between this title and the commencement of the Preface are the words, 'per Robertum Ridleium,' and at the foot of the page, 'Liber Roberti Ridlei,' in a different ink and handwriting from the rest. In the right-hand lower corner of the first page is the note, 'Author horum eruditissimorum Sermonum etsi nomen prorsus suppressit, nec nominari voluit, liquet tamen ex opere non uno in loco monachum fuisse, ut ex sermone dominice 6 et 9 Trinitatis.'

Begins:

Quam jucunde videbit eternum Dei tabernaculum...

Ends:

Cui sit gratiarum actio et gloria in secula seculorum. Amen.

267

Dd. v. 28.

A small quarto, on paper, of 250 leaves, containing about 25 lines in a page. Apparently of the xviiith century.

Lectures of CÆSAR CREMONINUS on Aristotle, de Anima, Lib. iii.

Begins:

Prestantia hujus partis sequentis satis perspecta est ex sola animadversione ...

Ends:

ideo lingua esse parca utendum et ut dicebant Pythagorei non omnibus sunt pandenda omnia.

At foot of f. 250 b is subjoined the following stanza :

Cesarem ad magnum properate cuncti
 Vos Cremoninum super astra ferte
 Vera qui vobis Sophie corusce
 Dogmata pandit.

The Lectures commence at the top of a page, with no title prefixed, and are evidently a portion of a larger work. They are on the 3rd Book of the Treatise 'De Anima,' according to the Greek division, although the references in them are to the 'texts' of the Arabs and Latins. Another MS. in the Library (Dd ix. 19) contains a commentary ascribed to the same author, on Aristotle 'De Anima,' Lib. II., according to the Latin division. A part of the text is therefore common to both MSS., but the commentary is not the same. Various unpublished works of Cremoninus are referred to by Brücker, Buhle, and other writers, (see especially Naudæana, Amst. 1703, p. 54,) but there is no special mention of these Lectures.

Inside the cover the name 'Thos. Denne, Jun.' is written.

Dd. v. 29.

A small quarto, on paper, of 89 leaves, excluding blanks, written in the 18th century.

The MS. is paged regularly from f. 4 to the end.

f. 1 b is headed 'Lemmata Cod. Arundel. Gr. N. 1.'

'έκλογή καὶ σύνοψις τῶν βασιλικῶν σὺν παραπομπαῖς κατὰ στοιχεῖον... κ.τ.λ.'

Afterwards follow the titles of various νεαραὶ, or Novels of the Emperor Constantine and others : which table is continued on f. 3 a, forming an Index to part of the contents of the MS. from ff. 25—44. A short but complete table of contents with references to the pages of the MS. is found on f. 2 a, in which the sources whence the various treatises have been taken are frequently mentioned, as given below.

1. ff. 4—24. Title on f. 2 a :

'Hymni Græci Ecclesiastici præsertim C. P. ex Cod. MS. Gr. (de musica Eccles.) chartac. D. Humfredi Wanley. Coll. Univers. Oxon. Soc.'

f. 4 a contains the initial words or titles of a number of hymns. Afterwards follow hymns and titles of Psalms, with directions as to the seasons at which they should be sung.

Begins (f. 4 a) :

ἦχ. α. 'Επέστη ἡ εἴσοδος εἰς τὸ ὄρος...

Ends (f. 24 b) :

ὡς πάλαι τὴν τοῦ Σωτῆρος πλευ... cætera desunt magno reip. Ecclesiasticæ damno. tum sequitur lacera charta ultima.

Ἀπὸ τὸ (sic) ἐταράττετο Ἡρώδης. ἦχ. γ.

Nothing is given but the title, and first and concluding paragraphs with the refer. ‘Juri. Gr. Rom. Tom. I, p. 197 sqq.’

(7) f. 35 b.

‘ἐκλογὴ καὶ σύνοψις τῶν βασιλικῶν.’

sius, and in the Jur. Gr. Rom. Tom. II.

‘προλεγόμενα τῆς ῥητορικῆς.’

‘E Cod. chart. MS. Colleg. SS. Trinit. Cantabr.’ [R. 9. 13.] ‘Troilus Sophista. Excerpta.’

Begins:

τὴν ῥητορικὴν διαφόρως τινες ὥρισαντο.

The citations made by Troilus are copied out. The treatise itself (being that form into which Maximus Planudes has cast it) is edited in Walz. Rhet.
Gr. Vol. V, p. 212 sqq.

(9) f. 46. 'Sequuntur in eodem codice : προλεγόμενα τῶν προγυμνασιμίων Aphthonii sc. ἐξήγησις τοῦ μύθου etc.'

Begins :

ἀνασκευὴ ὠνόμασται.

The names and fragments of the authors cited are similarly copied out. These scholia are a portion of the same as those edited by Walz. Rhet. Gr. Vol. II. p. 1. sqq. See p. 25.

(10) ff. 47, 48 a. 'Sequuntur in eodem Cod. προλεγόμενα τῶν στάσεων. f. Sopatri.' The scholia are fully copied out.

Begins :

ὁ τὸ τῆς ῥητορικῆς βιβλίον συντεταχὼς Ἑρμογένης.

Ends :

τρίτον τὸ τῶν ἰδεῶν.

The author is Maximus Planudes. See Walz. Rhet. Gr. Vol. v. pp. 222—230. The present MS. ends at p. 228.

(11) ff. 48 b—52 b.

Ἐσχολ. εἰς Ἑρμογένους στάσεις.'

Begins :

πολλῶν ὄντων.

The compiler has merely copied out the places where the Scholiast refers to other authors.

The scholia are evidently those of Maximus Planudes, edited by Walz. Rhet. Gr. Vol. v. pp. 232 sqq.

(12) ff. 53 a—67 b.

'Eod. Cod. περὶ λογογραφίας, περὶ ἐπιστολῶν, περὶ στίχων εἰσαγωγίμων.'

In marg.

“Christianum fuisse constat, nec quid amplius : nonnullos citat auctores quos alibi vix comperies.” Ineptè.'

Begins :

πᾶσα λόγον ἰδέα ἐκ μερῶν ὀκτὼ σύγκειται, ἐννοίας, λέξεως, σχήματος, μεθόδου, κώλων, συνθήκης, ἀναπαύσεως, καὶ ῥυθμοῦ, περὶ ὧν μάθης μὲν ἐν τῷ τῶν ἰδεῶν βιβλίῳ τοῦ Ἑρμογένους πλατύτερον καὶ σοφώτερον ἐνταῦθα δὲ διδάξομαι σε ὡς ἐγχωρεῖ καὶ μάλιστα κατὰ τὴν σήμερον τιμωμένην λογογραφίαν.

Ends :

καὶ πρὸς τούτοις τὸ σύντομον.

Another but an imperfect copy of this work will be found in Dd. xi. 54. A treatise περὶ ἐπιστολικῶν τύπων, by Theophilus Corydalleus, first printed at London in 1625, and afterwards at Halle, is a different, but very similar production.

The author cannot have lived earlier than the xiith or xiiith century, as appears by the allusions to βασιλεὺς ἀγγελώνυμος and to Ptochoprodromus.

He quotes or refers to a great number of classical and medieval writers, but, so far as the former at least are concerned, seems to have preserved nothing otherwise unknown. The work appears to be unedited.

(13) f. 68. 'In Eod. Cod. marg. Sopater in Hermog.'

'Princip. στρόγγυλον σχῆμά ἐστι τόδε  fin. φιλόσοφος μοιχὸν εὐρὼν ἐπὶ τῇ γυναικὶ συνώκισεν αὐτῷ τὴν γυναῖκα καὶ κρίνεται παρανομίας. Ex hujusmodi thesibus consistit pars posterior notarum. ... Sequuntur Theophrasti characteres.'

The compiler has noticed a few citations of authors that occur in the treatise. The early part of it is edited (without the author's name) in Walz. Rhet. Gr. Vol. III. p. 704 sqq.; the theses are not given there.

(14) ff. 68—84a. 'Epitome Dionysii Halicarn. περὶ συνθέσεως ὀνομάτων. Ita tit. Melioris notæ liber.'

Begins:

δῶρόν τοι καὶ ἐγὼ τέκνον φίλε 'Ροῦφε Μελίτιε τοῦτο δίδωμι, κ.τ.λ.

Goes down to:

τοιαῦτα δὲ ἐστὶ τὰ ὅμοια τοῖς καλοῖς λόγοις μέτρα καὶ μέλη, διὰ ταύτας γινόμενα τὰς αἰτίας.

(i. e. within a few lines of the end of the treatise.) After this sentence proceeds another paragraph of 28 lines, which does not occur in the Leipsic edition (1829), on the names of Greek feet, beginning:

σπονδεῖος ποῦς σύγκειται ἐκ δύο μακρῶν.

And ending:

δισπονδεῖος ἐκ τεσσάρων μακρῶν οἶον 'Ηρακλείδης.

(15) ff. 84a to the end.

The compiler next remarks that in the Trinity College MS. follow Aristidis monodia in Smyrnam and Diogenis Laertii vitæ philosophorum: he then gives the various readings of part of this MS. of Diogenes, as compared with the Amsterdam edition of Meibomius (1692); but after collating as far as the end of 'Plato,' observes: 'Hucusque progressus sum, cum inopinato nocte intempesta Apr. 6. MS. è manu nostra abreptus est: restitit tantillum temporis ut ordinem reliquorum librorum concinnarem. Platonem sequitur Speusippus, Xenocrates,' &c. (naming them).....οἱ κυνικοὶ φιλόσοφοι.

With these words (p. 172) the MS. ends.

A quarto, on paper, 80 leaves, about 35 lines on each page, handwriting the same, of the early part of the xviith century.

I. "CATHOLICUM ad reverendi in Christo patris ac Domini mei Episcopi Bel[lo]vacensis [i. e. Beauvais] jussum."

Again:

Tela manu jacere mihi non placet immo jacere

In the margin the pages are enumerated in regular order of some work from which this has been abridged.

A paper book, in small quarto, of nearly 200 leaves, written about 1630.

'CATALOGUS LIBRORUM in Bibliotheca JOANNENSI.'

This title is on a fly-leaf, at the beginning, on which is also 'Vol. 123.' The books are catalogued alphabetically, in classes, of which the largest consists of 'Libri theologici:' the other classes consist of 'Libri Medici,' 'Libri Juris,' and 'Libri Artium.' The size, place, and date of each edition are given. The leaves were written only on one side, and on the blank pages entries were made from time to time. See No. 293.

285

A book in quarto, of 43 leaves, of parchment and paper, written soon after 1420.

'Willelmus Kyngesmylle... DE FORMA ET COMPOSITIONE CARTARUM et aliorum munimentorum... ad modum et vsum modernorum.'

This title is extracted from the author's introduction, which begins (f. 1):

Quia pium et necessarium est tam plures clericos [sic] quam alios ydoneos in composicione et cognicione cartarum et aliorum munimentorum minime eruditos qui huiusmodi artificium proponunt exercere secundum legem et regni Angliæ consuetudinem informare Ego igitur...

On f. 41 b is given, after other forms, 'Testamentum in extremis,' beginning: 'In dei nomine. Amen. vltimo die mensis Junij Anno dñi millmo cccc^{mo} xx^{mo} Ego Wills Kyngysmylle de Oxon...'

This is followed by a codicil, dated 'xxvi^{to} die Decembris Anno dñi, &c. hiis testibus;' and an Inventory of goods taken after his death, and dated 'vicesimo die mensis Decembris A^o dñi millimo cccc^{mo} &c.' which appears to be imperfect.

On a scrap of parchment at the beginning is a copy of 'Inquicicio coram Justie' pacis dñi Regis,' dated 'Oxon. die lune infra Octob. Pasch. A^o regis henrici VI^{ti} post conquestum octauo...' On the back of this piece, in a hand of about the same period as the rest, is, useless to describe further.

At the end are some blank leaves, and an address to the Reader (Turner?) at the close of his lectures.

Dd. v. 52.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 333 in double columns of 57 lines in each column. Date, the xivth century.

BIBLIA VULGATA SANCTI HIERONYMI.

After the usual prologues Genesis begins, and the books of the Old Testament follow in the usual order, Maccabees ending f. 273 b. The whole of St Matthew, and St Mark as far as ch. ix. 25, 'ita ut multi dicerent quia est mortuus' is torn out. The books of the New Testament follow as usual, except that the Acts is after the Epistle to the Hebrews. There are minute scholia throughout. The Revelation ends f. 332 a, and a list of passages 'de ymaginibus' follows. On the last leaf a later hand has written,

Ad perpetuam rei memoriam notandum est, quod dominus Robertus Stapelhill nuper rector ecclesie de Goodle in Com. Devon. languens in extremis noluit hunc librum vendi, sed dari alicui literato et continue derivari et transferri a viro in virum et saltim indigenti: nec venditione detur tradi, nisi major ingruerit penuria et paupertas. Oret assidue occupans pro anima illius. Et predictus Robertus Oxon. obiit in festo sancte Praxedis, viz. in nocte Marie Magdalene anno domini millesimo cccc°. quinquagesimo octavo.

And below,

O quanta abusio, quanta perversitas, quod ossa sanctorum expunnuntur ad questum

Ut qui omnes pecunias respuerunt vivi cogantur mendicare jam mortui.

292

Dd. v. 53.

A small quarto, on paper, 146 leaves, double columns, 36 lines in each for the first 92 leaves, and then only about 28 lines for the remainder, the latter half of the MS. damaged by damp, otherwise in good preservation.

A fly-leaf of parchment contains two or three receipts in Latin and English.

The second leaf is the commencement of a Botanical Dictionary,

Beginning:

Hic incipit sinonoma herbarum.

Ending on the same page:

Amsericron v. herba perforata, herba Johannis.

1. After several pages, blank, except for two recipes, one in English, the other Latin, the MS. begins f. 10. It is ornamented with red letters, but most of the initial letters are wanting.

The colophon supplies the title

‘RADIX MEDICINARUM.’

This is a work in three books with a short preface, and appears to be by John Arderne, the author of § 2.

The preface begins:

[Quoniam ut ait Platearius in principio sue practice ‘Amicum induit qui partibus amicorum condescendit.’

The first two books treat of the pathology of the four regions of the body in order, beginning with the head.

First Book, Cap. 1.

De infirmitatibus prime regionis sive capitis, Allopecia est infirmitas capillorum, &c.

It contains 38 chapters and discusses the first two regions.

The second book begins (p. 68) 1st column. There seems to be a clerical error in the rubrical reading “Secunda Regio.”

Begins:

De Fastidio Stomachi, containing 35 chapters.

Ends:

Explicit Chirurgia, Incipit de Febris (p. 119).

The treatise on Fevers contains 18 chapters.

Ending (p. 159):

Nunc finem feci, penitet me si male scripsi. Explicit Radix Medicinarum.

The black ink at the foot of the several pages has suffered much from damp, the red is quite uninjured. In the blank space on the last two pages a later hand has added a table of contents of all the above.

2. This contains 110 pages, nearly corresponding with the foregoing, saving it has fewer lines in the page. At p. 52 a diagram is wanting.

Extracta de libro Magistri Joannis Arderne in practica sua contra omnem guttam unguentum probatum etc.

It contains several recipes and some charms; at p. 66 it proceeds to treat of the signs of the Zodiack and their virtues, with the following rubrick:

Interpretatio 12 Signorum.

It is followed by a scheme for calculating lunations.

At p. 72 begins

De Retardatione senectutis secundum Rogerum Bakon.

At p. 78,

Incipit Tractatus de virtutibus lapidum pretiosorum. They are described alphabetically. Adamas est lapis, &c.

p. 96. De anulo et aliis speciebus.

p. 97. An alphabetical index of foreign herbs and spices, De asa fetida, &c.

p. 106. De regimine salutis. In Hexameters.

Beginning :

Anglorum regi scripsit tota scola Salerni
Flores doctrine compilate medicine
Si vis incolumem si vis te reddere sanum
Escas linque graves, &c.

Ending :

de Escula.

Escula dura bona, set mollia sunt meliora.

The MS. closes with a charm by another hand, pro morsu canis rabidi.

John Arderne lived in the xivth century, in Newark in Nottinghamshire. None of his works seem to have been printed except one on Fistula in a translation by John Read (1533): 'Ce qui doit d'autant plus étonner que cet ouvrage est peut-être aussi utile qu'aucun de ceux qui aient été écrits sur cet profession dans ces temps-là, excepté celui de Guy de Chauliac.' See Dictionnaire Historique de Médecine. Paris, 1828.

293

Dd. v. 54.

A paper book, in quarto, of 40 pages, bound up with No. 292, written in a neat hand about 1620.

'Catalogus Librorum Bibliothecæ Johanensis quo libri (quot-quot ibi extant) Alphabetice disponuntur secundum quatuor facultates.'

This is a somewhat earlier catalogue than No. 294, but the books are divided into the same classes which are described on the title page, though they occur in a different order. At the end is a list of duplicates and 'opera supervacua.'

294

Dd. v. 55.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing 93 leaves, with 28 lines in a page: the handwriting large and good, of the xivth century; the titles of the chapters rubricated; leaves numbered (beginning at f. 4), and marginal notes added in pale yellow ink in the xvth century. From the numbering it appears that eight leaves are wanting between ff. 80, 81.

Treatises by Richard Rolle of Hampole.

1. ff. 1—80. Without title, and imperfect, SCALA PERFEC-TIONIS, a treatise on holy life addressed to an anchoress, in 91 chapters. The index contains the titles of 93 chapters, but the treatise has only 91, the titles 79, 87 of the index being omitted. The substance is however complete. See below.

The same treatise is complete (with the same variation in the index), but likewise without title, in Ff. 5. 40. § 3, where the text differs slightly, and the orthography considerably. Tanner describes the treatise as: 'The 7 partie of a boke which Richard Hampole made to an anchoress, part ii.'

Begins:

Gastli sister in ihū Criste I pray þe þat in þe calling.

Ends (imperfect) in c. 88 (86):

& mekyl abate þe vayne delyte þar of þat þow sal. (Ff. 5. 40. f. 86 a, line 4.)

Another copy of the same treatise, arranged in accordance with the index, and followed by a second part, occurs Ec. iv. 30, where it is ascribed to Walter Hilton (or Hylton) of Thurgarton: v. Tanner.

2. ff. 81 a—92 b.

DE DIVINIS MANDATIS TRACTATUS.

Several leaves at the beginning wanting. The tract is complete in Ff. 5, 40, § 4, where the above title is given.

Begins:

[god]nes. Be boner and meke til alle men.

Ends:

qwo so cries harthely aftyr Goddes mercy.

On f. 92 b, are appended 14 couplets, also occurring in Ff. 5. 40. § 4.

Beginning:

þay þat wiþouten lawe dos synne
Wipoutyn lawe sal peris þarinne.

Ending:

þe day of flayinge and grete affraye þe day of parthyng fra God for aye.

3. f. 93.

A paragraph chiefly from St Bernard, Bonaventura, and Richard of Hampole.

Begins:

Contynuel meditacion of þe passyon of Criste.

Ends:

thorowe þi seue woundys.

The MS. is bound up with 5 parchment leaves containing Latin writing of the xvth century, on 'time and motion.' On one of these is written, Gregory Clarke, Aul. Cath. Alumn. Anno Domini 1705.

295

Dd. v. 56.

On f. 1 a are the words 'Mr Worthington's Book;' and on the last leaf the names John Nettles, Thomas Nettles, and Marke Nettles are scribbled several times.

Dd. v. 75.

A quarto, on paper, 55 leaves (excluding blanks), about 45 lines in each page, handwriting of the early part of the xviiith century, frequent erasures and interlineations.

It may be described as A POETICAL SCRAP-BOOK, containing Odes, 'New Year's Gifts,' Sonnets, Epigrams, Riddles, &c.

The pieces which are dated range between the years 1581 and 1612. The following title occurs at fol. 10: 'Gulielmi Pagetti versiculi quos ex suo cerebro depromptos Avie [i. e. to his grandmother] officii et anni testificandi causa obtulit calendis Januarii A. D. 1584, annos nato 12 dies 14.' The William Paget thus referred to was in all probability the 4th baron of that name who died in 1629. Other traces of him are discernible as far as fol. 17, where several pieces of 'George Berkeley' [? the 13th baron, who died in 1658] are added (fol. 17—20). 'H. Stanford' and 'young Wilkin' are also named as authors. Most of the remaining articles are anonymous.

On fol. 24 is preserved an English 'Oratio Elizabethæ reginæ habita in regni conventu convocato ad diem 15 Martii anno 1575:'—unknown to D'Ewes, Journals of Parliaments, &c., p. 235, ed. 1682.

After an illumination of our Lord at Gethsemane, the Hours begin, f. 29, as usual, with before each Hour an illumination of one of the scenes of the Passion. In the commemorations of saints after lauds each has a small vignette illumination; the antiphon and collect for St Thomas of Canterbury have been run through with a pen. Then follow, f. 74, devotions to the Imago Christi, the Cross, the Head, and the 5 Wounds—to our Lady, and St John the Evangelist, each with a vignette—a prayer of Bede's on the 7 Words—other hymns and prayers, with a promise of an indulgence of 2000 years granted by dñs papa Bonifacius at the request of Philip King of France.

f. 81 contains an illumination of our Lord in an aureole, with the dead rising—then follow the 7 penitential psalms, the 15 psalms, and Litany: f. 95 is an illumination of the raising of Lazarus—then follow the Vigiliæ Defunctorum, and then, the illumination being cut out, the Commendationes defunctorum. An illumination of our Lord in the midst of the instruments of the Passion follows in f. 122, then the psalms of the Passion, a rubrick respecting the abbreviated psalter of St Jerome, which follows, f. 127, after an illumination of St Jerome. Then, f. 137, a commemoration of St Barbara, and prayers pro corpore presenti, in anniversariis, pro episcopis, pro fratribus et sororibus, ending abruptly in the middle of the prayer, Animabus quæsumus Domine.

A later hand adds (f. 138 b) a metrical exhortation, beginning:

And ye will please god gretly
Use prevey penaunce discretly
And devoute prayers clerly.

A collection of medical, with some few domestic, RECEIPTS, in English and Latin.

The first 2 leaves are wanting. The MS. begins with

The making of a powder called Alexipharmacoon.

Throughout the MS. are many titles to prescriptions written in Greek characters, as Δεκοκτιο πηλεγμαγογα.

At the end of the MS. there is a treatise on 'A Shorte Methode of the cure of woundes made with gunshot.'

The last page is illegible. The MS. is anonymous.

Dd. VI. 10.

A quarto, on paper, 141 pages, of 30 lines, perfect preservation, uniform handwriting of the middle of the xviiith century.

On the opposite side of the title-page is an Approbatio attested by Joan. Frear, Tho. Cadiman, Robert Floyd, Piers Roche.

It commences with the author's dedication :

Nobilissimo V. Domino Edwardo Domino Herbert S.P.D.

Ends :

Et sic nostra propositio (ut finem imponam huic opusculo) erit ad minimum probabilis, videlicet quod, operatio Ungenti Armarii fit per magiam naturalem non vero per Caco-Magiam.

It appears not to have been published.

Dd. VI. 12.

A volume of parchment, originally in small quarto, of 108 leaves. Written near the end of the xiiith or beginning of the next century, with the exception of the last three leaves, on which the handwriting belongs to the xvth century.

1. The almost obliterated rubrick appears to be

‘Incipit editio (?) GALFRIDI ARTURI MONUMETENSIS de gestis Britonum.’

After this the MS. begins (f. 1):

Cum mecum multa et de multis sepius animo.....

The rubrick to what in the Editions (see that among the Rerum Britannicarum Scriptores, fol. Heidelberg, 1567, or the separate editions, 8vo, by J. A. Giles, London, 1844, and San-Marte, Halle, 1854) is cap. 2, appears to be ‘Descriptio insule.’ Some leaves are wanting between f. 1, which closes (in c. 2) with ‘Postremo quinque inhabitatur populis,’ and f. 2, beginning with (Lib. I. c. 12) ‘minimum cum his verbis inferebat. Quo fugitis timidi!’

The first five books only are distinguished by short rubricks, for which spaces are left before the next three.

In Lib. vii. c. 2 ends on part of a leaf (f. 52), of which the rest is blank, and c. 3 begins on the next; at this point a change in the handwriting is observable, and the coloured letters marking the chapters are replaced by unadorned red. In the middle of c. 4, after ‘Nesciet pater...peccidum lasciuiet,’ there is nearly a page blank, and three leaves appear to have been cut out, though the following words ‘superveniet vero gigas nequicie’ occur on f. 60; the ff. 53—59 appear to have been supplied by another hand, but from an imperfect copy. The subsequent portion appears to be by different hands, some perhaps not earlier than the xvth century.

It ends as the editions (f. 106): ‘...transferre curavi.’

There are a few interlinear and other notes in French; of the marginal notes on every page, in a hand not earlier than the xvth century, many have been curtailed by the binder.

2. On ff. 106—8 the rubrick is illegible, but it may be described as a brief Chronology of the British Kings, from Lucius to Henry VII. (1245—1487).

The event referred to in the concluding words, ‘secus rivum Trent in comitatu lyncolnie et obtinuit victoriam,’ being the battle of Stoke, A.D. 1487, appears to fix the date of the handwriting.

Ends, f. 109 b:

The titles of the paragraphs are rubricated throughout. The name of Nicolo da Osmo does not appear to be mentioned by L. Wadding or any other authorities.

f. 57 is in a different handwriting from the rest, (apparently the same as that on the fly-leaves at the end,) and contains on one side the apocryphal epistle of Lentulus to the Senate,

‘per fratrem Antonium arestinum exaratum quinto decimo kal. augusti die mercurii 1501.’

And on the other, a note on Septuagesima. On the two fly-leaves at the end are some notes of no value.

Dd. vi. 56.

A small duodecimo volume, in Greek and Latin, on paper, very neatly written, of the middle of the xvith century, consisting of 82 leaves, unpagged, each page containing about 18 lines, besides 4 leaves at the end which are blank.

‘PLUTARCHI CHERONEI PHILOSOPHI LIBELLUS DE FUTILI LOQUACITATE A GRÆCO IN LATINUM PER JOANNEM CHRISTOFERSONUM CONVERSUS.’

Prefixed is a letter to Mary, afterwards Queen of England.

Honoratissima illustrissimæque Principi D. Mariæ, Regiæ Majestatis Sorori, Joannes Christofersonus perpetuam optat felicitatem.

It begins:

Non sum nescius, Princeps illustrissima...

The letter occupies 8 leaves, after which follows the Latin Version of Plutarch's entire treatise περὶ ἀδόλεσχίας, (beginning Ardua plane et difficilis, ending sed dolore etiam caret et molestia), and then the Greek text: the last words of the MS. being ἀλλὰ καὶ ἄλυπον καὶ ἀνόδυνον.

The author of the version is no doubt John Christopherson, Master of Trinity, 1553, whom Queen Mary made Bishop of Chichester in 1557. He also translated the ecclesiastical history of Eusebius. Neither Tanner nor Wyttenbach have noticed Christopherson's labours on Plutarch: the Greek text generally agrees with the Aldine and Basil editions, in those places in which Wyttenbach notices their readings.

This is bound up with the preceding MS.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 345, in double columns, with 12 and 24 lines in each column respectively. Date 1509.

A double LATIN VERSION of the GOSPELS OF ST MATTHEW AND ST MARK, executed by order of Dean Colet, the first being the Vulgate Version, and the other agreeing generally with that of Erasmus: the two versions being written side by side on the same page, the first as the more important in longer lines, the second after the manner of a gloss, in shorter lines down the page.

The MS. begins f. 2 with the usual preface of St Jerome to the Evangelists, followed by 'alius prologus eiusdem ad Eusebium.'

St Matthew begins f. 6 with an illumination of an Angel dictating to St Matthew, while Dean Colet kneels, with a rich border—an engraving from this is given in Knight's Life of Dean Colet.

The preface to St Mark begins f. 179, and the gospel in f. 180, preceded by an illumination of St Mark. After the end of the gospels, f. 295, we have:

Ad laudem et gloriam omnipotentis, incomprehensibilis, invisibilis Dei: ad honorem quoque dulcissime Marie Virginis genetricis ejusdem totiusque celestis exercitus, opus hoc duorum evangelistarum Matthei scilicet et Marci conscriptum est iussu et expensis reverendi domini et venerabilis viri, D. Joannis Colett, ecclesie Cath. Divi Pauli Londini decani, sacreque Theologie professoris. Egregii viri Henrici Colett militis, opulentissime civitatis Londini quondam senatoris et ejusdem bis consulis, filii. Arte ac industria Petri Meghen, monoculi, teutonici, natione Brabantini, oppidi Buschiducen. Leodien. dioc. anno incarnationis dominice millesimo quingentesimo nono, mensis vero Mai die Octavo. Eodem anno mensis Aprilis die Illustrissimus Rex Anglie (pie memorie) Henricus VII. (qui ut alter Salomon sapiens, dives, pacificus) diem clausit extremum; heredem regni relinquens, non ut Salomon Roboam filium stolidum; sed nobilissimum Henricum VIII. filium patre sapienterem: cuius bona incia omnipotens deus sua ineffabili pietate ad optima dignetur perducere extrema. Amen.

This is followed by an extract in a different hand, headed by the same hand that has paged the MS. in chalk, 'Ex Polidoro pag. 600,' about Dean Colet's foundation of St Paul's School in London.

f. 297 begins a concordance of the two gospels, headed '[C]ollationes maiores evangeliorum sanctorum Matthei et Marci Evangelistarum,' with which the volume ends f. 345 b. This MS. Colet left to his executors to be disposed of according to their discretion; it came into the hands of Archbp Parker, who gave it to the University. There is an allusion to it by T. Smith in his translation of Erasmus's Life of Colet. Camb. 1661.

A note in f. 1, inserted probably by order of Archbp Parker, gives an extract from Erasmus's preface to his notes on the New Testament, speaking of two Latin MSS. of the New Testament in Colet's possession, which the writer incorrectly supposed to coincide with the versions of the present MS.

Dd. VII. 4.

A folio, on parchment, of 225 leaves, in double columns, of 76 lines each. Probably of the xvth century.

There are catchwords at the foot of every 8th leaf.

SANCTUS AUGUSTINUS IN PSALMOS.

The initial letter was illuminated, and has been cut out; the margins were intended to be illuminated throughout, but only a few leaves have been finished.

The last leaf has been lost, but it appears to have contained only eight words, as the MS. now ends (f. 225 b 2) with the words, 'Et quia sape.'

The treatise is contained in the xvth Vol. of the Benedictine Edition, Paris, 1836; and the MS. appears to agree with the ordinary text.

Dd. VII. 5.

A folio, on parchment, of 171 leaves, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the xvth century.

LIBRI REGUM, PARALIPOMENON, ESDRÆ, TOBLE, JUDITH, ESTHER, JOBI Vulgatæ editionis cum GLOSSA ORDINARIA.

The MS. begins f. 1 with S. Jerome's Prologue to the Kings, and ends f. 171 with Job xxxix. 23: 'Supra ipsum sonabit facerra, vibrabit.' It contained an illuminated initial to each book, which has caused the loss of a leaf after each of ff. 1, 23, 41, 59, 85, 111, 121, 131, 137, and 151. It has been paged in ink since these leaves were lost.

The phraseology of this manuscript varies very slightly from that of the edition printed by Robert Redman; but the printed book is only divided into chapters (12 b), and the MS. is partitioned into six books (containing altogether 139 chapters) as follows:

- Lib. 1. De plez personels.

79. Henricus de Bracton de legibus et consuetudinibus Angliæ. fol. 178.

This MS. extends over 160 pages. It is imperfect. All is wanting after Lib. iv. Tract. 3, cap. 17.

On comparing it with Tottel's edition of 1569, some slight variations occur, and the MS. appears to contain some additional matter. It is frequently annotated in the margin.

This Collection of Statutes is described in the second report on the searches instituted by the Record Commission (1812) as 'not appearing to bear any character of accuracy or authenticity.'

Dd. VII. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

Five folios, on vellum, in double columns, of 55 lines each in the first four volumes, and of about 70 lines each in the fifth volume, of the XIVth century.

NICOLAI DE LYRA OPERA.

The handwriting of the first four is apparently the same, that of the fifth is not so good, or so large as that of the others.

The first four, as they are marked on the fly-leaf contain the commentaries of De Lyra on the entire Scriptures, and were given in the year 1457 to the Monastery of St Albans, as appears from the document copied on the fly-leaf at the beginning of the first three.

Vol. I. of 319 leaves, contains the commentary on Genesis—Paralipⁿ, with part of the 1st chap. of Esther, ending on v. 10, 'nam virum etiam sobrie potatum.'

On the first page is :

Si Lyra non lyrasset
Totus mundus delirasset.

A leaf is lost after f. 82. The initial letters of the books are illuminated, and there are coloured pictures of the Tabernacle, Ark, &c. to illustrate the text, chiefly from f. 70—90. Two prologues are prefixed to the Postils.

Vol. II. of 286 leaves, contains the COMMENTARY ON ESTHER (which is here complete), TOBIAS, JUDITH, JOB, PSALMS, PROVERBS, ECCLESIASTES, CANTICLES, WISDOM, and ECCLESIASTICUS.

This volume appears to be perfect ; some leaves, however, between 212 and 239 inclusive, are misplaced ; they should be read in the order: 236—239, 216—235, 212—215. The pages containing the latter chapters of Canticles have a wrong title at the top.

Vol. III. of 266 leaves, contains the commentary on all the Prophets and the first two books of Maccabees.

Vol. IV. of 328 leaves, contains the commentary on the Books of the N. T.

At the foot of the last column, f. 328 b, 1, is added :

Explicit postilla super Apocalipsim
ffinito libro reddatur gloria Christo.
Scriptoris anime te Christe precor misereri.

The last volume (Dd. VII. 11) differs slightly in binding from the preceding four, and is also a little smaller.

It is paged throughout on each leaf, the last being marked 595.

The 1st leaf has been mutilated by the removal of a vignette, which occupied the top of the first column. At the end of p. 595, col. 2, are the words:

Explicit POSTILLA SUPER APOCALIPSIM

Edita a fratre Nicolao de Lyra ordinis fratrum minorum.

Its contents are the same as those of Vol. iv.

Dd. VII. 15.

A folio, on parchment, of 162 leaves, double columns, of 36 lines each. Of the beginning of the xiiith century.

‘ODO SUPER QUINQUE LIBROS MOYSI.’

This is Wood, 8th Abbot of St Martin de Bello, who died 1175. v. Leland, Collect. and Fabric. Bibl. Latin. Vol. v. p. 155. Patav. 1754.

The first leaf has been mutilated and the initial letter cut out; the commencement, however, can be made out to have been ‘Incipit prologus Odonis super quinque libros Moysi. Operis subditi Materia Lex est quinque Voluminibus comprehensa...’

The MS. seems to be complete as far as the end of Numbers, the last few lines being written on a fragment of a leaf at the end, concluding with ‘que sunt super Jordanum e regione Jericho. Explicit.’

A copy exists in C. C. C. Library, No. LIV., but, like this, only extends over the first four Books, which seems to have been all that was finished.

1. A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 20, with 49 lines in each page.

AN OBITUARY KALENDAR of the brothers, sisters and benefactors of the MONASTERY OF KYNGTON in Wiltshire, by KATERINE MOLEYN'S PRIORESS, A.D. 1493, preceded by prayers, a list of the priory lands, the order to receive nuns, &c. and other documents connected with the monastery.

On f. 1 b, is written in red :

Humanum est cadere, id est peccare, set diabolicum est perseverare, and two coats of arms, under one of which is written, 'A John Elys le frere eisme,' and under the other, 'A Thomas Elys le frere puisne.'

In f. 2, after a division of the History of the World from the creation into 6 ages, begins a brief list of the kings of England from Arviragus, in whose reign Joseph of Arimathæa came to England, to Henry VII., mentioning their places of burial, a blank space being left for that of Henry VII.

In f. 3 b, begins in English, the order to receive 'brothers and sisters to the suffrages of the religion' at Kyngton monastery. In f. 4, the order to receive 'mynchyns' or nuns.

In f. 5, after a short prayer to our Lady by the prioress in English, beginning 'Blessed Mary, moder, maiden and wyfe, pray for us to thy sone Almighty,' with invocations of saints and angels, follow two metrical prayers in English, the first commencing :

Almyghty God fader of heven
For Christes love that dyed yn roode

Next, in f. 5 b, is a letter of Thomas [Langton] Bishop of Salisbury, appointing Katerine Moleyns prioress of the monastery, then vacant by the resignation of Alicia Laurens, dated April 9, 1492.

Katerine Moleyns was probably a relation of Adam Moleyns, Dean of Salisbury 1441, Bishop of Chichester 1445.

Then follows an account of the priory lands and other revenues of the monastery, prayers to be said for the benefactors, and on f. 8 the Kalendar begins, with the names of the brothers, sisters, prioresses, and benefactors to be prayed for inserted on the days of their deaths: the names of a great many bishops of Salisbury and abbats of Glastonbury are inserted—Henry Beauforde, Cardynel and Bisshop of Wynchester, William of Wykam, &c.

The MS. is mentioned by Tanner, Not. Monast. who appears to have copied it: for an account of the Monastery see Dugdale's Monasticon, new ed. iv. 397, 398.

Between f. 19 and f. 20, which contains the coats of arms of the brothers Elys as in f. 1, is inserted

The ‘Commendacio anime’ ends f. 7 a, and the Hours begin f. 7 b. Several of the initials contain illuminated vignettes.

Dd. VIII. 3.

A long folio, on paper, in Greek and Latin, now containing 160 leaves, unpagged, the two last of which are blank (the left hand column of each page being Greek, the other Latin); each column when full containing about 65 lines, but frequently a much smaller number; written in a very late hand, probably of the xvth century; comparatively void of contractions, in a bad condition, and mutilated in the early part. The initial letters of the sections are rubricated, without ornaments.

The title is written on the surface of the closed leaves, perpendicular to their edges.

‘ALPHABETUM GRECUM.’

The words on the second leaf are mostly mutilated : the third leaf commences :

ἀγοραῖος. Forensis conventus : qui vilia emit et vendit.

Ends :

ἡ ὤψ, ὠπός : Vultus.

No authors are quoted in illustration of the glosses. A few remarks are written by later hands, and sometimes in red ink. See the words ὑστέρημα, and τυρηγός : the alphabetical order is not strictly observed.

On the inside of the cover is written Vocabularium Gr. Lat. J. B. Hautin.

Dd. VIII. 4.

A folio, on paper, of 218 leaves, regularly numbered, beginning with the 4th, so that the last is numbered 215 : of the xviiith century.

‘CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES : or the History of the four Evangelists, St Matthew, St Marke, St Luke, St John at large, written and distinguished in such manner as they may with great facility be read and understood ; together with the History of the Actes of the Apostles at large, harmonised out of the Epistles of them as touching the Story, with an abridgement of the said Harmony as touching the Story only with the Revelation of St John at large, together with the abridgement of the prophecies and Visions, digested and written by William Spencer, gent.’

The text is written in a single column, and notes are added in the margin. The author seems to have been a Puritan.

The text differs somewhat from that of the Works, Paris, 1835.

440

Dd. VIII. 6.

A folio, on parchment, of 202 leaves, in double columns, of 30 lines each, written late in the xith century, and not unlike Dd.

vii. 15 and 16, but the writing is smaller, and the letters are rounder. The Volume formerly belonged to the Monastery of St Alban's, as appears from a rubrick at the foot of the Preface: 'Hic est liber sēi Albani, quem qui ei abstulerit aut titulum deleverit vel mutaverit anathema sit. Amen.'

1. ff. 1 a, 1—201 b, 1.

'Incipit Prefatio Sancti Ieronimi Presbiteri in Expositionem Psalmorum.'

Begins:

Ends:

This is the same as the Breviarium in Psalmos. Opp. Hieron. Vall. Vol. vii. App.

2. ff. 201 b, 1—202 a, 2.

Dd. VIII. 7.

A folio, on parchment, imperfect, containing ff. 431, in double columns, of 54 lines each, written about the middle of the xivth century.

1. A fragment of MARCI PAULI VENETI HISTORIA TARTARORUM.

Begins (f. 1) with what corresponds to a portion of Lib. ii. c. xlii. of the text in Novus Orbis:

Myen uenit ut exercitum illius inuaderet. Tartari uero audacter occurrerunt illi. Cum igitur equi Tartarorum uiderunt elephantes...

Ends (f. 7):

Est autem regio illa frigida super modum et usque ad oceanum mare protenditur. Explicit Historia tartarorum.

This MS. wants therefore the concluding sentence given in the edition and in the MS. No. 17, § 12, though with the text of the latter it very closely agrees.

2. Comparing this with No. 1750, we may entitle it,
HISTORIA POLICHRONICA RANULPHI CESTRENSIS.

An alphabetical index occupies ff. 8—14, without a rubrick, and with merely a few lines of explanation beginning, 'Ad subsequentis tabule noticiam,...' the initial letter containing a portrait of a king.

What at its end is termed 'prologus historice poliechronice,' begins (f. 15), 'In historico namque contextu cronographorum diligencia nobis delegato relucet clarius norma morum, forma vivendi,...' and is continued on the next leaf marked 1 by the scribe. After this follows:

Incipit historia poliechronica.

Iulius Cesar diuinis humanisque rebus singulariter instructus cum consulatus sui fascies ageret, ex senatus consulto censuit omnem orbem per prudentes uiros admetiri.

In the text following the chapters are not marked. The leaves are numbered by the scribe for the purpose of the index, and his enumeration is adopted in what follows.

On f. 24, 'Incipit liber secundus,...' and the initial letters of this and the other books are worthy of note: that of Lib. vii. is on f. 321.

The leaves between those marked 249 and 305, containing the history for A.D. 604—944, are missing, as also are those between 345 and 382 corresponding to the period A.D. 1153—1245. The scribe's enumeration does not extend beyond f. 419, and his references in the index do not go beyond f. 401; the handwriting at this place also differs slightly from what precedes. On f. 411 and ff. 413—415 are additions at the foot of the page, that on f. 415 under the date 1337—8, recording that 'hoc anno yems asperissima extitit in Anglia et durauit gelu maximum a 5 Kal. Decembris ad 4 Idus Februarii et niues nulle.'

On f. 424, at the beginning of the year 1342, a different handwriting commences and continues to the conclusion (f. 431*b*), without a rubrick, under the date A.D. 1347, 21 Edw. III.:

...Eodem anno post annalem fere obsidionem famis coacti molestia qui intus erant salvis vita et incubis egressi sunt. Et regi Anglie urbs Calesii reddita est.

See Mon. Hist. Brit. Gen. Introd. §§ 4 and 45.

A folio, on parchment, of 163 leaves, in double columns, of 42 lines each, probably of the XIIIth century.

RABANI MAURI COMMENTARII IN SANCTUM MATTHEUM.

f. 1*b* contains an index of contents to the chapters in the Volume, for purposes of reference, written in a later hand.

After the prologue, 'Memor itaque illius precepti. . . ' and index of chapters, follows the treatise itself, perfect, in VIII. Books.

Begins:

Expositionem itaque scripturus . . .

Ends:

In unitate Spiritus Sancti per omnia secula seculorum. Amen.

Opp., ed. Migne, Par. 1851. Tom. I. pp. 730—1156.

2. 'SUPERVISUS MANERII DE SHIPPON in Com. Bark. parcellæ terrarum et possessionum Charoli principis Walliæ . . . Ducat. suo Cornub. nunc spectan. per excamb. pro Byflet et Waybridge in Surr.' A.D. 1617.

445

Dd. VIII. 11.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 276, with a page of index at the end. Handwriting of the XIVth century.

A large folio, on vellum, containing ff. 464, in double columns, with 53 lines in each column. There are rich illuminated initial letters. Date, the XIVth century.

BIBLIA VULGATA SANCTI HIERONYMI.

The first 5 leaves are occupied with a metrical summary of the events of the Bible, headed ‘Summaria copulacio metricata dicens...’

Then follows the epistle of Jeremiah (Baruch vi.), and then St Jerome’s usual prologue. Genesis begins f. 10, the initial I containing a vertical row of vignettes of the Creation. The books occur in the usual order, excepting that the Book of Baruch and the Acts follow the Epistle to the Hebrews. Of the Psalter there are two versions, the ordinary Vulgate and that of St Jerome from the Hebrew, as given in Sabatier’s edition. A canon of the lessons follows the books of Maccabees, the preface to St Matthew beginning f. 371. After the Apocalypse is an index of names, a metrical summary of the gospels, and lastly a genealogy down to our Lord’s time of Jewish kings and others, in a different hand. Before each book is an index of the chapters with contents. On the cover is written a list of the books of the Bible, and a recipe ‘to make water for ysen;’ and before the Psalter one ‘ad incaustum nigrum faciendum.’

A folio, on parchment, of 114 leaves, in double columns, of 40 lines each, probably of the XIIIth century.

‘ROBERTI PRIORIS DE BERLINTONA COMPILATIONES IN EPISTOLAS PAULI APOSTOLI.’

Begins (after the Preface, 'Sicut et aliarum nearum compilationum...' and the Prologue 'Primum queritur'), f. 3 b 1, with the words, Paulus Servus Christi Jesu—Anselmus Paulus hebraice, quietus Grece...

Ends, on a fragment after f. 292:

... minus perfectis ut crescant, incorrectis ut resipiscant.

Explicit liber compilationum domini Roberti, &c.

The compilation consists of extracts from various Fathers whose names are given; the author says in his own preface, 'Quas diverso modo,' &c.

The four leaves prefixed in the volume to the above treatise, in a hand apparently of the xvth century, contain

1. 'DE OPERIBUS SEX DIERUM.'

Begins:

In principio &c. fratres karissimi secuti Paulus per revelationem didicit...

Ends, on 3rd leaf b 1:

... qui id facturus erat propria voluntate per culpam, et ordinandus domini equitate per penam.

2. A Treatise 'DE PENITENTIA.'

Which seems to have consisted of nine chapters, but has been mutilated.

Begins:

In penitentia autem que peccatorum considerare oporteat...

Ends:

... omni igitur a malo sic mentem revocat ut commissa plangat et plangenda committere non velit ne...

The first of the above treatises is probably, and the second possibly, by the same author as the Commentary. v. Tanner, Bibl. Lond. 1748, p. 657.

Robert (also called Scriba) 4th Prior of Bridlington (or Burlington) in Yorkshire, flourished at the close of the xiiith century. v. Tanner as above.

The second side of the 4th leaf contains a Table of the Lessons, for Sundays and Festivals, taken out of St Paul's Epistles.

On the fly-leaf is:

'14th Feb. 1635. This booke, intituled Compilationes Roberti Prioris de Berlintona in Epistolas Pauli Apostoli, being bequeathed to the publike Library of this University of Cambridg by the last Will and Testament of Mr Thomas Peirson, Rector of Brampton Brian in the County and Diocess of Hereford, sometimes Master of Arts in Emanuell Colledg, was brought and delivered by Mr Christofer Hardy one of the Executors of the saide Mr Peirson.'

There are many copies of this in MS. in various Libraries; it was published Colon. 1531, in 8vo.

‘THOMÆ WALDENSIS DOCTRINALE ANTIQUITATUM ECCLESIAE.’

Vol. I. contains Books I—IV, and begins (after the prefatory letter to Pope Martin V, in the inscription of which the word ‘pape’ has been erased,) f. 3 a, 1:

At the end follows the rubrick, Explicit, &c.

The contents of this MS. form Vols. 1 and 2 of the Edit. Venet. 1571.

There is a third part 'De Sacramentalibus.' The author's name was Netter of Walden: he died in 1430, v. Tanner, Bibl. p. 746.

These are among the MSS. given by Archbishop Parker to the University.

Dd. VIII. 18.

A large folio, on vellum, containing ff. 240, with 21 lines in each page. It has rich illuminated initials, borders, and occasional vignettes. Catchwords occur on every 8th leaf. Date, the xvth century.

PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS, &c.

After a blank leaf, the Kalendar follows ff. 2—7, then an exhortation to read the Psalter, beginning 'Canticum psalmodum corpus sanctificat, animam decorat,...' a prayer for the person about to repeat the Psalms, another Laudatio Psalmorum and an explanation of the word Psalterium.

The Psalter begins f. 10, with a rich border and an illuminated initial letter, containing a stem of Jesse, and ends f. 133, when the usual Canticles follow, beginning with the Confitebor: then the Litany, the Office In vigiliis defunctorum, the Confiteor, and lastly an index of the Psalms and Canticles, giving a slight sketch of the contents of each, with which the MS. ends f. 239 b, the last words being 'Deo gracias.'

In the Kalendar, the word 'pape' and St Thomas of Canterbury's name are effaced—to May 21 is attached the note 'Terre motus anno d. mcccclxxxii.' The order of the Lessons to be read through the year is given in doggerel verse at the end of each month, e.g.

'Post Augustinum doctum Jobum lege justum.'

On f. 9 b is the name Joseph Teneon.

453

Dd. VIII. 19.

A folio, on parchment, 127 leaves, double columns, of about 46 lines each, well written in a hand of the xvth century. It is in a tolerable state of preservation, but incomplete. Nearly all the chief capitals are wanting.

GOWER'S CONFESSIO AMANTIS.

Begins (fol. 1 a):

[O]f hem that writen vs to fore
The bokes dwelle, and we therefore Ben taught of that was write tho

Breaks off (fol. 127 b):

Which of longe tyme hym hadde greued
Bot at the laste it was ached
That he this kyng discomfit hadde.

Fol. 88 b is blank, after which a large gap occurs, extending over a fourth part of Book v. A considerable part of Book vii. is also wanting, and the whole of Book viii. Fol. 15, 16, 17 have been transposed: they should have stood at the close of the volume, fol. 15 being last of all. The real end would therefore be at fol. 15 b ('With hym thre hundred and no mo'). The 'Confessio Amantis' was finished in 1393 and printed by Caxton in 1483 (see Warton, II. 227 sq. ed. 1840).

The following persons are mentioned as successive owners of this copy: Mr Asshe, Thomas Carsson, Ambrose Belson, J. Barton.

At the beginning of the volume are four pages of an older Latin treatise, apparently on the Canon Law: the subject of the last (imperfect) chapter is 'De Scismaticis et ab eis Ordinatis.'

544

Dd. viii. 20.

A folio, on paper, of 70 pages, written in the first half of the xvith century, injured by use and the binder's knife.

1. LIBER EBORACENSIS.

After the heading 'Archiepatus Eboracen.' follows (on pp. 1—46 and 55—70) a list of the different benefices with the Tenths due from each, the amounts of which generally agree with the sums printed in Vol. v. of Valor Ecclesiasticus, (fol. 1825,) though the first item, 'De Archiepato Eboracen. ⁱⁱ ^s ^d cccij. x. iiij. ob.,' is different. The amount for each page has been written at the bottom by another hand of the period.

2. 'Nomina Dignitatum Prebendarum Rectoriarum Vicariarum cantariarum et capellanorum infra Eccles. metropolitancam ciuitatem et Archidiaconatum Eboracen.'

The names (on pp. 47—53) are in four columns, of the incumbents, of the benefices, of the 'clarus valor,' and of the 'decima pars:' from a comparison of the names with the lists given in Drake's Eboracum (fol. 1736) B. II. ch. iii. the lists in the MS. must have been taken between 1534 and 1537, in obedience to the Act, 26 H. VIII. c. 3. See also Ib. ch. ii. p. 519.

Dd. VIII. 21.

Eight folio leaves, on vellum, containing 17 lines in each page, with red and blue initial letters and musical notes. Date, the xvth century.

It is bound up with the previous MS., and thus may possibly be of York use ; but the rubricks differ from those in the printed York missal, as well as from those given in Maskell's Ancient Liturgy of the Church of England, and Daniel's Codex Liturgicus.

456

Dd. VIII. 22.

A large folio, on vellum, now containing 276 leaves, written in double columns in a black-letter character, probably of the xvth century, each column containing about 60 lines ; the initial letters of the capitula are very neatly ornamented with scroll-work, &c., and the initial letters of the books are handsomely illuminated in blue, green, red, pink and gold. The greater part, however, have been cut away, and many leaves are very much mutilated.

1. 'CAII PLINII SECUNDI HISTORIÆ NATURALIS LIBRI XXXVII.'

Begins (corruptly) :

ego orationes sibi prætereo (leg. sino præterfluere). Nec Plancus illepide, &c. (Lib. I. præfat. § 24). fol. 1.

Ends (still more corruptly) :

ab ea, exceptis indie fabulis, proxime quidem dixerim Hyspaniam quecunque ambitu mari. (Lib. xxxvii. in fine.) fol. 266 (verso).

With the exception of the few leaves lost at the beginning, the MS. contains Pliny's work entire.

This MS. is alluded to in Sillig's Catalogue of the Codices of Pliny prefixed to his edition.

2. 'CAII PLINI SECUNDI ORATORIS VERONENSIS LIBER ILLUSTRIMUM INCIPIT. DE PROCA REGE ALBANORUM.'

Begins:

A thin paper book, in folio, on about 140 pages, containing 'The HISTORY and Antiquity of St Peters or WESTMINSTER ABBY.'

There are many corrections by the writer in the preface, which begins, 'If the study of Antiquity in generall, and...'; but the work itself is clearly written, with the exception of the 'Carta Regis Edgari,' the first document in the Appendix.

The epitaphs given in the Addenda are not later than 1682. Among the Addenda are a few corrections, as if for a second edition, and an account of the discoveries made by Sir Christopher Wren, in 1684, when he was ordered to search for a resting-place for the late King. Perhaps this may be the original of Henry Keep's book, which under the title of Monumenta Westmonasteriensia, came out in 1683. (See An Account of the Writers of the History of Westminster Abbey, by Richard Widmore, 4to, London, 1743.)

Dd. VIII. 49.

A quarto, on parchment, of 199 leaves, double columns, about 24 lines in a column, written early in the xiith century.

ΕΥΑΓΓΕΛΙΣΤΑΡΙΟΝ.

The Synaxarium is contained in ff. 1*a*—141*a*, and the Menologium in ff. 141*a*—197*a*; ff. 197*a*—198*b* consist of Lessons for special occasions, war, drought, sickness, &c.

(f. 199 (inverted) contains Matt. xxvii. 48—54, Joh. xix. 31—37, and Matt. xxvii. 55—61, without any indication of the change of Gospel.)

A leaf has been lost between ff. 157—8, the text ending at Luke xiii. 33, and recommencing at Mark vi. 5. The 24th quaternion likewise consists of but 7 leaves, but there is no gap in the text. Each quaternion is marked with a Greek and also an Armenian numeral, the latter occasionally repeated in a different hand.

The MS. is paged throughout in a modern hand, perhaps that of Mill, who seems likewise to have added references to the present chapters and verses for 41 leaves. Corrections of different dates occur here and there, and in many places the faded letters have been coarsely retouched. The margin has notes scrawled in Arabic at pp. 1 a, 21 b, 22 a, 59 b, 186 b, 188 a.

The book is written in a clear, upright, not 'uncial' (Scholz), hand, with scarcely any abbreviations; the liturgical directions and stops are rubricated; accents and breathings are given; the usual itacisms occur with tolerable frequency. The text does not appear to differ materially from that of ordinary Constantinopolitan MSS.

f. 198 b ends with

Κύριε ἐὺχαριστῶ σοι—
Κύριε δοξάζω σε.

This Evangelisterium was lent by Bishop Moore to Mill, who included a very imperfect collation of it (marked 'M. 2.') in the Appendix to his edition of 1707 (see Proleg. p. clxvii. a), afterwards incorporated with the other various readings by Küster. It is numbered 4 by Wetstein (t. i. p. 63), and after him Griesbach and Scholz.

ff. 200—204 contain fragments of GREEK PRAYERS, chiefly to St Nicholas, resembling those in the Menæa. These leaves are written in a large black hand of probably the XIIIth century, with about 14 lines in a page, they are in a very tattered and macerated state.

f. 200 begins:

...δαιμόνων καθερ...

Ends:

...τα δεσμα διεβήξας· ἐὺχαῖς τοῦ...

ff. 204—201 (inverted) begin:

...τοῖς βασάνοις...

End:

Dd. IX. 2.

A collection of COPIES of DOCUMENTS, which, with the exception of the last, relate to the negotiations carried on by Q. ELIZABETH with the Kings of DENMARK and POLAND, and certain towns of the Hanseatic League, in order to obtain for her subjects greater freedom of trading.

They are on paper, and now bound together in one volume, which consists of about 300 leaves, the blank pages included. It will be seen that the articles have not been arranged according to date, and that article 29 is defective.

It is to be noted that they are not comprised either in Rymer, Fœdera, or in Dumont, Corps Universel des Traités: in the former work indeed nothing occurs between the dates of 1582, 19 Aug. and 1585, 19 Apr., the interval to which the chief part of the following articles belongs.

Articles 1, 4—7, 8 d, 9, 11—16, 18, 20—35 d, 35 f—35 h, appear to be in the same bold and distinct handwriting, perhaps of the xvth century. Articles 2, 17, 36 are in a handwriting which is less rounded than the preceding. Articles 3, 8 c, f, 10, 19, 35 e, are in ordinary running hands: articles 3 a, b, e are distinguished by the minuteness and regularity of the writing.

On f. 44 is the signature 'Laure. Tomson.' On f. 47 are the endorsements, 'The instructions for M^r Harbert for Denmarke drawn by doct^r Aubrey,' and 'R^e the fywth of July, 1583. At Humborowghe.'

It ends (f. 16):

2. 'Carta Hugonis comitis,' confirming the gifts of his father and others.
3. 'Carta predicti Hugonis,' concerning the privileges and liberties of the Abbey.
4. 'Carta domini Henrici, filii Williami Conquestoris Anglie primi.' Nasmyth justly remarks that this is probably an early forgery, it not being in a similar style to other deeds of the time of Hen. I. It gives a sort of history of the foundation of the Abbey. The following is equally apocryphal.
5. 'Confirmatio ejusdem Henrici filii Williami Conquestoris.'

20. 'Carta Willelmi de Bardeley de clamatio in Prestecote.'
21. 'Releas de Willelmi de Bardeley,' concerning the same.

A very narrow folio, on paper, of the xviiith century, containing 163 unpagged leaves, some of which are in bad preservation, mostly very ill written, others are blank; each page contains about 80 lines. The author was Alexander Ros, whose name occurs in the Prolegomena several times and elsewhere. The dates of portions of the MS. A.D. 1606, 1609, and 1611, occur at intervals in the book.

ADVERSARIA ALEXANDRI ROS.

Begins with,

1. 'Prolegomena.' fol. 1.

The first words seem to be Hic liber, but the ink has almost vanished from a great part of the first leaf.

The principal contents of the works are as follows.

2. 'Phrases Terentianæ ex Andria depromptæ.' fol. 4.

These are followed by a few brief miscellaneous entries on the derivation of some of the letters of the Greek alphabet, de genere logica, de subjecto logica, de fine logica.

There are forty-one aphorisms, and some theological notes appended.

6. f. 40. 15 leaves, uniform with the preceding, the last three leaves are blank.

Dd. IX. 69.

A small quarto, on parchment, of 221 leaves. §§ 1 and 2 are regularly paged, independently of each other; the first a Byzantine MS., the second written in western Europe.

1. ff. 1—290. THE FOUR GOSPELS IN GREEK.

On f. 1 is a note of no importance. ff. 2—9 contain the Eusebian Canons, and on ff. 10, 85, 136, 227 are illuminated frontispieces to the Gospels. A summary of contents is also prefixed to each.

This MS. is mentioned by Scholz and numbered 60 amongst the MSS. of the Gospels in his catalogue.

f. 290 contains two notes in rubrick, the second being a prayer to the Virgin.

See Montfaucon, Palæogr. Græca, p. 286.

2. ff. 292—213. THE APOCALYPSE, in a handwriting of the xvth century.

The text is perfect, without introduction or note of any kind. This is numbered 10 in Scholz's list of MSS. of the Apocalypse.

557

Begins (after the text):

Dominus et redemptor noster...

Ends:

...in regno celorum mereamur habere. Qui vivit, &c.

The Sunday after Whitsunday is called the Octave of Pentecost, and the Sundays subsequent to this are reckoned post Octavam Pentecostes. This gives no clue to the date of the MS.

In 'Constitutions' of A.D. 1240, Wilkins, Cone. i. 677, the festival in honour of the Trinity is mentioned in the list for Sarum diocese, but not in that for Worcester. The first council which sanctioned the observance of Trinity Sunday as such, was that of Arles in 1260. Can. vi. Labbe, Vol. XXIII. col. 1006.

Besides the sermons for Sundays there are also some for the principal Festivals of the Ecclesiastical year. All are very brief.

2. ff. 85 b—139. 'TRACTATUS ET EXPOSITIO EVANGELIORUM que leguntur in festivitatibus Sanctorum Apostolorum Martirum Confessorum atque Virginum.'

Some of the sermons hardly fall under this title, e.g. 'In dedicacione Ecclesie,' 'In capite Jejuni,' &c.

Begins (after the text):

Johannes Evangelista manifestat...

Ends:

...quod ipse nobis patrare dignetur. Qui cum Deo patre, &c.

558

Dd. IX. 71.

A quarto, on parchment, of 245 leaves, with 34 lines in a page. Written in the xvth century. A leaf has been lost after f. 24.

These are 119 in number, all upon the Epistle for the day.

Begins (after the text):

Hoc tempore dicitur tempus adventus...

Ends:

... non vult abstinere quin ornet se crinibus alienis.

The last ten leaves contain an index of subjects alphabetically arranged.

At foot of which are the words: 'Explicit liber Parisiensis super Epistolas per annum cum tabula. Opus doctoris Parisiensis, &c.'

Below is written:

'Liber Johan. Warde Coll. Syd. Sussex Cant. Clerici in Artibus Magistri de Sabridgeworth in Comitatu Hertford Vicarii, Setho permissione divina Sarum Episcopo Sacellani domestici. Janⁱⁱ 28^{to} 1679.'

There are various notes in the margin, many by the scribe, some in a handwriting of the XIVth century, and others of a later date.

At the foot of the first page is ‘Ecclesiast. Hist. de do. Seffr Epi.....’

Le Neve, Fasti, mentions two bishops of Chichester of the name Seffride, the one buried at Glastonbury, 1125—50, the other 1180—1204.

On the back of the last leaf, in the scribe’s hand, is ‘Panis uite celestis doctrina pascamur ego pane illo.’

Dd. x. 21.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 163, with 20 lines in each page. It has a few illuminated letters and borders. Catch-words occur at every 8th leaf. Date, the XVth century.

PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS, &c.

The first two leaves contain devotions to the B. V., especially relating to the Visitation. The next 6 contain the Kalendar, the name of St Thomas of Canterbury, and the word papa after SS. Gregory, Sylvester, Clement, &c. being effaced.

The Psalter begins as usual, f. 9; on the margins are occasionally inserted in a later hand antiphons for the different festivals; the Psalter ends f. 132 a, and the Canticles follow, and then the Litany, ending f. 145 b. Then follow, in a different hand, the Vigilie Mortuorum and Commendacio animarum, ending f. 153 b. Then the hymns O lux beata Trinitas, Nocte surgentes, Ecce jam nobis tenuatur umbra, and some prayers in English to the ‘most glorious and precyous herte of ihu cryst,’ ending f. 155. The remainder of the MS. is occupied by Hymns for the different Hours, beginning with Primo dierum omnium, and ending, f. 163 b, with Deus creator omnium.

From the ‘Translacio S. Joh. de Beu,’ i. e. Beverley, being inserted in the Kalendar, Oct. 25, the MS. probably belonged to York cathedral, or one of the northern monasteries.

A parchment book, in octavo, containing 159 leaves, written in the xivth century.

The initial letters of the several books abound with grotesque figures, and the other capitals are unusually bold. Short titles have been written in the margin throughout, and notes and pointers by a later hand. The leaves at either end have suffered from damp.

‘SECUNDA PARS HISTORIE AUREE.’

After this is a table in 7 columns of descents similar to that in Howard’s edition (fol. 1601) of Florentius Wigorniensis, p. 688. Compare ‘Florentii Wigorniensis ad Chronicon Appendix,’ printed in Mon. Hist. Brit. i. 627—34: and ‘Historia Nennii.’ Ib. i. 74.

This is followed by cap. 3, ‘De primo aduentu Saxonum in Anglia,’ beginning:

Peraetia natiuitate dni 449 annis de Germanie populis...

Then follows ‘Genealogia regum Cantuariorum. ca. 4.’ which chapter and the 3 succeeding are with some omissions the same as the text printed in Mon. Hist. Brit. i. 635—642. After which follow ‘De adventu Normannorum in Angliam, cap. 13,’ and ‘Genealogia regum Scottorum...cap. 14,’ the latter ends:

...Margareta nomine que debuit fuisse desponsata Edwardo de Carnaruan qui fuit filius et heres Edwardi primi post conquestum.

‘Genealogia Regum Saxonum, Liber 1^{us}’ is the running title.

‘A Natiuitate xpi. Liber 2^{us}’ is the running title to this book, and the rubric before the list of 53 capitula, of which the first is ‘De Rachboldo duce Trisonum,’ and the last ‘De obitu sci Vltani.’

Of ‘de conquesta terre see. Liber 3^{us}’ the first chapter is ‘De causa mocionis usque terram scām.’ and the 74th ‘De morte regis Henrici.’

Of ‘De Ricardo rege. Liber 4^{us}’ the first chapter is ‘De reditu ducis Ricardi in Angliam et de electione eiusdem...’ and the 76th, ‘De morte regis Henrici.’

Of ‘De Edwardo primo post conquestum. Liber 5^{us}’ the first is ‘De coronacione...’ and the 97th ‘De treugis inter reges francie et anglie initis.’ To the truce in the latter is the date Jan⁷. 19, 1342.

'C. SÆTONII TRANQUILLI DE VITA CÆSARUM.'

The MS. contains the whole twelve books. The last two leaves comprise 43 hexameters and 1 pentameter, entitled De Caesaribus versus.

The first line is Caesareos proceres in quorum regna secundis.

The concluding one being

Expeditam series quos tenet imperii.

Dd. x. 42.

A small folio, on paper, containing 56 leaves, of which the last six are blank, neatly written in characters much resembling the Aldine type; the capital letters flourished: these and other parts of the MS. rubricated. Each page contains about 20 lines: it cannot be older than the latter part of the xvth century.

‘Θεοκρίτου βουκολικά.’

The MS. contains the first 18 Idyls. It commences with Θεοκρίτου γένος. (Gaisford's Poet. Min. Gr. vol. 2. p. li.) Θεούκριτος ὁ τῶν βουκολικῶν ποιητῆς, κ.τ.λ. (fol. 1). This is followed by Ποῦ εὐρέθησαν ἢ πῶς τὰ βουκολικὰ ποιήματα. (fol. 2). This comprises the two pieces printed by Gaisford, ut supra, pp. lii., liii., and adds some remarks on the Doric dialect, beginning ἰστέον ὅτι οἱ Δωριεῖς τρέπουσι τὴν οὐ δὶφθογγον ὅτε μὲν εἰς ᾧ μέγα, ὅτε δὲ εἰς οἰ, κ.τ.λ. To these succeed a paragraph ὅτι κατὰ τὸν αὐτὸν χρόνον ἤκμασαν ἑπτὰ ποιηταὶ ἐπὶ Πτολεμαίου Φιλαδέλφου καὶ Βερενίκης, κ.τ.λ. These concluding portions are not contained in Gaisford's edition. ὑπόθεσις τοῦ πρώτου εἰδυλλίου. (fol. 2). This agrees substantially with the first hypothesis in Gaisford (p. liv.) The hypotheses of the other idyls also agree generally with those in his edition. The interlineal rubrical glosses accompany the first three idyls only: the marginal scholia cease after the fifth idyl. The latter will be found in Gaisford's edition. After this follow two poems which occupy the other side of the leaf: the first is of 21 lines in different metres, entitled ἤχημα Μουσῶν ἢ Θεοκρίτου σύμμετρον, published in the edition of Kiessling, p. 793, and the other in elegiac verse, entitled Πλάτωνος εἰς τὸν Πάνα, published in the Gr. Anth. Vol. I. p. 105. Ed. Lips.

A quarto, on paper, 118 leaves (including blanks), about 20 lines in each page, handwriting of the latter half of the xviiith century.

AN ALBUM,

Containing sonnets, love-songs, dedications, &c. chiefly in French, and belonging, it would seem, to a young Flemish nobleman ('Jacobo Marnixio Santaldegondio,' or 'Jacques de Marnix, zoone van Myn H. Philips de Marnix, H. van S. Aldegonde ;' see fol. 49, a, and Wilhelm Broes, Filip van Marnix, Amsterdam, 1840). Many of the sonnets are addressed to Flemish ladies by the owner, and other pieces to himself by different scholars of his acquaintance. The dates are generally about 1580.

671

Dd. XI. 45.

A small quarto, on paper, of the xvth century, paged throughout.

A Collection of MEDICAL TREATISES, variously written, but nearly of the same date.

1. ff. 1—62 b.

THESAURUS PAUPERUM. Receipts for various complaints.

This MS. agrees very nearly in arrangement and substance with a work of the same name by Petrus Hispanus, printed at Frankfort, 1576. The first two chapters of the book are wanting in the MS. ; and towards the end in the MS. are chapters not in the edition, and some in the edition not to be found in the MS.

Begins :

Ad pustulas capitis sanandas. Lavetur sepe capud, &c.

Ends with two prayers :

Domine Jhesu qui es omnium vera salus, &c.

Deus qui mirabiliter homines creasti, &c.

Explicit Thesaurus Pauperum.

On the same page is 'Cura Fistule,' with a charm.

De nimia caliditate, &c....

Ends :

...infantis nutrimento non est conveniens. Explicit.

3. ff. 80 b—82 a. "Liber de necessariis ad differendum in practica necessaria ad differendum secundum practico. secundum Magistrum R."

Begins :

Electuaria frigida ad caliditatem curandum competentia, &c....

Ends :

...aque calide. Explicit.

4. ff. 82 a—84 b. "Libellus magistri cardinalis docens purgare quatuor humores."

Begins :

O Medice accedens ad infirmum quem nunquam vidisti...

Ends :

...hec omnia diligenter considera et attendas.

ff. 85—88 are wanting: also f. 90. f. 89, and the latter part of f. 84, are parts of a treatise, or of two treatises, uniform in style with the rest.

5. f. 92. A tract, uniform in style, on the human body.

Begins :

Homo de humo factus est, constat ex humoribus, &c....

Ends :

...quod isti et humores.

ff. 93. 96—98. 117, 118, are wanting.

6. ff. 94 to f. 119. A Latin-English Dictionary of herbs; incomplete; some pages are blank. There are a few philtres and cabalistic signs interspersed on vacant pages.

7. ff. 119—128.

Two Treatises, in Latin, on 'Tenebrositas Visus' and 'Flebotomia.'

Besides these two tracts there are miscellaneous prescriptions at the beginning and end of the MS., in Latin and English.

Ends with a charm for toothache, in a later hand :

...but if the payne be benethe, then pricke it beneath.

11. ff. 140—144. Irregular Medical Notes, in Latin and English. In f. 142, the writing is displaced on account of a copy of a letter, without signature or address, referring to a copy of 'anc Ingliche buke cald Mort Arthur.'

12. ff. 145—153. An incomplete Latin-English Dictionary of Herbs. Three of the leaves of this part are of parchment.

It is bound up with the 6 following MSS.

678

Three quartos, on paper, the first of 6, the second of 8, and the third of 6 leaves. Written in the xviiith century.

Three LATIN POEMS, by Thomas Cooper, dedicated to Magister Oulsworth.

1. 'VINDICLÆ TEMPLI SANCTI PAULI.'

Begins:

Mutantur Oh quam tempora, et nos iis simul ...

Ends:

Capita ut levemus, quod prope est redemptio.

2. 'PRINCIPATUS EST DIVINA ORDINATIO a nemine violanda.'

Begins :

Parere Regi cur volet pios Deus ?

Ends :

Sic Christianus vincit, et patiens simul.

3. 'REX SUECORUM, VIVUS AN MORTUUS : in usum ecclesie.'

After the dedication 'Magistro Dulsworth,' by Thomas Cooper, is a second title, 'Ventilatio incerti illius et contrarii rumoris de regis Suecorum morte et vitâ,' preceding 35 Elegiac couplets, beginning,

Fama diu dubiis volitauerat anxia pennis
In vivis Succus mortuus anne foret.

Ending :

Sic utrinque cadat fallacis gloria carnis
Vt soli restet gloria sola Deo. Amen.

679

Dd. XI. 53.

A paper book in quarto, of about 160 pages, forming
TWO LAW COMMON-PLACE BOOKS.

Of each the handwriting is of the xviiith century : one consists of short notes which are scarcely legible, the other is more formal.

Dd. XI. 54.

A small octavo, on cotton paper, in bad preservation and in many places illegible, now consisting of 292 pages (paged), containing from 20 to 30 lines in a page. It consists of two parts in different hands : the one more boldly written, ending p. 196, and seemingly more ancient than the other (beginning p. 197), whose characters are far more minute, and in which the contractions are more extensive. Both however are very late, and probably belong to the xvth century. The earlier MS. has the titles and initial letters rubricated and slightly ornamented : the other is quite plain : in both various additions are made by later hands. The first leaf is written in a different hand to either of the others.

A 'recueil' in Latin has been added by some Frenchman, probably by J. B. Hautin.

Several leaves are missing in the MS. and were absent when the book was paged.

1. 'Mauricii Imperatoris Epitaphium.' (Recueil.) p. 1.

The Greek title has become illegible : the only word that can be deciphered is the first, ἀσύμφορον.

ὁ Μανρίκιος ὁ βασιλεὺς μαχέσασθαι, and concludes with the epitaph in elegiacs, written by his wife Constantina, of which the first line is :

Ἄδ' ἐγὼ ἡ τριτάλαινα καὶ ἀμφοτέρων βασιλῆων.

2. A fragment relating to Justinian, the son of the Emperor Mauricius, partly illegible.

Begins :

ὅτι εὗρον εἰς βῆμα τοῦ σοφοῦ Ἰσαακίου τὸν Ἰουστινιανόν, κ.τ.λ.

The concluding part is illegible. The fragment is followed by another of 4 lines (almost illegible), in which occurs the word Οὐαλεριανός.

3. διὰ τίνων εὐρέθη ἡ ἰατρικὴ ἐπιστήμη. p. 2.

Begins :

πρῶτος μὲν Ἀπόλλων ἐφεῦρεν αὐτὴν καὶ ἔδωκεν αὐτὴν τῷ ἵπποκενταύρω...

Ends :

Ἐρασίστρατος καὶ Ἀσκληπιάδης.

This page contains also a recipe πρὸς ὄξυδορκίας, and two or three other worthless scraps.

4. DIALOGUES AND OTHER WORKS OF LUCIAN. pp. 3—111.

The titles of Lucian's works, when not bracketed, are supplied by the MS.

(1) Προμηθέως καὶ Διός. (Vol. I. p. 204, Reitz.) p. 3.

This MS contains some excellent readings in various places, where it has been collated with the edition of Reitzius. As several of Lucian's Dialogues have the same title, those contained in this MS. are referred to their proper places in his edition. Various scholia are also found throughout the MS.

(2) Πορθμέως καὶ Μενίππου. (Vol. I. p. 423, R.) p. 4.

(3) Κροίσου καὶ Πλούτωνος. (Vol. I. p. 336.) p. 5.

(4) Μενίππου καὶ Κερβέρου. (Vol. I. p. 420.) p. 6.

(5) Μενίππου καὶ Ἑρμοῦ. (Vol. I. p. 408.) p. 7.

(6) Μενίππου καὶ Αἰακοῦ. (Vol. I. p. 412.) p. 7.

(7) Μενίππου καὶ Ταντάλου. (Vol. I. p. 406.) p. 10.

(8) Μενίππου καὶ Χείρωνος. (Vol. I. p. 434.) p. 11.

(9) Μενίππου καὶ Τειρεσίου. (Vol. I. p. 445.) p. 11.

(10) Μενίππου καὶ Τροφωνίου. (Vol. I. p. 338.) p. 13.

(11) Ἑρμοῦ καὶ Χάρωνος. (Vol. I. p. 341.) p. 13.

(12) Πλούτωνος καὶ Ἑρμοῦ. (Vol. I. p. 343.) p. 14.

The MS. has lost a leaf here, and this dialogue is incomplete, the codex containing only the beginning.

(13) [Τερψίονος καὶ Πλούτωνος.] (Vol. I. 346.) p. 15.

Incomplete: the MS. contains only the latter part.

(14) Διογένους καὶ Ἡρακλέους. (Vol. I. p. 402.) p. 15.

This dialogue wants two or three lines at the end, for the MS. has here lost one or more leaves.

(15) [Ἀλεξάνδρου καὶ Φιλίππου.] (Vol. I. p. 394.) p. 17.

Contains only the last few lines.

(16) Διογένους καὶ Ἀλεξάνδρου. (Vol. I. p. 389.) p. 17.

(22) Ἐρωτος καὶ Διός. (Vol. I. p. 205.) p. 37.

(24) Ἥρας καὶ Διός. (Vol. I. p. 213.) p. 41.

(25) Διός, Ἀσκληπίου, Ἡρακλέους. (Vol. I. p. 235.) p. 43.

(26) Ἑρμοῦ καὶ Ἀπόλλωνος. (Vol. I. p. 238.) p. 44.

(27) Τῶν αὐτῶν. (Vol. I. p. 241.) p. 44.

This dialogue appears in the MS. as continuous with another having the same title in Reitzius' edition, Vol. I. p. 245.

(28) Ἥρας καὶ Λητοῦς. (Vol. I. p. 243.) p. 46.

(29) Ἥρας καὶ Διός. (Vol. I. p. 247.) p. 48.

(30) Ἥρας καὶ Διός. (Vol. I. p. 216.) p. 49.

The MS. is imperfect, and only contains about two-thirds of this dialogue.

(31) [Ποσειδῶνος καὶ Ἑρμοῦ.] (Vol. I. p. 227.) p. 51.

Contains only the concluding sentences.

(32) Κύκλωπος καὶ Ποσειδῶνος. (Vol. I. p. 291.) p. 51.

 (46) Ἡρόδοτος ἢ Ἰετίων. (Vol. I. p. 831.) p. 111.

This dialogue has lost its middle part, one leaf being wanting.

5. An unedited declamation, perhaps by Libanius.

Tit. ἀνῆλθέ τις εἰς τὴν ἀκρόπολιν ὡς ἀποκτενῶν τὸν τύραννον, καὶ αὐτὸν μὲν οὐχ εὔρεν, τὸν δὲ υἱὸν αὐτοῦ ἀποκτείνας κατέλιπε τὸ ξίφος ἐν τῷ σώματι· ἐλθὼν δὲ ὁ τύραννος καὶ τὸν υἱὸν ἰδὼν ἦδη νεκρὸν τῷ αὐτοῦ ξίφει ἑαυτὸν ἀπέκτεινεν· αἰτεῖ ὁ ἀνελθὼν καὶ τὸν τοῦ τυράννου υἱὸν ἀνελῶν γέρας, ὡς τυραννοκτόνος. p. 113.

No declamation having any such title is mentioned by Westermann in his Geschichte der Beredsamkeit in Griechenland und Rom., but the author is very possibly Libanius.

Begins:

Δύο τυράννους ἀποκτείνας, ὃ ἄνδρες δικασταί, μιᾶς ἡμέρας τὸν μὲν ἦδη παρηβηκότα τὸν δὲ ἀκμάζοντα, κ. τ. λ.

Ends:

Tit. τίνας ἂν εἶποι λόγους Αἴας μετὰ τὴν μανίαν σωφρονήσας. p. 164.

By some accident the scribe has under this title copied another declamation, whose proper title is Αἴας μέλλων ἑαυτὸν ἀποσφάττειν. See Vol. IV. p. 1059.

18. By Libanius, but without his name.

Id. Vol. iv. p. 47. Imperfect: ends with the words καὶ σωφρονῶ (Vol. iv. p. 60).

Scholia on the above μελετήματα are found in various places.

23. An orthographical treatise, without title, very much injured. p. 197.

Begins:

Τῶν διὰ τοῦ εἰα.

Then follows a bare list of words ending in εἰα: as ἀσχοκέρδεια, ἄδεια, (&c. line 1). Similarly (l. 13), we have Τὰ δὲ διὰ τοῦ εἰ γραφόμενα: ἀχηνία, ἀσωτία, &c.: the last few lines consist of grammatical observations, as the difference between ψάλιον (an ornament for horses), and ψέλιον (an ornament for ladies) according to this treatise. The last words are βορέας, παρὰ τὸ (sic) βορὰ ὁ τρέφων καὶ αὔξων τοὺς κάρπους.

Taken from the Etym. Magnum. See Steph. Gr. Thes. p. 2777. Ed. Valpy.

24. ‘Συναγωγὴ καὶ ἐξήγησις ὧν ἐμνήσθη ἱστοριῶν ὁ ἐν ἀγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν Γρηγόριος ἐν τῷ πρώτῳ στηλιτευτικῷ.’ (Without author’s name). p. 197.

This is the treatise ascribed to Nonnus by Billius, &c.: it is published by Br Mountague in his edition of St Gregory Nazianzen’s Invectives against Julian. (See Bentley’s Phalaris, Vol. i. pp. 94—97. Dyce’s edition). The present MS. contains the commentary on the First Invective down to the end of c. ξβ. περὶ τοῦ Παλαμῆδου, p. 147, Ed. Mount.: after which (fol. 217, l. 15) it proceeds continuously with the conclusion of the commentary on the Second Invective, c. λ. περὶ τοῦ Κοκύτου καὶ Πυριφλεγέθουτος (p. 171, Ed. Mount.): and so goes on to the end, with some transpositions and variations. The text differs a good deal from that of Mountague in several places.

25. ‘Ἐξήγησις ἱστοριῶν τῶν ἐν τῷ εἰς Βασίλειον ἐπὶ ταφίῳ.’ p. 219.

Apparently by the same author as the preceding treatise: it gives accounts of Cecrops, Æacus, Heracles, Iphigenia, the Thessalian Cave, the ring of Gyges, Midas, Abaris, the river Alpheus, the Salamander, Orestes and Pylades, the Cretan Labyrinth, Minos, Egyptian Thebes, Mausolus, the Pyramids, &c.

This seems to be an unedited treatise, but probably is the same as one of those mentioned in Cave's Hist. Lit. Another copy of this work is contained in Gg. i. 2.

26. 'Συναγωγὴ καὶ ἐξήγησις ὧν ἐμνήσθη ἱστοριῶν ὁ ἐν ἀγίοις πατρὸς ἡμῶν Γρηγόριος ἐν τῷ εἰς τὰ Φῶτα λόγῳ.' p. 225.

Imperfect, the MS. having lost one or more leaves. Probably unedited.

27. A treatise on Greek Dialects, slightly imperfect at the beginning.

Begins:

Αἰολίς Ἰὰς καὶ Κοινή, Ἀθίς μὲν καλεῖται ἀπὸ Ἀθίδος τῆς Κρανάου θυγατρὸς, Αἰολίς ἀπ' Αἰόλου τοῦ Ἑλληνος, κ.τ.λ. p. 229.

Ends:

τὰ σύνθετα ῥήματα διαλύουσι (sc. Ἴωνες) καὶ μεταξύ τιθέασιν ἄλλο τι οἶον, λέων κατὰ ταῦρον ἐδηδῶς, ἀντὶ τοῦ κατεδηδῶς, κατὰ δ' ἔκτανεν Ἡερίωνα ἀντὶ τοῦ κατέκτανεν. p. 233.

This production is very much taken from the τεχνικά of Johannes Philoponus, but does not exactly agree with that treatise.

28. 'Περὶ τῶν ἐν λέξεσι πάθων.' p. 234.

Begins:

πάθη εἰσὶν ἐν ταῖς λέξεσι δεκαοκτῶ, ἐννέα μὲν κατὰ προσθήκην, ἐννέα δὲ κατὰ ἔλλειψιν ἐναντία τῇ προσθήκῃ οἶον πρόθεσις, ἀφαιρέσις, κ.τ.λ.

Ends:

ἀποκοπὴ δὲ τὸ ἐναντίον στέρησις συλλαβῆς κατὰ τὸ τέλος οἶον ἰδρῶτα, ἰδρῶ. p. 235.

Derived from Tryphon's work, having the same title. See Museum Criticum Cant. Vol. i. p. 32.

29. 'Πόσοι εἰσὶν οἱ ποιητικοὶ τρόποι.' p. 235.

Begins:

Ποιητικοὶ τρόποι εἰσι κ̄ ἀλληγορία, μεταφορὰ, καταχρῆσις, κ.τ.λ.

Imperfect, ends in the middle of the account of ἔλλειψις.

ἔλλειψις δὲ ἐστὶ λόγος ὁ μὴ κατὰ τὸ πλήρες φερόμενος, κ.τ.λ.

Probably a fragment of a work by Tryphon, or rather of some Byzantine compilation made from it. See Fabr. Bibl. Græc. Vol. vi. p. 351. Ed. Harles.

30. A miscellaneous collection of short poems without title or author's name, imperfect at the beginning. p. 237.

Begins (abruptly):

πρὸς εὐσεβεστέρους τε καὶ σοφωτέρους.

At the bottom of the page a fresh piece begins:

εἰς τοὺς δύο ἁγίους Θεοδώρους, of which the first line is:

ὡς ἀγγίνους ἦν ὁ γραφεὺς τῶν εἰκόνων.

Then follow other short pieces entitled ἀμοιβαῖον εἰς τὸν ἀσώματον, ἡ ἐκ τοῦ Βασιλείου δέησις πρὸς τὸν Χριστὸν, ὡς ἐκ τοῦ Προδρόμου, &c. in very bad metre. Mention is made in one of them of ἡ πανσέβαστος Αὔγουστα Θεόδωρα. Perhaps Athanasius of Mount Athos is the author of these poems. See Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Vol. xi. p. 76 (Harl.)

31. 'Περὶ τῶν τεσσάρων στοιχείων ὅπερ κοινωνοῦσι πρὸς ἄλληλα, ὅποῖον ἔχει ἕκαστον ἰδίωμα.' p. 240.

Begins:

Τὰ μὲν στοιχεῖα τέσσαρα εἰσὶ· πρῶτον ἀήρ, δεύτερον πῦρ, τρίτον γῆ, τέταρτον ὕδωρ· καὶ ὁ μὲν ἀήρ ἔστι θερμὸς καὶ ὑγρὸς, κ.τ.λ.

Then follow the τέσσαρες χυμοί: viz. αἷμα, χολή, χυμὸς, φλέγμα: after them the τέσσαρες ἄνεμοι. This (as well indeed as almost every other grammatical treatise which follows) belongs evidently to the very worse period of the Byzantine school of grammarians, such as Manuel Moschopulus, and the like.

32. 'Περὶ κινήσεως ψυχῆς,' and other matters. p. 240.

Begins:

Κίνησις ψυχῆς ἐστὶ κυκλική μὲν ἢ εἰς ἑαυτὴν εἴσοδος, κ.τ.λ.

This is followed by a short account of the divisions of the soul (λογισμὸς, θυμὸς, ἐπιθυμία), and the divisions of the passions, the divisions of κακία (p. 243), of κίνησις, of νόμος, of ῥητόρεια, of ψεῦδος, of εὐεργεσία, of ἰατρικὴ, &c. which it would not be worth while to describe particularly.

33. 'Τοῦ Χαβρίου τετράστιχα.' p. 251.

Begins:

ᾧμοις ὄνος παρήγεν ἀργυροῦν βρέτας.

These are the fables published by Neveletus in his Fabulae Variorum Auctorum, Frankf. 1660, under the name of Gabrias. See Tyrwhitt's Dissertation and Bentley on Phalaris (Vol. II. pp. 227—233) for an account of them.

They are accompanied by scholia and explanations of a very worthless description.

34. A miscellaneous collection of moral precepts, and grammatical remarks on them, addressed to children. p. 258.

Begins :

ἱερεῖ, ὃ οὗτος, παντὶ πρόσεχε καὶ θώκων τούτῳ ὑπεξίστασο, κ.τ.λ.

Upon which follows a commentary, ἱερεῖ : Τῷ πρεσβυτέρῳ, κ. τ. λ.

In the course of the treatise, the writer says :

μικρὰ τοῖς μικροῖς ὑμῖν, ὃ παῖδες, προσδιαλέγομαι.

As a specimen of the style of information, may be taken the following (p. 271) :

ὄρα καὶ τοῦτο· τρία εἰσι γένη ἐν τοῖς ὀνόμασι, ἀρσενικόν, θηλυκόν καὶ οὐδέτερον.

Many pages of this treatise have been struck through with a pen as being utterly worthless.

35. ‘Περὶ προθέσεων, περὶ βαρβαρισμοῦ, περὶ ἐπιρρήμάτων,’ &c. p. 273.

Begins :

προθέσεις : τῇ μὲν φωνῇ ὀκτωκαίδεκά εἰσι, τῷ δὲ σημασινομένῳ ἑπτακαίδεκα.

Then follows a chapter on barbarism (p. 277), beginning, ὁ βαρβαρισμὸς ἐν λέξεσι γίνεται ὅταν ἐξ ἀτεχνίας παραφθαρῇ ἢ συλλαβῇ, and another περὶ ἐπιρρήματων : begins, τοῦτο μάνθανε ὅτι ἐκ τῶν ὀκτῶ μερῶν τοῦ λόγου παράγονται τὰ ἐπιρρήματα. ἐξ ὀνόματος οἶον βότρυς βοτρυδόν (p. 779).

Perhaps this should be considered as a part of the preceding work. Some remarks appear to be partly borrowed from the grammar of Dionysius Thrax. See Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Vol. vi. p. 311. Ed. Harles.

36. ‘Περὶ λογογραφίας, περὶ ἐπιστολῶν, περὶ στίχων εἰσαγωγικῶν.’ p. 280.

This is the same treatise that is contained in Dd. v. 29. pp. 101—130 : but it is imperfect, and ends at the words αἱ δὲ θεογραφικαὶ ἱστορίαι, i. e. at p. 128, l. 30, of the last named MS.

Dd. xi. 55.

A small quarto, on paper, of 25 leaves.

At the beginning is ‘A distribution of my time this first day of the year 16—’ followed by a leaf of ‘Journal obseruations out of bokes and conversation.’

At the other end of the volume, reversed, in the same handwriting is a ‘Journal of a voyage into France,’ on about 30 pages, beginning,

This is a short analysis, in English, of the forms of proceeding in the Star Chamber.

2. pp. 13—83. ‘An exact compendium of the whole course of the Court of Starr Chamber.’

This appears to be based on R. Crompton’s Treatise on the Jurisdiction of Courts, published in French, 4to. London, 1694, and in English, 4to. 1641. See also Hearne’s Discourses, II. p. 277 (3vo. 1771), Camera Stellata.

Dd. XI. 66.

A small paper book, in quarto, containing 5 blank leaves at the commencement, 78 paged, followed by 6 blank leaves: which are succeeded by another treatise of 10 leaves paged anew, followed by 170 leaves which are blank and unpagged: neatly written in the latter part of the xviiith century.

1. 'Compendium GRÆCÆ GRAMMATICÆ THOMÆ WHEELER.'

The first 5 leaves contain, 'Regulæ generales scholæ.' 1. Cogita: 2. Loquere verè, clarè, Latinè, &c. and mention the portions of Grammar, &c. which the scholars are to learn daily; and are subscribed Thomas Wheeler, 1686.

The grammar begins (p. 6):

Compendium Græcæ Gram. 'Ορθοέπεια. Literæ Græcorum γράμματα sunt viginti quatuor.

Ends (corruptly):

poet. εἰν pro ἐν: ἀπαὶ ὑπαὶ ὑπὲρ pro ἀπὸ, παρὰ, ὑπὲρ, ὑπό. τέλος τῆς γραμματικῆς ἐλλάδος. Thomas Wheeler.

On the first blank leaf is written, 'Thomas Wheeler his booke Año Dñ. 1686.' The price is marked 4s.

2. 'SIR EDWARD COOKE'S TREATISE OF BAILE AND MAINPRISE.'

COMPENDIUM LATINÆ GRAMMATICÆ.

The first two leaves contain 'Regulæ generales scholaræ.' 1. Cogita. 2. Loquere verè, clarè, Latinè, &c., and mention the portions of grammar which the scholars are to learn daily.

The Grammar begins (p. 1):

Grammatica est ars congrue loquendi. Partes grammaticæ sunt quatuor.

Ends (p. 42):

Vox vero adversativa est ritu græcorum μὲν, δέ. Finis.

After the grammar follows Etymologia metrica, occupying a little more than a page. This grammar is doubtless the one used in Thomas Wheeler's school. See Dd. xi. 66.

Dd. xi. 69.

A small quarto, on paper, of 79 leaves, in good preservation.

Notes concerning the DESCENTS OF MANY ENGLISH FAMILIES with their arms emblazoned. The latest entry refers to the year 1645.

Dd. xi. 70.

696

A small quarto, in Greek, somewhat damaged on the margins of many leaves, consisting of several tracts on paper and on parchment, written in different hands, the treatises on paper being probably of the close of the xvth century; those on parchment are apparently somewhat later than the others, and may perhaps be referred to the beginning of the xviiith.

1. A treatise of 25 paper leaves, unpagged, illwritten, mutilated at both ends, on The First Cause, by some late philosopher, each page containing 20 lines: it begins at λ (§ 30), and ends at ρθ (§ 99).

The commencement of § 30 runs thus:

αὐτὸ προῖον ἀπὸ τινος καὶ ἐπιστρέφον κυκλικὴν ἔχει τὴν ἐνέργειαν.
εἰ γὰρ ἀφ' οὗ πρόεισιν εἰς τοῦτ' ἐπιστρέφει, συνάπτει τῇ ἀρχῇ τὸ τέλος.

καὶ ἔτι δὲ μία καὶ συνεχῆς ἢ κίνησις, τῆς μὲν ἀπὸ τοῦ μένοντος τῆς δὲ πρὸς τὸ μένον γενομένης. ὅθεν δὴ πάντα κύκλω πρόεισιν ἀπὸ τῶν αἰτίων ἐπὶ τὰ αἰτία.

The very rare word αἰθυπόστατος (see Suic. Thes. s. v.) occurs at pp. 10, 11 of the MS. : it is also used by Damascius several times in a very similar treatise, ἀπορίαι καὶ λύσεις. See pp. 53, 197, 217, 218, 222. (Ed. Kopp.)

2. A collection of Scholια, &c. on various authors, consisting of 203 paper leaves, paged, neatly written, with many contractions : (the 2nd leaf is marked 3 instead of 2 : but the pagination of the MS. is followed in the following description) each page contains about 33 lines. The initial letters are rubricated, the larger ones flourished. The MS. supplies the Greek titles.

(1) SCHOLIA ON THE HECUBA OF EURIPIDES. fol. 1.

These scholia on Euripides are mutilated. They commence at Hecuba, v. 71, μελανοπτερύγων : they are not fully contained in the Glasgow Edition, though some of them have a common origin.

Commences :

μελανοπτέρυγας εἶρηκε τοὺς ὀνείρους, διὰ μὲν τοῦ μέλανος, τὸ σκοτεινὸν καὶ δυσδιάγνωστον δηλῶν, διὰ δὲ τῶν πτερύγων τὸ ταχὺ τῆς αὐτῶν ἀφανείας καὶ εἰς τὸ μὴ ὄν προχωρήσεως.

(2) περὶ τῶν μέτρων ὧν ἐχρήσατο Εὐριπίδης ἐν Ἐκάβῃ δράματι. fol. 7.

Commences :

ἦκω νεκρῶν κευθμῶνα καὶ σκότου πύλας. ἡ εἴσθεσις τοῦ δράματος περιέχει στίχους νη'. ἰαμβικοὺς τριμέτρους ἀκαταλήκτους, ὧν τελευταῖος φθεῖρει θεῶν τις τῆς πάροισ' εὐπραξίας. Ἄγετ' ὃ παῖδες τὴν γραῦν πρὸ δόμων. σύστημα ἐπεισόδιον, ἐκ κῶλων ἀναπαιστικῶν καὶ δακτυλικῶν μεμιγμένων σπονδείοις, κ.τ.λ.

This treatise is likewise only partially incorporated into the scholia of the Glasgow Edition.

(3) σχόλια εἰς τὸ Εὐριπίδου δράμα Ὀρέστης. fol. 10.

(4) μέτρα οἷς ἐχρήσατο Εὐριπίδης ἐν Ὀρέστη. fol. 14 b.

(5) σχόλια εἰς τὸ Εὐριπίδου δράμα Φοινίσσαι. fol. 18.

(6) περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Εὐριπίδης ἐν Φοινίσσαις. fol. 20 b.

Much the same remarks are to be made of the scholia and metrical commentary upon the Orestes and Phanissæ that have been made on those upon the Hecuba.

(7) σχόλια εἰς τὸ Ἀριστοφάνους δράμα Πλοῦτον. fol. 25.

Begins :

ἰστέον ὅτι τὰ τοῦ δράματος πρόσωπα πεπλασμένα εἰσὶ παρὰ τοῦ ποιητοῦ. Χρεμύλος γὰρ ἀπὸ τοῦ χρέος καὶ τὸ αἰμύλλω (τὸ ἀπατῶ) εἶρηται.

Many of the scholia in this and the following plays agree a good deal with some of those printed in Bekker's and Dindorf's editions. Foll. 26 and 27 are misplaced and belong to the following treatise, and should be placed after fol. 39.

(8) περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Ἀριστοφάνης ἐν τῷ Πλούτῳ. fol. 39 b.

(9) ὑπόθεσις Ἀριστοφάνους νεφελῶν. fol. 40.

This hypothesis begins in the same words as that marked No. vi in Bekker's edition: but is much longer, and consists principally of matter contained in the other hypotheses.

(10) σχόλια εἰς τὸ νεφελῶν δράμα Ἀριστοφάνους. fol. 40 b.

(11) περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Ἀριστοφάνης ἐν τῷ νεφέλαις. fol. 53.

(12) ὑπόθεσις Ἀριστοφάνους βατράχων. fol. 57.

The two hypotheses (which have much in common with those in Bekker's edition), are followed by scholia, some of which are considerably different from those which are printed: but they seem to be of little value.

(13) περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Ἀριστοφάνης ἐν βατράχοις. fol. 72.

(14) περὶ κωμωδίας. fol. 76.

Begins:

Κωμωδίαι λέγονται τὰ τῶν κωμικῶν ποιήματα, ὡς τὰ τοῦ Ἀριστοφάνους, Κρατίνου, Μενάνδρου καὶ τῶν ὁμοίων. εὐρέθη δὲ ἡ κωμωδία (ὡς φασιν) ἐξ αἰτίας τοιαύτης.

Ends:

ἅμα τὸ αὐτὸ ἔλεγον καὶ στροφὴν καὶ προοίμιον.

This is not exactly the same as any of those published by Dindorf, Aristoph. Vol. iv. pt. 1, but agrees in part with the scholiast on Dionys. Thrax, &c. p. 30 sqq.: only our MS. is much fuller.

(15) περὶ ποιητῶν καὶ τῶν αὐτῶν ποιμάτων. fol. 79.

Begins:

ὅτι οἱ κατ' ἐξοχὴν ποιηταὶ τέσσαρά τινα γνωρίσματα ἔχουσι, στίχον ἥρωικόν, μῦθον ἀλληγορικόν, ἱστορίαν παλαιὰν καὶ ποιὰν λέξιν. ἐγένοντο δὲ ἐ' ὀνομαστοὶ, Πανύασις, Πείσανδρος, Ἀντίμαχος, Ὀμηρος, καὶ Ἡσίοδος.

Ends:

καὶ μὴν καὶ ἡ πρόσρρησις σημεῖον εἰρήνης ἦν· εὐδαίμονες μὲν γὰρ οἱ ἄνθρωποι ἐν εἰρήνῃ· κακοδαίμονες δὲ γίνονται ἐν τῷ πολέμῳ. fol. 80, b.

Taken in great measure from Isaac Tzetzes. See his Prolegomena to Lycophron (Ed. Pott.)

(16) ἀπὸ τῆς ᾠδῆς Ἰλιάδος σχόλια. fol. 81 a.

Begins:

ἀλλ' εἰ μὲν δώσουσι γέρας (Iliad, i. 135). τὸ σχῆμα ἐλλειπτικόν· λείπει γὰρ τὸ ἡσυχάσας παύσομαι.

These scholia on the Iliad are imperfect if not mutilated. Fol. 86 a (the other side of which is blank) ends at Il. ii. 251. Fol. 87 contains scholia on Iliad xxiv. 2 sqq. ending at v. 499: but is followed by fol. 88, which has scholia on Iliad xxiii. 1 sqq. and which are continued to the end of the book. These leaves are probably transposed: at fol. 87 b are εἰς Διδῶ στίχοι, consisting of 10 elegiac lines, beginning:

ἀρχέτυπον Διδῶς ἐρικυδέος, ᾧ ξένε, λεύσσει εἰκόνα, ἐξεσίῳ (θεσπεσίῳ) κάλλιϊ λαμπομέναν.

(Anthol. Plan. Gr. Tom. ii. p. 672, Ed. Jac. Lips. 1814.)

followed by four elegiac lines, entitled: Ἀρχίου εἰς τοὺς τέσσαρας ἀγῶνας. which do not appear under his name in the Palatine Anthology, but the Epigram is marked ἀδέσποτον. (iv. p. 122.)

Begins:

τέσσαρες εἰσὶν ἀγῶνες ἀν' Ἑλλάδα, τέσσαρες ἦροί.

The MS. is henceforward written in a different hand, and contains about 22 lines in a page: the paper also is a little smaller, but the pagination is continuous: a page is blank here and there at the end of a treatise.

(17) Δημητρίου τοῦ Τρικλινίου περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Σοφοκλῆς ἐν τῷ Αἴας Μαστιγοφόρος δράματι. fol. 89 b.

(18) τοῦ αὐτοῦ Δημητρίου τοῦ Τρικλινίου περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Σοφοκλῆς ἐν τῷ Ἡλέκτρα δράματι. fol. 99 b.

(19) τοῦ αὐτοῦ Δημητρίου Τρικλινίου περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Σοφοκλῆς ἐν Ἀντιγόνη. fol. 107.

(20) τοῦ αὐτοῦ Δημητρίου Τρικλινίου περὶ μέτρων οἷς ἐχρήσατο Σοφοκλῆς ἐν τῷ Οἰδίπους (i.e. the Œdipus Tyrannus) δράματι. fol. 116.

In addition to metrical observations on these plays are some others interspersed:

also περὶ τῶν ἐν τῷ Οἰδίποδος δράματος (sic) σχημάτων. fol. 122 b.

These works of Demetrius Triclinius (written in beginning of xvth century) are published by A. Turnebus, and by Dindorf in his Scholia on Sophocles.

(21) περὶ ἐγκλιτικῶν ὀνομάτων καὶ ῥημάτων. fol. 124.

Begins:

ἰστέον ὅτι τὰ ἐγκλιτικά οὐκ ἐστὶν ἐν τοῖς ὀκτῶ μέρεσιν ἀλλ' ἐν πέντε μόνον, ὀνόμασι, ῥήμασι, ἀντωνυμίαις, ἐπιρρήμασι, καὶ συνδέσμοις.

Ends:

ἰδοὺ γὰρ τὸ καυχῶ καυχᾶς δευτέρας ὅν συζυγίας ἐν τῇ ἀποβολῇ τοῦ κ̄ πρώτης ἐγένετο.

By Johannes Charax Grammaticus. Edited in the Thesaurus Cornucoriæ of Aldus, p. 226.

(22) Σχόλια εἰς τὸ Σοφοκλέους Αἴας μαστιγοφόρος δράμα. fol. 126.

Begins:

Πεῖράν τιν' ἐχθρῶν] ἢ εἶπε πειρασθῆναι τῶν ἐχθρῶν καὶ ὧν κατὰ σοῦ μηχανῶνται προλαβεῖν ζητοῦντα τῷ πρὶν ἢ παθεῖν μαθεῖν καὶ φυλάσσειν ἢ οὕτως, κ. τ. λ.

Ends:

ἕστερον δὲ ἰδόντος τοῦτο γεγόμενον. fol. 146.

Not the same scholia that are given in Brunek's edition, but those published in Dindorf's Scholia on Sophocles, Vol. II. pp. 329—357.

(23) Σχόλια ἀπὸ τοῦ Ἡλέκτρας δράματος Σοφοκλέους. fol. 147.

Begins:

ὦν πρόθυμος] αὕτη ἡ γενικὴ οὐ καθὰ οἴονται τινές ἐστι, λέγοντες, ὦν εἰς θεῶν ἔλθειν (τοῦτο γὰρ λαμβάνουσιν ἕξωθεν) ἦσθα πρόθυμος.

Ends:

εἰς τὴν ἐκ προγόνων σοι προσήκουσαν εὐδαιμονίαν. fol. 166 b.

These scholia are published in Dindorf's Scholia on Sophocles, Vol. II. pp. 359—382.

(24) σχόλια ἐκ τοῦ Ἀντιγόνης δράματος Σοφοκλέους.

Begins:

Ἀντιγόνη φίλων] μὴ λάβῃς εἰς τὸ φίλων ἕξωθεν ὑπέρ. fol. 167.

Ends:

διὰ τὸ Πολυνεΐκη ἄθαπτον ῥίψαι. fol. 182 b.

(25) σχόλια εἰς τὸ Οἰδίπους Τύραννος Σοφοκλέους δράμα. fol. 183.

Begins:

ἕξεστεμμένοι] ὅτι οὐ μόνον ἐστεφανωμένοι.

Ends:

μηδὲν δεινὸν πεπονθῶς. fol. 204 b.

The scholia on this and the preceding play are by Demetrius Triclinius, and are published by Dindorf, Vol. II pp. 278—327.

(26) περὶ τῶν διαλέκτων.

Begins:

ἰδοῦ σοι καὶ τὰς διαλέκτους ἐγχειρίζω, νέων μοι πάντων φιλολογώτατε· περὶ ὧν ὁ τε Φιλόπονος Ἰωάννης ἐπόνησε καὶ Τρύφων ὁ γραμματικὸς, καὶ ἄλλοι πολλοὶ, οἷς ἰκανὴ περὶ τὰ βιβλία διατριβὴ καὶ ἄσκησις γέγονεν, οὕτω δὲ τις μέχρι καὶ τήμερον τὸ πᾶν ἐκάστης τῶν διαλέκτων ἐγνώρισε.

This tract, several times edited, is imperfect, ending abruptly καθ' ὑποστολήν, in the section which treats of the Ionic dialect. It is ascribed to Gregorius Corinthus.

3. A tract, on vellum, consisting of 15 leaves, of about 28 to 30 lines each, besides a blank one at the end: the handwriting is neat, comparatively free from contractions, much resembling the Aldine types; the initial letters and the headings are rubricated, the larger ones flourished. At the bottom of the 1st page in a later hand is written,

'COLLECTANEA DE LINGUARUM DIFFERENTIA ET ALIIS.'

(1) περὶ διαλέκτων. fol. 1.

Begins:

διάλεκτοι εἰσὶ πέντε, ἰὰς, ἀτθίς, δωρίς, αἰολὶς καὶ κοινή. ἔχει δὲ ἐκάστη διάλεκτος οἰκίον ἰδίωμα ὃ ἐν συνόψει καλῶς ὑποδείξομαι.

Then begins a synoptical view of each dialect:

ἡ ἰὰς τὰ εἰς ἄς λήγοντα ὀνόματα εἰς ἧς τρέπει, Ἑρμείας Ἑρμείης, Σωσίας Σωσίης.

Taken from the τεχνικὰ of Johannes Philoponus.(2) περὶ ῥαψωδίας. fol. 7.

Begins:

τί ἐστὶ ῥαψωδία; ποίημα ἐμπεριειληφὸς τινα ὑπόθεσιν· καὶ ἄλλως· μέρος τοῦ ὄλου ποιήματος, κ.τ.λ.

This has a good deal in common with the Scholia on Dionysius Thrax.

(Bekk. Anecd. Græc. Vol. II. pp. 765—769.)(3) περὶ ἐγκλινομένων. fol. 9 b.

Begins:

ἰστέον ὅτι τὰ ἐγκλινόμενα εὐρίσκεται ἐν ὀνόμασι καὶ ἐν ἀντωνυμίαις καὶ ἐν ῥήμασιν καὶ ἐν ἐπιρρήμασι, καὶ ἐν συνδέσμοις. ἐν ὀνόμασι μὲν τὸ τίς ἐν πάσαις ταῖς πτώσεσιν.

Edited in the Thes. Cornucriæ of Aldus, pp. 229—230.(4) περὶ βαρβαρισμοῦ καὶ σολοικισμοῦ. fol. 12 b.

Begins:

ἰστέον δὲ ὅτι ὁ βαρβαρισμὸς γίνεται ἐν λέξει ὅταν ἐξ ἀτεχνίας παρα-φθαρῇ ἡ ἑλληνικὴ λέξις, κ.τ.λ.

This and the three preceding are contained in Bibl. Canonic. n. 13
(p. 10, Coxe's Catalogue).(5) περὶ τῶν ἐπιτατικῶν μορίων. fol. 14.

Begins:

ἐπιτατικὰ μόρια εἰσὶν ἐπτὰ. α, δα, ζα, λα, βου, αρι καὶ ερι. ᾱ. ἄξυλος ὄλη ἢ πολὺξυλος, κ.τ.λ.

(6) περὶ τῶν στερητικῶν μορίων. fol. 14 b.

Begins:

στερητικὰ μόρια πέντε. ᾱ, νῆ, νῶ, νῆ, νῶ. ἀπρόθυμος ὁ μὴ ἔχων προθυμίαν.

(7) τὸ ὡς, πόσα σημαίνει. fol. 14 b.

Begins:

λβ'. τί καὶ τί; παραβολήν, κ.τ.λ.

4. A tract on parchment, containing 32 leaves, beautifully written in a minute hand of the same general character as the foregoing, each page containing 27 lines, with numerous inter-linear and marginal scholia, written in red.

‘Ἡφαιστίωρος ἐγχειρίδιον.’ fol. 8.

Besides the Enchiridion itself, this MS. contains numerous scholia, and introductory pieces, for which Gaisford’s edition may be consulted. The first of them begins thus: ἀμφότερα καλεῖται μέγιστος. After the conclusion of the Enchiridion, fol. 30 b, are three short pieces, occupying two pages, entitled περὶ κοινῆς συλλαβῆς, τί διαφέρει συνεκφώνησις συναλοιφῆ, and τὰ τοῖς θεοῖς ἀνατιθέμενα ζῶα, the last of which begins ἡ γλαυξ τῆ Ἀθηναί. The MS. ends with a scale of feet and catalogue of prosodiaical figures. This MS. has been collated by Bentley, and its readings are given in Gaisford’s edition. See Pref. p. iii.

The author of this piece, and probably of many others in the volume, was Henry of Avranches, the ‘archipoeta’ or poet-laureate (1245—1264) of Henry III. of England: see Warton, I. 45, 46, ed. 1840, and a letter from Baron de Perche, date May 21, 1846, appended to the present MS.: cf. below, §§ 28, 30, 43.

The poem is dedicated to 'H. de Longo Campo abbatem Croylandi' (1191—1236). Its author may have been William of Ramsey, who flourished about that period: see Bale, De Scriptor. Britan. Cent. III. § IX.: Monasticon Anglicanum, new ed. II. 101.

Presulis affectus artificiumque fides:

The date of this translation was 1220—1258, so that a marginal note, ascribing the authorship of the poem to William of Ramsey is inaccurate. Tanner (Bibliotheca, p. 363) conjectures that it was written by Henry of Avranches: cf. above, § 11.

20. 'Vita S. Birini episcopi et confessoris.'Begins (fol. 113 b):

Et pudet et fateor quia turgeo magna professus.

Ends (fol. 125 b):

Sancto, maiestas et gloria, nunc et in enum. Amen.

This 'Life' is dedicated to Peter [de Rupibus], bishop of Winchester, and is therefore later than 1204. The author was Wm. of Ramsey: Wright, as before, p. 424.

Begins (fol. 169 a):

Liberat a uiciis liber omnes, liber es ergo.

33. 'Vita et Passio S. Oswaldi regis et martyris.'

The Prologue begins (fol. 175 a):

In noua fert animus antiquas vertere prosas.

John Maunsel, chancellor of St Paul's, was made a member of the royal council in 1244 (Carte's Hist. of England, II. 80).

35. ' Ad Milonem procuratorem Vallium Spoleti et Anconie removendum propter accusationem.'

Begins (fol. 190 a):

37. ' De discordia dapnosa [damnosa] que orta fuit'

Begins (fol. 191 b):

Summa Dei natura boni cur deseris orbem

Cur sinis humanum degenerare genus.

The discord seems to be the same as that mentioned in the title of § 35. The reigning pope was ' Gregorius,' i. e. Greg. IX. (1227—1241).

38. ' Ad predictum Milonem accusatum coram papa.'

Dd. XIII. 2.

A large folio, on vellum, beautifully and distinctly written before the middle of the fifteenth century, in a large bold hand, mostly in good preservation, except where the illuminations, and even whole leaves (as fols. 208, 209), have been cut out. It contains (besides two blank leaves at the beginning) 309 leaves, paged, but the pagination is incorrect, fol. 45 being followed by fol. 50, where however nothing has been cut out: each page is in double column, each column containing 47 lines. The larger initial letters are variously coloured and flourished: but the illuminations prefixed to each treatise are cut out, with few exceptions. A leaf or more at the beginning is wanting: the words on the first page are partly obliterated: but it opens with several short epitaphs on Cicero, consisting of 68 lines, beginning with a pentameter:

Nil agis, Antoni: scripta diserta manent.

Vulnere nempe uno Ciceronem conficis: at te

Tullius æternis vulneribus lacerat.

The last two lines are

Qui sexaginta completis et tribus annis

Servitio oppressam destituit patriam.

These lines on Cicero's tomb are by the Duodecim Poetæ Scholastici of Paris (circa A.D. 1200): they are published by Meyer, Anthol. Lat. Tom. 1. pp. 164—166.

The MS. supplies the titles of the works of Cicero which it contains.

1. M. T. Ciceronis de Senectute ad Atticum, fol. 1.

It is here divided into two books.

2. Ejusdem de Natura Deorum, libb. iii. fol. 9 b.

3. Ejusdem de Divinatione, libb. ii. fol. 52.

4. Ejusdem de Fato, fol. 81 b.

The commencement of the treatise is contained in this MS., which is wanting in Orelli's edition, Vol. 4, pars 2, p. 219.

The work, however, ends abruptly with the word naturaliter, as in Orelli's edition: and the scribe adds in the margin, Deest usque ad finem libri fol. 86 b. At fol. 87 occurs the remark, 'Ut autem intentio auctoris Tulli in libris de Deorum natura, de Divinatione, et fato melius intelligatur liber B Augustini de Civ. Dei quintus diligenter respiciatur.' Then follows a long citation from lib. v. c. 9, of the abovenamed work (t. 7, p. 122, ed. Benedict), comprising most of the chapter: also another from lib. vi. c. 2 (p. 147). See Cambridge Journal of Class and Sacr. Phil. Vol. 2, pp. 97, 98.

5. Lucullus (i. e. Academ. Prior. lib. ii. Vol. 4, pt. 1, p. 6—60, ed. Orell.) fol. 88.

6. Ex libris ejusdem de republica aliisque fragmenta quaedam ex Augustino, 106 b.

The title in the MS. runs thus: 'Verba Willelmi de Malmesbury collecta ex libris Augustini, et Tullii Ciceronis in istis dicta etiam exprimuntur.'

Neither Cave nor Wright notices William of Malmesbury's labours on Cicero. The remarks begin thus: Cicero in initio secundi libri de Divinatione dicit se fecisse quatuor libros Academicos.

William proceeds to say that the first two books, and also his Hortensius and Republic, are not found in England: accordingly he gives whatever he can discover 'de materia et intentione' of the latter out of Augustine.

7. Ejusdem Timeus, fol. 108 b.

Contains the mutilated treatise, ending with the word dabitur, as in Orelli's edition.

8. Ejusdem de Paradoxis liber, fol. 114.

Contains some prefatory observations taken from the Saturnalia of Macrobius.

9. Ejusdem Oratio pro Milone, fol. 118.

10. Ejusdem Oratio pro Cneo Plancio, fol. 128 b.

11. Ejusdem Oratio pro Marco Coelio, fol. 139 b.

12. Ejusdem Oratio pro P. Sylla, fol. 147 b.

13. Ejusdem Oratio pro Cneo Pompeio [i. e. pro lege Manilia], fol. 156.

Proceeds regularly up to fol. 161, to the end of § 51, p. 454, Orelli: after which follows the latter part of the oration pro Caccinâ, beginning by § 65, and proceeding to near the end, where the leaf is mutilated.

14. Ejusdem Oratio pro Marco Marcello, fol. 164.

The first leaf much mutilated.

15. Ejusdem Oratio pro Quinto Ligario, fol. 166 b.
16. Ejusdem Oratio pro rege Deiotaro, fol. 170.
17. Ejusdem Oratio in Pisonem [i. e. pro Cæcina] fol. 174, initio mutila.

Begins § 65, Vol. 2, pt. 1, p. 426, ed. Orelli, and proceeds to the end: so that the MS. contains the same part of this oration twice over.

18. Ejusdem Oratio in Catilinam prima, fol. 177.
19. secunda, fol. 180 b.
20. tertia, fol. 183 b.
21. quarta, fol. 186 b.
22. M. Crispi Sallustii in Ciceronem Oratio, fol. 189.
23. M. T. Ciceronis Invectiva in Sallustium, fol. 190.
24. Ejusdem Orationes Phillipicæ XIV, fol. 192.

HORE BEATÆ MARIE VIRGINIS.

The next 12 leaves contain the Kalendar; f. 14 is blank, and then follows an inserted picture of the same date and style as before of the Apparition of our Lord to the Blessed Virgin after the Crucifixion. The Officium begins, f. 16, with Incipit cursus beate marie virginis.

The 7 penitential psalms begin f. 65, followed by the Litany, and in f. 84 the Officium Defunctorum with musical notes to the Psalms. In f. 150 is a picture, like the two before mentioned, of the Holy Family, our Lord measuring a board, with St Joseph as carpenter, the blessed Virgin working: after a second litany are directions, written like the rest, but underlined with red lines, directing the sorores how to pursue the officium in case the sick person is still living. The Ordo Commendationis animæ follows, and in f. 180, 'De sepultura fratrum aut sororum,' and then Orationes propriæ de Sanctis, the volume ending abruptly in the 'lectio prima de domina nostra,' with the words 'Sed quid nos tantilli, quid actione pusilli, quid in laudibus.'

THE CAMBRIDGE PARAGRAPH BIBLE

of the Authorized English Version, with the Text Revised by a Collation of its Early and other Principal Editions, the Use of the Italic Type made uniform, the Marginal References remodelled, and a Critical Introduction prefixed, by the Rev. F. H. SCRIVENER, M.A., LL.D., Editor of the Greek Testament, Codex Augiennis, &c., and one of the Revisers of the Authorized Version. Crown Quarto, cloth, gilt, 21s.

From the Times.

"Students of the Bible should be particularly grateful to (the Cambridge University Press) for having produced, with the able assistance of Dr Scrivener, a complete critical edition of the Authorized Version of the English Bible, an edition such as, to use the words of the Editor, 'would have been executed long ago had this version been nothing more than the greatest and best known of English classics.' Falling at a time when the formal revision of this version has been undertaken by a distinguished company of scholars and divines, the publication of this edition must be considered most opportune."

From the Athenæum.

"Apart from its religious importance, the English Bible has the glory, which but few sister versions indeed can claim, of being the chief classic of the language, of having, in conjunction with Shakspeare, and in an immeasurable degree more than he, fixed the language beyond any possibility of important change. Thus the recent contributions to the literature of the subject, by such workers as Mr Francis Fry and Canon Westcott, appeal to a wide range of sympathies; and to these may now be added Dr Scrivener, well known for his labours in the cause of the Greek Testament criticism, who has brought out, for the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press, an edition of the English Bible, according to the text of 1611, revised by a comparison with later issues on principles stated by him in his Introduction. Here he enters at length into the history of the chief editions of the version, and of such features as the marginal notes, the use of italic type, and the changes of orthography, as well as into the most interesting question as to the original texts from which our translation is produced."

From the Methodist Recorder.

"This noble quarto of over 1300 pages is in every respect worthy of editor and publishers alike. The name of the Cambridge University Press is guarantee enough for its perfection in outward form, the name of the editor is equal guarantee for the worth and accuracy of its contents. Without question, it is the best Paragraph Bible ever published, and its reduced price of a guinea brings it within reach of a large number of students. . . But the volume is much more than a Paragraph Bible. It is an attempt, and a successful attempt, to give a critical edition of the Authorised English Version, not (let it be marked) a revision, but an exact reproduction of the original Authorised Version, as published in 1611, minus patent mistakes. This is doubly necessary at a time when the version is about to undergo revision. . . To all who at this season seek a suitable volume for presentation to ministers or teachers we earnestly commend this work."

From the London Quarterly Review.

"The work is worthy in every respect of the editor's fame, and of the Cambridge University Press. The noble English Version, to which our country and religion owe so much, was probably never presented before in so perfect a form."

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST MARK

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST JOHN,

"The Gospel according to St John, in Anglo-Saxon and Northumbrian Versions: Edited for the Syndics of the University Press, by the Rev. Walter W. Skeat, M.A., Elrington and Bosworth Professor of Anglo-Saxon in the University of Cambridge, completes an undertaking designed and commenced by that distinguished scholar, J. M. Kemble, some forty years ago. He was not himself permitted to execute his scheme; he died before it was completed for St Matthew. The edition of that Gospel was finished by Mr., subsequently Archdeacon, Hardwick. The remaining Gospels have had the good fortune to be edited by Professor Skeat, whose competency and zeal have left nothing undone to prove himself equal to his reputation, and to produce a work of the highest value to the student of Anglo-Saxon. The design was indeed worthy of its author. It is difficult to exaggerate the value of such a set of parallel texts. . . . Of the particular volume now before us, we can only say it is worthy of its two predecessors. We repeat that the service rendered to the study of Anglo-Saxon by this Synoptic collection cannot easily be overstated."—Contemporary Review.

"Wer sich je mit dem 4. Buche Esra eingehender beschäftigt hat, wird durch die obige, in jeder Beziehung musterhafte Publication in freudiges Erstaunen versetzt werden."—Theologische Literaturzeitung.

"It has been said of this book that it has added a new chapter to the Bible, and, startling as the statement may at first sight appear, it is no exaggeration of the actual fact, if by the Bible we understand that of the larger size which contains the Apocrypha, and if the Second Book of Esdras can be fairly called a part of the Apocrypha."—Saturday Review.

THEOLOGY—(ANCIENT).

SAYINGS OF THE JEWISH FATHERS, comprising Pirque Aboth and Pereq R. Meir in Hebrew and English, with Critical and Illustrative Notes. By CHARLES TAYLOR, M.A. Fellow and Divinity Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge, and Honorary Fellow of King's College, London. Demy 8vo. cloth. 10s.

"It is peculiarly incumbent on those who look to Jerome or Origen for their theology or exegesis to learn something of their Jewish predecessors. The New Testament abounds with sayings which remarkably coincide with, or closely resemble, those of the Jewish Fathers; and these latter probably would furnish more satisfactory and frequent illustrations of its text than the Old Testament."

—Saturday Review.

"The 'Masseketh Aboth' stands at the head of Hebrew non-canonical writings. It is of ancient date, claiming to contain the dicta of teachers who flourished from B.C. 200 to the same year of our era. The precise time of its compilation in its present form is, of course, in doubt. Mr Taylor's explanatory and illustrative commentary is very full and satisfactory."

—Spectator.

"If we mistake not, this is the first precise translation into the English language accompanied by scholarly notes, of any portion of the Talmud. In other words, it is the first instance of that most valuable and neglected portion of Jewish literature being treated in the same way as a Greek classic in an ordinary critical edition. . . The Talmudic books, which have been so strangely neglected, we foresee will be the most important aids of the future for the proper understanding of the Bible. . . The Sayings of the Jewish Fathers may claim to be scholarly, and, moreover, of a scholarship unusually thorough and finished."

—Dublin University Magazine.

"A careful and thorough edition which does credit to English scholarship, of a short treatise from the Mishna, containing a series of sentences or maxims ascribed mostly to Jewish teachers immediately preceding, or immediately following the Christian era. . ."

—Contemporary Review.

THEODORE OF MOPSUESTIA'S COMMENTARY
ON THE MINOR EPISTLES OF S. PAUL.

The Latin Version with the Greek Fragments, edited from the MSS. with Notes and an Introduction, by H. B. SWETE, D.D., Rector of Ashdon, Essex, and late Fellow of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. In Two Volumes. Vol. I., containing the Introduction, with Facsimiles of the MSS., and the Commentary upon Galatians—Colossians. Demy Octavo. 12s.

"One result of this disappearance of the works of Diodorus, which his Arian opponents did their utmost to destroy, is to render more conspicuous the figure of Theodore. From the point of view of scientific exegesis there is no figure in all antiquity more interesting."

—The Expositor.

"In dem oben verzeichneten Buche liegt uns die erste Hälfte einer vollständigen, ebenso sorgfältig gearbeiteten wie schön ausgestatteten Ausgabe des Commentars mit ausführlichen Prolegomena und reichhaltigen kritischen und erläuternden Anmerkungen vor."

—Literarisches Centralblatt.

"Eine sehr sorgfältige Arbeit. Nichts ist dem Verfasser entgangen, auch nicht die in deutscher Sprache geschriebenen Specialschriften über die Antiochener. Druck und Ausstattung sind, wie man das bei der englischen Literatur gewohnt ist, elegant und musterhaft."

—Literarische Rundschau.

"It is the result of thorough, careful, and patient investigation of all the points bearing on the subject, and the results are presented with admirable good sense and modesty. Mr Swete has prepared himself for his task by a serious study of the literature and history which are connected with it; and he has produced a volume of high value to the student, not merely of the theology of the fourth and fifth centuries, but of the effect of this theology on the later developments of doctrine and methods of interpretation, in the ages immediately following, and in the middle ages."

—Guardian.

"Auf Grund dieser Quellen ist der Text bei Swete mit musterhafter Akribie hergestellt. Aber auch sonst hat der Herausgeber mit unermüdlichem Fleisse und eingehendster Sachkenntnis sein Werk mit allen denjenigen Zugaben ausgerüstet, welche bei einer solchen Text-Ausgabe nur irgend erwartet werden können. . . Von den drei Haupt-handschriften . . . sind vortreffliche photographische Facsimile beigegeben, wie überhaupt das ganze Werk von der University Press zu Cambridge mit bekannter Eleganz ausgestattet ist."

SELECT DISCOURSES,

by JOHN SMITH, late Fellow of Queens' College, Cambridge. Edited by H. G. WILLIAMS, B.D. late Professor of Arabic. Royal Octavo. 7s. 6d.

"The 'Select Discourses' of John Smith, collected and published from his papers after his death, are, in my opinion, much the most considerable work left to us by this Cambridge School [the Cambridge Platonists]. They have a right to a place in English literary history."—Mr MATTHEW ARNOLD, in the Contemporary Review.

"Of all the products of the Cambridge School, the 'Select Discourses' are perhaps the highest, as they are the most accessible and the most widely appreciated...and indeed no spiritually thoughtful mind can read them unmoved. They carry us so directly into an atmosphere of divine philosophy, luminous with the richest lights of meditative genius... He was one of those rare thinkers in whom largeness of view, and depth, and wealth of poetic and speculative insight, only served to evoke more fully the religious spirit, and while he drew the mould of his thought from Plotinus, he vivified the substance of it from St Paul."—Principal TULLOCH, Rational Theology in England in the 17th Century.

"We may instance Mr Henry Griffin Williams's revised edition of Mr John Smith's 'Select Discourses,' which have won Mr Matthew Arnold's admiration, as an example of worthy work for an University Press to undertake."—Times.

ARABIC AND SANSKRIT.

POEMS OF BEHÁ ED DÍN ZOHEIR OF EGYPT.

With a Metrical Translation, Notes and Introduction, by E. H. PALMER, M.A., Barrister-at-Law of the Middle Temple, Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic and Fellow of St John's College in the University of Cambridge. 3 vols. Crown Quarto.

Vol. I. THE ARABIC TEXT. 10s. 6d.; Cloth extra, 15s.

Vol. II. ENGLISH TRANSLATION. 10s. 6d.; Cloth extra, 15s.

"Professor Palmer's activity in advancing Arabic scholarship has formerly shown itself in the production of his excellent Arabic Grammar, and his Descriptive Catalogue of Arabic MSS. in the Library of Trinity College, Cambridge. He has now produced an admirable text, which illustrates in a remarkable manner the flexibility and graces of the language he loves so well, and of which he seems to be perfect master.... The Syndicate of Cambridge University must not pass without the recognition of their liberality in bringing out, in a worthy form, so important an Arabic text. It is not the first time that Oriental scholarship has thus been wisely subsidised by Cambridge."—Indian Mail.

"It is impossible to quote this edition without an expression of admiration for the perfection to which Arabic typography has been brought in England in this magnificent Oriental work, the production of which redounds to the imperishable credit of the University of Cambridge. It may be pronounced one of the most beautiful Oriental books that have ever been printed in Europe: and the learning of the Editor worthily rivals the technical get-up of the creations of the soul of one of the most tasteful poets of Islám, the study of which will contribute not a little to save honour of the poetry of the Arabs."—MYTHOLOGY AMONG THE HEBREWS (Engl. Transl.), p. 194.

For ease and facility, for variety of metre, for imitation, either designed or unconscious, of the style of several of our own poets, these versions deserve high praise. We have no hesitation in saying that in both Prof. Palmer has made an addition to Oriental literature for which scholars should be grateful; and that, while his knowledge of Arabic is a sufficient guarantee for his mastery of the original, his English compositions are distinguished by versatility, command of language, rhythmical cadence, and, as we have remarked, by not unskillful imitations of the styles of several of our own favourite poets, living and dead."—Saturday Review.

"This sumptuous edition of the poems of Behá-ed-dín Zoheir is a very welcome addition to the small series of Eastern poets accessible to readers who are not Orientalists. ... In all there is that exquisite finish of which Arabic poetry is susceptible in so rare a degree. The form is almost always beautiful, be the thought what it may. But this, of course, can only be fully appreciated by Orientalists. And this brings us to the translation. It is excellently well done. Mr Palmer has tried to imitate the fall of the original in his selection of the English metre for the various pieces, and thus contrives to convey a faint idea of the graceful flow of the Arabic. Altogether the inside of the book is worthy of the beautiful arabesque binding that rejoices the eye of the lover of Arab art."—Academy.

PRIVATE ORATIONS OF DEMOSTHENES, with Introductions and English Notes, by F. A. PALEY, M.A. Editor of Aeschylus, etc. and J. E. SANDYS, M.A. Fellow and Tutor of St John's College, and Public Orator in the University of Cambridge.

PART I. Contra Phormionem, Lacritum, Pantaenctum, Boeotum de Nomine, Boeotum de Dote, Dionysodorum. Crown Octavo, cloth. 6s.

"Mr Paley's scholarship is sound and accurate, his experience of editing wide, and if he is content to devote his learning and abilities to the production of such manuals as these, they will be received with gratitude throughout the higher schools of the country. Mr Sandys is deeply read in the German literature which bears upon his author, and the elucidation of matters of daily life, in the delineation of which Demosthenes is so rich, obtains full justice at his hands. . . . We hope this edition may lead the way to a more general study of these speeches in schools than has hitherto been possible.—Academy.

PART II. Pro Phormione, Contra Stephanum I. II.; Nicostratum, Cononem, Calliclem. 7s. 6d.

"To give even a brief sketch of these speeches [Pro Phormione and Contra Stephanum] would be incompatible with our limits, though we can hardly conceive a task more useful to the classical or professional scholar than to make one for himself. . . . It is a great boon to those who set themselves to unravel the thread of arguments pro and con to have the aid of Mr Sandys's excellent running commentary . . . and no one can say that he is ever deficient in the needful help which enables us to form a sound estimate of the rights of the case. . . . It is long since we have come upon a work evincing more pains, scholarship, and varied research and illustration than Mr Sandys's contribution to the 'Private Orations of Demosthenes.'—Sat. Rev.

PINDAR.

OLYMPIAN AND PYTHIAN ODES. With Notes Explanatory and Critical, Introductions and Introductory Essays. Edited by C. A. M. FENNELL, M.A., late Fellow of Jesus College. Crown Octavo, cloth. 9s.

"Mr Fennell deserves the thanks of all classical students for his careful and scholarly edition of the Olympian and Pythian odes. He brings to his task the necessary enthusiasm for his author, great industry, a sound judgment, and, in particular, copious and minute learning in comparative philology. To his qualifications in this last respect every page bears witness."—Athenæum.

"Considered simply as a contribution to the study and criticism of Pindar, Mr Fennell's edition is a work of great merit. But it has a wider interest, as exemplifying the change which has come over the methods and aims of Cambridge scholarship within the last ten or twelve years. . . . The short introductions and arguments to the Odes, which for so discursive an author as Pindar are all but a necessity, are both careful and acute. . . . Altogether, this edition is a welcome and wholesome sign of the vitality and development of Cambridge scholarship, and we are glad to see that it is to be continued."—Saturday Review.

"There are many reasons why Mr C. A. M. Fennell's edition of 'Pindar's Olympian and Pythian Odes;' should not go unnoticed, even though our space forbids doing it full justice; as a helpful complement and often corrective of preceding editions, both in its insight into comparative philology, its critical acumen, and its general sobriety of editing. In etymology especially the volume marks a generation later than Donaldson's, though holding in respect his brilliant authority. . . . Most helpful, too, is the introductory essay on Pindar's style and dialect, while the chronological sequence of the Odes (pp. xxxi.—xxxii.), and the 'Metrical Schemes,' which immediately precede the text and commentary, leave nothing to be desiderated."—Contemporary Review.

THE BACCHÆ OF EURIPIDES.

with Introduction, Critical Notes, and Archæological Illustrations, by J. E. SANDYS, M.A., Fellow and Tutor of St John's College, Cambridge, and Public Orator. Crown Octavo, cloth. 10s. 6d.

"Of the present edition of the Bacchæ by Mr Sandys we may safely say that never before has a Greek play, in England at least, had fuller justice done to its criticism, interpretation, and archæological illustration, whether for the young student or the more advanced scholar. The Cambridge Public Orator may be said to have taken the lead in issuing a complete edition of a Greek play, which is destined perhaps to gain redoubled favour now that the study of ancient monuments has been applied to its illustration."—Saturday Review.

"Thirty-two beautifully executed wood engravings of ancient artistic productions, all of which, as well as others not included in the selection, are briefly but intelligibly described, lend an additional interest to this portion of the book. A careful examination of Mr Sandys' emendations and of the reasons given in support of them must satisfy every scholar that this department of the work has been judiciously and ingeniously managed. The explanatory notes are a mine rich in the results of careful study, varied learning and accurate research."—The Scotsman.

"Mr Sandys has done well by his poet and by his University. He has given a most welcome gift to scholars both at home and abroad. The illustrations are aptly chosen and delicately executed, and the apparatus criticus, in the way both of notes and indices is very complete."—Notes and Queries.

"The volume is interspersed with well-executed woodcuts, and its general attractiveness of form reflects great credit on the University Press. In the notes Mr Sandys has more than sustained his well-earned reputation as a careful and learned editor, and shows considerable advance in freedom and lightness of style. . . . Under such circumstances it is superfluous to say that for the purposes of teachers and advanced students this handsome edition far surpasses all its predecessors. The volume will add to the already wide popularity of a unique drama, and must be reckoned among the most important classical publications of the year."—Athenæum.

THE RHETORIC. With a Commentary by the late E. M. COPE, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, revised and edited by J. E. SANDYS, M.A., Fellow and Tutor of St John's College, Cambridge, and Public Orator. With a biographical Memoir by H. A. J. MUNRO, M.A. Three Volumes, Demy Octavo. £1. 11s. 6d.

"This work is in many ways creditable to the University of Cambridge. The solid and extensive erudition of Mr Cope himself bears none the less speaking evidence to the value of the tradition which he continued, if it is not equally accompanied by those qualities of speculative originality and independent judgment which belong more to the individual writer than to his school. And while it must ever be regretted that a work so laborious should not have received the last touches of its author, the warmest admiration is due to Mr Sandys, for the manly, unselfish, and unflinching spirit in which he has performed his most difficult and delicate task. If an English student wishes to have a full conception of what is contained in the Rhetoric of Aristotle, to Mr Cope's edition he must go."—Academy.

"Mr Sandys has performed his arduous duties with marked ability and admirable tact. When the original Commentary stops abruptly three chapters before the end of the third book, Mr Sandys carefully supplies the deficiency, following Mr Cope's general plan and the slightest available indications of his intended treatment. In Appendices he has reprinted from classical journals several articles of Mr Cope's; and, what is better, he has given the best of the late Mr Shilleto's 'Adversaria.' In every part of his work—revising, supplementing, and completing—he has done exceedingly well."—Examiner.

"Such editions as that of which Prof. Mayor has given us the first instalment will doubtless do much to remedy this undeserved neglect. It is one on which great pains and much learning have evidently been expended, and is in every way admirably suited to meet the needs of the student. . . . The notes of the editor are all that could be expected from his well-known learning and scholarship. . . . It is needless, therefore, to say that all points of syntax or of Ciceronian usage which present themselves have been treated with full mastery. . . . The thanks of many students will doubtless be given to Prof. Mayor for the amount of historical and biographical information afforded in the commentary, which is, as it should be, supplemented and not replaced by references to the usual authorities."—Academy.

"Dr Holden truly states that 'Text, Analysis, and Commentary in this third edition have been again subjected to a thorough revision.' It is now certainly the best edition extant. A sufficient apparatus of various readings is placed under the text, and a very careful summary in the margin. The Introduction (after Heine) and notes leave nothing to be desired in point of fulness, accuracy, and neatness; the typographical execution will satisfy the most fastidious eye. A careful index of twenty-four pages makes it easy to use the book as a storehouse of information on points of grammar, history, and philosophy. . . . This edition of the Offices, Mr Reid's Academics, Lælius, and Cato, with the forthcoming editions of the De Finibus and the De Natura Deorum will do much to maintain the study of Cicero's philosophy in Roger Ascham's university."—Notes and Queries.

By JOSEPH FOURIER. Translated, with Notes, by A. FREEMAN, M.A. Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge. Demy Octavo. 16s.

"Fourier's treatise is one of the very few scientific books which can never be rendered antiquated by the progress of science. It is not only the first and the greatest book on the physical subject of the conduction of Heat, but in every Chapter new views are opened up into vast fields of mathematical speculation."

"Whatever text-books may be written, giving, perhaps, more succinct proofs of Fourier's different equations, Fourier himself will in all time coming retain his unique prerogative of being the guide of his reader into regions inaccessible to meaner men, however expert."—Extract from letter of Professor Clerk Maxwell.

"It is time that Fourier's masterpiece, The Analytical Theory of Heat, translated by Mr Alex. Freeman, should be introduced to those English students of Mathematics who do not follow with freedom a treatise in any language but their own. It is a model of mathematical reasoning applied to physical phenomena, and is remarkable for the ingenuity of the analytical process employed by the author."—Contemporary Review, October, 1878.

"There cannot be two opinions as to the value and importance of the Théorie de la Chaleur. It has been called 'an exquisite mathematical poem,' not once but many times, independently, by mathematicians of different schools. Many of the very greatest of modern mathematicians regard it, justly, as the key which first opened to them the treasure-house of mathematical physics. It is still the text-book of Heat Conduction, and there seems little present prospect of its being superseded, though it is already more than half a century old."—Nature.

A SELECTION OF THE STATE TRIALS.

By J. W. WILLIS-BUND, M.A., LL.B., Barrister-at-Law, Professor of Constitutional Law and History, University College, London. Vol. I. Trials for Treason (1327—1660). Crown 8vo. cloth, 18s.

"A great and good service has been done to all students of history, and especially to those of them who look to it in a legal aspect, by Prof. J. W. Willis-Bund in the publication of a Selection of Cases from the State Trials. . . . Professor Willis-Bund has been very careful to give such selections from the State Trials as will best illustrate those points in what may be called the growth of the Law of Treason which he wishes to bring clearly under the notice of the student, and the result is, that there is not a page in the book which has not its own lesson. . . . In all respects, so far as we have been able to test it, this book is admirably done."—Scotsman.

"Mr Willis-Bund has edited 'A Selection of Cases from the State Trials' which is likely to form a very valuable addition to the standard literature. . . . There can be no doubt, therefore, of the interest that can be found in the State trials. But they are large and unwieldy, and it is impossible for the general reader to come across them. Mr Willis-Bund has therefore done good service in making a selection that is in the first volume reduced to a commodious form."—The Examiner.

"Every one engaged, either in teaching or in historical inquiry, must have felt the want of such a book, taken from the unwieldy volumes of the State Trials."—Contemporary Review.

"This work is a very useful contribution to that important branch of the constitutional history of England which is concerned with the growth and development of the law of treason, as it may be gathered from trials before the ordinary courts. The author has very wisely distinguished these cases from those of impeachment for treason before Parliament, which he proposes to treat in a future volume under the general head 'Proceedings in Parliament.'"—The Academy.

"This is a work of such obvious utility collected, arranged, and annotated by BRYAN WALKER, M.A. LL.D., Law Lecturer of St John's College, and late Fellow of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. Crown 8vo., Cloth, Price 6s.

"This is one of the latest, we believe quite the latest, of the contributions made to legal scholarship by that revived study of the Roman Law at Cambridge which is now so marked a feature in the industrial life of the University. . . . In the present book we have the fruits of the same kind of thorough and well-ordered study which was brought to bear upon the notes to the Commentaries and the Institutes. . . . Hitherto the Edict has been almost inaccessible to the ordinary English student, and such a student will be interested as well as perhaps surprised to find how abundantly the extant fragments illustrate and clear up points which have attracted his attention in the Commentaries, or the Institutes, or the Digest."—Law Times.

that the only wonder is that no one should have undertaken it before. . . . In many respects therefore, although the trials are more or less abridged, this is for the ordinary student's purpose not only a more handy, but a more useful work than Howell's."—Saturday Review.

"Within the boards of this useful and handy book the student will find everything he can desire in the way of lists of cases given at length or referred to, and the statutes bearing on the text arranged chronologically. The work of selecting from Howell's bulky series of volumes has been done with much judgment, merely curious cases being excluded, and all included so treated as to illustrate some important point of constitutional law."—Glasgow Herald.

"Mr Willis-Bund gives a résumé of each case as it comes, only quoting from the reports where the words of the original are important in themselves, and very often stating the point decided in his own words. By following this method he is able to introduce extraneous matter which does not strictly belong to the case in hand, such as Acts of Parliament, and in that way to make his book both more intelligible and more interesting. In the several trials which we have read he has done his work very well. The book should be very interesting to the historical student. . . . From what we have seen of this book we have great pleasure in recommending it."—Guardian.

"Mr Bund's object is not the romance, but the constitutional and legal bearings of that great series of causes célèbres which is unfortunately not within easy reach of readers not happy enough to possess valuable libraries. . . . Of the importance of this subject, or of the want of a book of this kind, referring not vaguely but precisely to the grounds of constitutional doctrines, both of past and present times, no reader of history can feel any doubt."—Daily News.

Crown Octavo, 16s.

"As scholars and as editors Messrs Abdy and Walker have done their work well. . . . For one thing the editors deserve special commendation. They have presented Gaius to the reader with few notes and those merely by way of reference or necessary explanation. Thus the Roman jurist is allowed to speak for himself, and the reader feels that he is really studying Roman law in the original, and not a fanciful representation of it."—Athenæum.

Crown Octavo, 16s.

"We welcome here a valuable contribution to the study of jurisprudence. The text of the Institutes is occasionally perplexing, even to practised scholars, whose knowledge of classical models does not always avail them in dealing with the technicalities of legal phraseology. Nor can the ordinary dictionaries be expected to furnish all the help that is wanted. This translation will then be of great use. To the ordinary student, whose attention is distracted from the subject-matter by the difficulty of struggling through the language in which it is contained, it will be almost indispensable."—Spectator.

LIFE AND TIMES OF STEIN, OR GERMANY AND PRUSSIA IN THE NAPOLEONIC AGE,

by J. R. SEELEY, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History in the University of Cambridge, with Portraits and Maps. 3 Vols. Demy 8vo. 48s.

"If we could conceive anything similar to a protective system in the intellectual department, we might perhaps look forward to a time when our historians would raise the cry of protection for native industry. Of the unquestionably greatest German men of modern history—I speak of Frederick the Great, Goethe and Stein—the first two found long since in Carlyle and Lewes biographers who have undoubtedly driven their German competitors out of the field. And now in the year just past Professor Seeley of Cambridge has presented us with a biography of Stein which, though it modestly declines competition with German works and disowns the presumption of teaching us Germans our own history, yet casts into the shade by its brilliant superiority all that we have ourselves hitherto written about Stein.... In five long chapters Seeley expounds the legislative and administrative reforms, the emancipation of the person and the soil, the beginnings of free administration and free trade, in short the foundation of modern Prussia, with more exhaustive thoroughness, with more penetrating insight, than any one had done before."—Deutsche Rundschau.

"Dr Busch's volume has made people think and talk even more than usual of Prince Bismarck, and Professor Seeley's very learned work on Stein will turn attention to an earlier and almost equally eminent German statesman. . . . It is soothing to the national self-respect to find a few Englishmen, such as the late Mr Lewes and Professor Seeley, doing for German as well as English readers what many German scholars have done for us."—Times.

"In a notice of this kind scant justice can be done to a work like the one before us; no short résumé can give even the most meagre notion of the contents of these volumes, which contain no page that is superfluous, and none that is uninteresting. . . . To understand the Germany of to-day one must study the Germany of many yesterdays, and now that study has been made easy by this work, to which no one can hesitate to assign a very high place among those recent histories which have aimed at original research."—Athenæum.

"The book before us fills an important gap in English—nay, European—historical literature, and bridges over the history of Prussia from the time of Frederick the Great to the days of Kaiser Wilhelm. It thus gives the reader standing ground whence he may regard contemporary events in Germany in their proper historic light. . . . We congratulate Cambridge and her Professor of History on the appearance of such a noteworthy production. And we may add that it is something upon which we may congratulate England that on the especial field of the Germans, history, on the history of their own country, by the use of their own literary weapons, an Englishman has produced a history of Germany in the Napoleonic age far superior to any that exists in German."—Examiner.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE OF ST JOHN THE EVANGELIST, by THOMAS BAKER, B.D., Ejected Fellow. Edited by JOHN E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Fellow of St John's. Two Vols. Demy 8vo. 24s.

"To antiquaries the book will be a source of almost inexhaustible amusement, by historians it will be found a work of considerable service on questions respecting our social progress in past times; and the care and thoroughness with which Mr Mayor has discharged his editorial functions are creditable to his learning and industry."—Athenæum.

"The work displays very wide reading, and it will be of great use to members of the college and of the university, and, perhaps, of still greater use to students of English history, ecclesiastical, political, social, literary and academical, who have hitherto had to be content with 'Dyer.'"—Academy.

"It may be thought that the history of a college cannot be particularly attractive. The two volumes before us, however, have something more than a mere special interest for those who have been in any way connected with St John's College, Cambridge; they contain much which will be read with pleasure by a far wider circle... The index with which Mr Mayor has furnished this useful work leaves nothing to be desired."—Spectator.

SCHOLAE ACADEMICAE:

Some Account of the Studies at the English Universities in the Eighteenth Century. By CHRISTOPHER WORDSWORTH, M.A., Fellow of Peterhouse; Author of "Social Life at the English Universities in the Eighteenth Century." Demy octavo, cloth, 15s.

"The general object of Mr Wordsworth's book is sufficiently apparent from its title. He has collected a great quantity of minute and curious information about the working of Cambridge institutions in the last century, with an occasional comparison of the corresponding state of things at Oxford. It is of course impossible that a book of this kind should be altogether entertaining as literature. To a great extent it is purely a book of reference, and as such it will be of permanent value for the historical knowledge of English education and learning."—Saturday Review.

"In the work before us, which is strictly what it professes to be, an account of university studies, we obtain authentic information upon the course and changes of philosophical thought in this country, upon the general estimation of letters, upon the relations of doctrine and science, upon the range and thoroughness of education, and we may add, upon the catlike tenacity of life of ancient forms.... The particulars Mr Wordsworth gives us in his excellent arrangement are most varied, interesting, and instructive. Among the matters touched upon are Libraries, Lectures, the Tripos, the Trivium, the Senate House, the Schools, text-books, subjects of study, foreign opinions, interior life. We learn even of the various University periodicals that have had their day. And last, but not least, we are given in an appendix a highly interesting series of private letters from a Cambridge student to John Strype, giving a vivid idea of life as an undergraduate and afterwards, as the writer became a graduate and a fellow."—University Magazine.

"Only those who have engaged in like labours will be able fully to appreciate the sustained industry and conscientious accuracy discernible in every page. . . . Of the whole volume it may be said that it is a genuine service rendered to the study of University history, and that the habits of thought of any writer educated at either seat of learning in the last century will, in many cases, be far better understood after a consideration of the materials here collected."—Academy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LECTURES ON TEACHING,

Delivered in the University of Cambridge in the Lent Term, 1880.

By J. G. FITCH, Her Majesty's Inspector of Schools.

Crown 8vo. cloth, 6s.

"All who are interested in the management of schools, and all who have made the profession of a teacher the work of their lives, will do well to study with care these results of a large experience and of wide observation. It is not, we are told, a manual of method; rather, we should say, it is that and much more. As a manual of method it is far superior to anything we have seen. Its suggestions of practical means and methods are very valuable; but it has an element which a mere text-book of rules for imparting knowledge does not contain. Its tone is lofty; its spirit religious; its ideal of the teacher's aim and life pure and good . . . The volume is one of great practical value. It should be in the hands of every teacher, and of every one preparing for the office of a teacher. There are many besides these who will find much in it to interest and instruct them, more especially parents who have children whom they can afford to keep at school till their eighteenth or nineteenth year."—The Nonconformist and Independent.

"In the sixteen chapters of which this handsome volume is made up, teachers will find a world of good advice from one who has brought unusual fitness and unflagging enthusiasm to the task of helping and encouraging them. The book contains the results of great experience, and the work itself is an admirable specimen of the art of teaching. To a thoughtful teacher the book will be invaluable . . . Mr Fitch has written a book which all, and not merely professional teachers interested in the training of the young, would do well to read . . . The writer has a noble conception of the dignity and responsibility of the teacher and of his profession."—Sheffield and Rotherham Independent.

"This book is the work of a man who is thoroughly acquainted with the subject of which he treats, and who brings together for its elucidation the results of wide reading, careful study, and practical experience. We can cordially recommend it to all who are engaged in the work of teaching, or who wish to understand the principles on which it should be conducted."—The Cambridge Independent Press.

THE PITT PRESS SERIES.

I. GREEK.

THE ANABASIS OF XENOPHON, BOOK VII. With a Map and English Notes by ALFRED PRETOR, M.A., Fellow of St Catharine's College, Cambridge; Editor of Persius and Cicero ad Atticum Book I. Price 2s. 6d.

"In Mr Pretor's edition of the Anabasis the text of Kühner has been followed in the main, while the exhaustive and admirable notes of the great German editor have been largely utilised. These notes deal with the minutest as well as the most important difficulties in construction, and all questions of history, antiquity, and geography are briefly but very effectually elucidated."—The Examiner.

BOOKS I. III. IV. & V. By the same Editor. 2s. each.

BOOKS II. and VI. By the same Editor. Price 2s. 6d. each.

"Mr Pretor's 'Anabasis of Xenophon, Book IV,' displays a union of accurate Cambridge scholarship, with experience of what is required by learners gained in examining middle-class schools. The text is large and clearly printed, and the notes explain all difficulties. . . . Mr Pretor's notes seem to be all that could be wished as regards grammar, geography, and other matters."—The Academy.

"Another Greek text, designed it would seem for students preparing for the local examinations, is 'Xenophon's Anabasis,' Book II., with English Notes, by Alfred Pretor, M.A. The editor has exercised his usual discrimination in utilising the text and notes of Kühner, with the occasional assistance of the best hints of Schneider, Vollbrecht and Macmichael on critical matters, and of Mr R. W. Taylor on points of history and geography. . . . When Mr Pretor commits himself to Commentator's work, he is eminently helpful. . . . Had we to introduce a young Greek scholar to Xenophon, we should esteem ourselves fortunate in having Pretor's text-book as our chart and guide."—Contemporary Review.

AGESILAUS OF XENOPHON. The Text revised with Critical and Explanatory Notes, Introduction, Analysis, and Indices. By H. HAILSTONE, M.A., late Scholar of Peterhouse, Cambridge, Editor of Xenophon's Hellenics, etc. Cloth. 2s. 6d.

ARISTOPHANES—RANAE. With English Notes and Introduction by W. C. GREEN, M.A., Assistant Master at Rugby School. Cloth. 3s. 6d.

ARISTOPHANES—AVES. By the same Editor. New Edition. Cloth. 3s. 6d.

"The notes to both plays are excellent. Much has been done in these two volumes to render the study of Aristophanes a real treat to a boy instead of a drudgery, by helping him to understand the fun and to express it in his mother tongue."—The Examiner.

EURIPIDES. HERCULES FURENS. With Introductions, Notes and Analysis. By J. T. HUTCHINSON, M.A., Christ's College, and A. GRAY, M.A., Fellow of Jesus College. Cloth, 2s.

"Messrs Hutchinson and Gray have produced a careful and useful edition."—Saturday Review.

London: Cambridge Warehouse, 17 Paternoster Row.

THE HERACLEIDÆ OF EURIPIDES, with Introduction and Critical Notes by E. A. BECK, M.A., Fellow of Trinity Hall.

[In the Press.]

LUCIANI SOMNIUM CHARON PISCATOR ET DE LUCTU, with English Notes by W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge. New Edition, with Appendix. 3s. 6d.

II. LATIN.

M. T. CICERONIS DE AMICITIA. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L., Fellow of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. Price 3s.

"Mr Reid has decidedly attained his aim, namely, 'a thorough examination of the Latinity of the dialogue.' The revision of the text is most valuable, and comprehends sundry acute corrections. . . . This volume, like Mr Reid's other editions, is a solid gain to the scholarship of the country."—Athenæum.

"A more distinct gain to scholarship is Mr Reid's able and thorough edition of the De Amicitia of Cicero, a work of which, whether we regard the exhaustive introduction or the instructive and most suggestive commentary, it would be difficult to speak too highly. . . . When we come to the commentary, we are only amazed by its fulness in proportion to its bulk. Nothing is overlooked which can tend to enlarge the learner's general knowledge of Ciceronian Latin or to elucidate the text."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS CATO MAJOR DE SENECTUTE. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Price 3s. 6d.

"The notes are excellent and scholarlike, adapted for the upper forms of public schools, and likely to be useful even to more advanced students."—Guardian.

M. T. CICERONIS ORATIO PRO ARCHIA POETA. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Price 1s. 6d.

"It is an admirable specimen of careful editing. An Introduction tells us everything we could wish to know about Archias, about Cicero's connexion with him, about the merits of the trial, and the genuineness of the speech. The text is well and carefully printed. The notes are clear and scholar-like. . . . No boy can master this little volume without feeling that he has advanced a long step in scholarship."—The Academy.

M. T. CICERONIS PRO L. CORNELIO BALBO ORATIO. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge. Price 1s. 6d.

"We are bound to recognize the pains devoted in the annotation of these two orations to the minute and thorough study of their Latinity, both in the ordinary notes and in the textual appendices."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS PRO CN. PLANCIO ORATIO. Edited by H. A. HOLDEN, LL.D., Head Master of Ipswich School. Price 4s. 6d.

QUINTUS CURTIUS. A Portion of the History. (ALEXANDER IN INDIA.) By W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow and Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge, and T. E. RAVEN, B.A., Assistant Master in Sherborne School. Price 3s. 6d.

"Equally commendable as a genuine addition to the existing stock of school-books is Alexander in India, a compilation from the eighth and ninth books of Q. Curtius, edited for the Pitt Press by Messrs Heitland and Raven. . . . The work of Curtius has merits of its own, which, in former generations, made it a favourite with English scholars, and which still make it a popular text-book in Continental schools. . . . The reputation of Mr Heitland is a sufficient guarantee for the scholarship of the notes, which are ample without being excessive, and the book is well furnished with all that is needful in the nature of maps, indexes, and appendices."—Academy.

London: Cambridge Warehouse, 17 Paternoster Row.

P. OVIDII NASONIS FASTORUM LIBER VI. With a Plan of Rome and Notes by A. SIDGWICK, M.A. Tutor of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Price 1s. 6d.

"Mr Sidgwick's editing of the Sixth Book of Ovid's Fasti furnishes a careful and serviceable volume for average students. It eschews 'construes' which supersede the use of the dictionary, but gives full explanation of grammatical usages and historical and mythical allusions, besides illustrating peculiarities of style, true and false derivations, and the more remarkable variations of the text."—Saturday Review.

"It is eminently good and useful. . . . The Introduction is singularly clear on the astronomy of Ovid, which is properly shown to be ignorant and confused; there is an excellent little map of Rome, giving just the places mentioned in the text and no more; the notes are evidently written by a practical schoolmaster."—The Academy.

GAI IULI CAESARIS DE BELLO GALLICO COMMENT. I. II. With English Notes and Map by A. G. PESKETT, M.A., Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge, Editor of Caesar De Bello Gallico, VII. Price 2s. 6d.

GAI IULI CAESARIS DE BELLO GALLICO COMMENTARIUS SEPTIMUS. With two Plans and English Notes by A. G. PESKETT, M.A. Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge. Price 2s.

"In an unusually succinct introduction he gives all the preliminary and collateral information that is likely to be useful to a young student; and, wherever we have examined his notes, we have found them eminently practical and satisfying. . . . The book may well be recommended for careful study in school or college."—Saturday Review.

"The notes are scholarly, short, and a real help to the most elementary beginners in Latin prose."—The Examiner.

BOOKS IV. AND V. by the same Editor. Price 2s.

BOOKS III. AND VI. by the same Editor. [Preparing.]

BEDA'S ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY, BOOKS III., IV., the Text from the very ancient MS. in the Cambridge University Library, collated with six other MSS. Edited, with a life from the German of EBERT, and with Notes, &c. by J. E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Professor of Latin, and J. R. LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity. Revised edition. Price 7s. 6d.

"To young students of English History the illustrative notes will be of great service, while the study of the texts will be a good introduction to Mediaeval Latin."—The Nonconformist.

"In Bede's works Englishmen can go back to origines of their history, unequalled for form and matter by any modern European nation. Prof. Mayor has done good service in rendering a part of Bede's greatest work accessible to those who can read Latin with ease. He has adorned this edition of the third and fourth books of the "Ecclesiastical History" with that amazing erudition for which he is unrivalled among Englishmen and rarely equalled by Germans. And however interesting and valuable the text may be, we can certainly apply to his notes the expression, La sauce vaut mieux que le poisson. They are literally crammed with interesting information about early English life. For though ecclesiastical in name, Bede's history treats of all parts of the national life, since the Church had points of contact with all."—Examiner.

P. VERGILI MARONIS AENEIDOS LIBER VIII. Edited with Notes by A. SIDGWICK, M.A. Tutor of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Cloth. 1s. 6d.

London: Cambridge Warehouse, 17 Paternoster Row.

BOOKS V., VI., VII., X., XI., XII. by the same Editor.
1s. 6d. each.

"Mr Arthur Sidgwick's 'Vergil, Aenëid, Book XII.' is worthy of his reputation, and is distinguished by the same acuteness and accuracy of knowledge, appreciation of a boy's difficulties and ingenuity and resource in meeting them, which we have on other occasions had reason to praise in these pages."—The Academy.

"As masterly in its clearly divided preface and appendices as in the sound and independent character of its annotations. . . . There is a great deal more in the notes than mere compilation and suggestion. . . . No difficulty is left unnoticed or unhandled."—Saturday Review.

"This edition is admirably adapted for the use of junior students, who will find in it the result of much reading in a condensed form, and clearly expressed."—Cambridge Independent Press.

BOOKS VII. VIII. in one volume Price 3s.

BOOKS X., XI., XII. in one volume. Price 3s. 6d.

M. T. CICERONIS ORATIO PRO L. MURENA, with English Introduction and Notes. By W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow and Classical Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge. Second Edition, carefully revised. Small 8vo. Price 3s.

"Those students are to be deemed fortunate who have to read Cicero's lively and brilliant oration for L. Murena with Mr Heitland's handy edition, which may be pronounced 'four-square' in point of equipment, and which has, not without good reason, attained the honours of a second edition."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS IN Q. CAECILIUM DIVINATIO ET IN C. VERREM ACTIO PRIMA. With Introduction and Notes by W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., and HERBERT COWIE, M.A., Fellows of St John's College, Cambridge. Cloth, extra fcp. 8vo. Price 3s.

M. T. CICERONIS IN GAIUM VERREM ACTIO PRIMA. With Introduction and Notes. By H. COWIE, M.A., Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge. Price 1s. 6d.

"A careful and scholarlike production."—Times.

"In nice parallels of Lucan from Latin poets and from Shakspeare, Mr Haskins and Mr Heitland deserve praise."—Saturday Review.

With Three Maps, Introduction and Commentary, by C. COLBECK, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; Assistant Master at Harrow School. Price 2s.

HISTOIRE DU SIÈCLE DE LOUIS XIV PAR

VOLTAIRE. Chaps. I.—XIII. Edited with Notes Philological and Historical, Biographical and Geographical Indices, etc. by GUSTAVE MASSON, B.A. Univ. Gallic., Officier d'Académie, Assistant Master of Harrow School, and G. W. PROTHERO, M.A., Fellow and Tutor of King's College, Cambridge. 2s. 6d.

"Messrs Masson and Prothero have, to judge from the first part of their work, performed with much discretion and care the task of editing Voltaire's Siècle de Louis XIV for the 'Pitt Press Series.' Besides the usual kind of notes, the editors have in this case, influenced by Voltaire's 'summary way of treating much of the history,' given a good deal of historical information, in which they have, we think, done well. At the beginning of the book will be found excellent and succinct accounts of the constitution of the French army and Parliament at the period treated of."—Saturday Review.

Biographical Memoir, and Grammatical, Literary and Historical Notes. By C. COLBECK, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; Assistant Master at Harrow School. Price 2s.

"It may be national prejudice, but we consider this edition far superior to any of the series which hitherto have been edited exclusively by foreigners. Mr Colbeck seems better to understand the wants and difficulties of an English boy. The etymological notes especially are admirable. . . . The historical notes and introduction are a piece of thorough honest work."—Journal of Education.

"Prussia under Frederick the Great, and France under the Directory, bring us face to face respectively with periods of history which it is right should be known thoroughly, and which are well treated in the Pitt Press volumes. The latter in particular, an extract from the world-known work of Madame de Staël on the French Revolution, is beyond all praise for the excellence both of its style and of its matter."—Times.

DIX ANNEES D'ÉXIL. LIVRE II. CHAPITRES I—8.

Goethe's Knabenjahre. (1749—1759.) GOETHE'S BOYHOOD: being the First Three Books of his Autobiography. Arranged and Annotated by WILHELM WAGNER, Ph. D., late Professor at the Johanneum, Hamburg. Price 2s.

HAUFF. DAS WIRTHSHIAUS IM SPESSART. Edited by A. SCHLOTTMANN, Ph.D., Assistant Master at Uppingham School. Price 3s. 6d.

"It is admirably edited, and we note with pleasure that Dr Schlottmann in his explanation always brings out the kinship of the English and German languages by reference to earlier or modern English and German forms as the case may be. The notes are valuable, and tell the student exactly what he will want to know, a merit by no means common."—Examiner.

"As the work abounds in the idiomatic expressions and phrases that are characteristic of modern German, there are few books that can be read with greater advantage by the English student who desires to acquire a thorough knowledge of conversational German. The notes, without being cumbersome, leave no real difficulty unexplained."—School Guardian.

A BOOK OF BALLADS ON GERMAN HISTORY. Arranged and Annotated by the same Editor. Price 2s.

"It carries the reader rapidly through some of the most important incidents connected with the German race and name, from the invasion of Italy by the Visigoths under their King Alaric, down to the Franco-German War and the installation of the present Emperor. The notes supply very well the connecting links between the successive periods, and exhibit in its various phases of growth and progress, or the reverse, the vast unwieldy mass which constitutes modern Germany."—Times.

DER STAAT FRIEDRICH'S DES GROSSEN. By G. FREYTAG. With Notes. By the same Editor. Price 2s.

"Prussia under Frederick the Great, and France under the Directory, bring us face to face respectively with periods of history which it is right should be known thoroughly, and which are well treated in the Pitt Press volumes."—Times.

V. ENGLISH.

LOCKE ON EDUCATION. With Introduction and Notes

by the Rev. R. H. QUICK, M.A. Price 3s. 6d.

"Mr Quick has made the study of educational matters and the lives of educational reformers a speciality. He has given us an edition of Locke which leaves little to be desired. In addition to an introduction, biographical and critical, and numerous notes, there are two appendices containing Locke's scheme of working schools, and Locke's other writings on education. The passages in Locke bearing upon the physical training of children are annotated in harmony with modern science by Dr J. F. Payne. The book forms one of the Pitt Press Series, and its general get up is worthy of the University Press."—The Schoolmaster.

"The work before us leaves nothing to be desired. It is of convenient form and reasonable price, accurately printed, and accompanied by notes which are admirable. There is no teacher too young to find this book interesting; there is no teacher too old to find it profitable."—The School Bulletin, New York.

THE TWO NOBLE KINSMEN, edited with Introduction and Notes by the Rev. Professor SKEAT, M.A., formerly Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge. Price 3s. 6d.

"This edition of a play that is well worth study, for more reasons than one, by so careful a scholar as Mr Skeat, deserves a hearty welcome."—Athenæum.

"Mr Skeat is a conscientious editor, and has left no difficulty unexplained."—Times.

SIR THOMAS MORE'S UTOPIA. With Notes by the Rev. J. RAWSON LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity; Fellow of St Catharine's College, Cambridge. Price 3s. 6d.

"To enthusiasts in history matters, who are not content with mere facts, but like to pursue their investigations behind the scenes, as it were, Professor Rawson Lumby has in the work now before us produced a most acceptable contribution to the now constantly increasing store of illustrative reading."—The Cambridge Review.

"To Dr Lumby we must give praise unqualified and unstinted. He has done his work admirably. . . . Every student of history, every politician, every social reformer, every one interested in literary curiosities, every lover of English should buy and carefully read Dr Lumby's edition of the 'Utopia.' We are afraid to say more lest we should be thought extravagant, and our recommendation accordingly lose part of its force."—The Teacher.

"It was originally written in Latin and does not find a place on ordinary bookshelves. A very great boon has therefore been conferred on the general English reader by the managers of the Pitt Press Series, in the issue of a convenient little volume of More's Utopia not in the original Latin, but in the quaint English Translation thereof made by Raphael Robynson, which adds a linguistic interest to the intrinsic merit of the work. . . . All this has been edited in a most complete and scholarly fashion by Dr J. R. Lumby, the Norrisian Professor of Divinity, whose name alone is a sufficient warrant for its accuracy. It is a real addition to the modern stock of classical English literature."—Guardian.
